REDS BUILDING UP FOR NEW ASSAULT

TURNING POINT IN KOREAN WAR BELIEVED NEAR

Observers Say Americans Should Suffer No More Major Retreats

OVERALL PICTURE TAKING BETTER LOOK FOR DEFENSE

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, July 22. —(AP)— General MacArthur says that a new phase, perhaps a turning point has been reached in the Korean war.

This is supported by the opinion of some frontline observers who are familiar with the heartbreaking fight-and-fall-back war to date.

These observers say there should be no more major American retreats. The doughboys for the first time have the prospects of more troops on the line to protect their flanks and more firepower to turn back tank-led Communist columns.

General MacArthur said in a special communique Thursday that the North Korean invaders had lost the chance for victory they once held.

Communist spearheads have been cut into ribbons. An American colonel estimated that 3,000 North Koreans were killed in the battle for Taejon alone.

South Korea republic forces once badly demoralized, have stiffened and not only have held difficult lines for days, but also have made several counterattacks.

Allied fighters and bombers, flying more than 2,000 sorties, have inflicted heavy loss of life and war material on the enemy.

Communist forces have lost 78 planes, more than 200 tanks, hundreds of trucks and considerable railroad rolling stock.

U. S. B-29 superfortress bombers have reduced the shipping effec-

VOTERS TO CAST BALLOTS TUESDAY

81,847 In Fifth Congressional District Eligible To Vote

Voters of the Twin Cities and the fifth congressional district, in accord with all voters of the state, will go to the polls Tuesday and cast ballots in the July 25 Democratic primary election for U. S. senator and representative.

Figures as obtained from registrar of voters in the 14 parishes of the fifth district indicate a heavy vote with 81,847 persons eligible to participate in the election.

In addition to the heated races for senator and representative for the fifth district, local offices in several parishes including seats of two school board members in Ouachita parish will be determined in Tuesday's election.

Seeking the office of United States senator are the incumbent, Sen. Russell B. Long, son of the late Huey P. Long and nephew of Gov. Earl K. Long, Malcolm Lafargue of Shreveport, former United States district attorney for the western district and Newt V. Mills of Monroe, former fifth district congressman.

Candidates for U. S. representative in the fifth district are Rep. Otto Passman, the incumbent, Sha-

Fliers' Wives Get Eviction Notices

SPOKANE, July 22.—(AP)—Notices of eviction or rent increases have been handed to wives and families of at least six Spokane air force base fliers who were ordered to the Pacific, Mayor Arthur Meehan says.

The mayor said the complaints reached his office during the last few days and added:

"If they continue to come in at this rate I'll recommend that rent control be put back into effect."

Spokane rents were decontrolled a year ago.

Meehan didn't mention any names but said one expectant mother was given a 30-day eviction notice. The mayor said the woman called police when the landlord insisted on bringing prospective buyers to the house at all hours.

An undisclosed number of B-29 superforts from the Spokane base were ordered to advance Pacific fields in early July. They started leaving here July 4. A week later they participated in the first strategic mass bombing attack on a north Korean target.

Six crewmen have been listed officially as "missing in action."

GI MAKES NEW FRIEND IN KOREA

GEORGE OPPOSES HASTY TAX BILL

Says Congress Should Wait And Determine How Much Will Be Needed

WASHINGTON, July 22. —(AP)— Senator George (D.-Ga.) said today the cost of fighting communism in Korea and in any broader conflict will have to be met mainly through higher taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis.

At the same time, George, who is chairman of the tax-writing senate finance committee, told reporters:

1. He still feels it would be a mistake for congress to enact a tax increase bill right away. He said there is no point in trying to write a $10,000,000,000 bill now, "when it might turn out later that we need $5,000,000,000 or $20,000,000,000."

2. He thinks the Korean war will be confined to that area, provided the United States takes steps to become and remain "reasonably strong" from a military standpoint.

George said building up America's defense forces would have a "stabilizing influence" on the world.

"I am not in the class of those who regard World War III as inevitable," he declared. "I don't think it is coming. I don't think anybody, including Russia, is ready for a third world war."

George is not a member of the senate-house economic committee, the group which Senator O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) the chairman, said

ATTACKS ELDERLY JAILER, ESCAPES

Armed Posse Searches For Negro Escapee In St. Martin Parish

LAFAYETTE, La., July 22.—(AP)—A 21-year-old Negro prisoner bludgeoned a 77-year-old jailor at St. Martinsville this afternoon and escaped from jail.

The jailor, Paul Guilbeau, was taken to St. Martinville infirmary in critical condition, but hospital attendants said tonight he was resting well.

Deputy sheriffs listed the escaped prisoner as Henry — or Harry—Jones. He was described as very black and of stocky build.

Officers said the man was arrested Wednesday on a charge of cattle rustling and that at the time of his arrest he was on probation on a federal charge of forging a government check. Shortly after his arrest, deputies said, he broke away from officers, but was recaptured a half block away.

There were no details available immediately on today's break because the jailor was not in condition to talk and other officers were out on a widespread manhunt. All roads leading from Martinsville were blocked.

Armed posses, led by blood hounds from St. Landry and Iberia parishes, combed the area near the Bayou Teche Town for the fugitive.

St. Martin Sheriff E. L. Resweber ordered the dragnet as state troopers and police from five neighboring parishes sought the Negro in the sugar-cane country.

Unidentified Sub Reported Off Newfoundland's Coast

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 22.—(AP)—The captain of a foreign fishing trawler has reported sighting a submarine which appeared to be Russian off Newfoundland July 12.

His story was told today by the Sunday Herald, a weekly newspaper. The Canadian navy at Ottawa said its intelligence branch also received the report several days ago and that it is investigating.

The skipper, who left two days ago after taking on supplies, was reported to have told naval authorities the submarine surfaced in the early morning fog less than 100 yards from his trawler at a point off the Grand banks about 410 miles east of this city.

The submarine dived hastily after being on the surface only about 10 minutes. The captain observed no American or British markings on its hull.

The Herald said the captain received the "fright of his life." And commented, "in view of the serious situation in Korea, anything that Russia might have in mind for this side of the Atlantic would not be to the advantage of North America."

The nationality of the captain was not stated.

This was the first report of a Russian submarine off the Atlantic coast, though unidentified submarines were sighted off New Brunswick earlier this week and off Novia Scotia some seeks ago. However, la t March the U. S. navy reported radar and sonar contacts with objects believed to be "one or more foreign submarines" off the north California coast in the Pacific.

The Sunday Herald story said a number of British and American submarines were in the North Atlantic at the time the mystery craft was sighted. A Canadian navy spokesman at Ottawa said, however, that immediate checks with London and Washington showed no British or American submarines were in the area at the time.

Legally there is no bar to the movement of submarines anywhere in the seven seas, so long as they remain outside territorial waters. Movement without permission inside Canada's territorial waters—that is within the three-mile-limit—would be regarded as an unfriendly act, liable to be met with a military response.

REDS THREATEN NEW ATTACK ON CHINA OUTPOST

Communist Shelling Of Quemoy Island Reported From Taipei, Formosa

NATIONALISTS CONSIDER FORMOSA NONE TOO SAFE

By Spencer Moosa

TAIPEI, Formosa, Sunday, July 23.—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalists reported the Chinese Reds began shelling the Nationalist Island of Quemoy (Chinmen) Saturday night in evident preparation for an attack.

Quemoy is a 50-square-mile island 100 miles east of Formosa and just off the Chinese mainland. It blocks entry to the Communist Port of Amoy.

The Nationalist defense ministry, announcing the shelling, said more than 1,300 Communist small craft were massed around Amoy in seeming readiness to attack Quemoy.

Nationalist official quarters said early Sunday they had notified American authorities both in Washington and Taipei of the Quemoy situation.

They would not say whether they had requested lifting of President Truman's ban against Nationalist air and sea operations against the Red mainland.

Desisting from such attacks was requested by President Truman when he ordered the American navy last month to protect Formosa from a Red invasion.

One high Nationalist source said Red conquest of Quemoy could be a prelude ot an invasion of Formosa.

"Or," he added, "they may intend to bypass Quemoy altogether

WRIGHT TO SEE 'RIGHTS' GROUP

Civil Rights Congress Delegation Will Ask Pardon For Convicted Rapist

LAUREL, Miss., July 22.—(AP)—Gov. Fielding Wright today consented to a hearing Monday in Willie McGee's fight for his life.

The 37-year-old Negro, thrice convicted of raping a young Laurel white housewife, lost a petition for a new trial earlier today when his attorney failed to appear in circuit court here. McGee is scheduled to die in the electric chair next Thursday.

E. T. Powell, chairman of the speakers when D'Arbonne soil board of directors of the D'Ar-

The next ste pin McGee's behalf appeared to be in an open meeting, limited to 10 persons and arranged by the civil rights congress, at the office of Governor Wright in Jackson at 11 a.m. (C. S. T.) Monday.

The governor told Mrs. Dorothy Cole of Chicago, a member of the congress which has been supporting McGee's defense, that he would agree to talk with 10 members of the congress. Aubrey Grossman of New York City, organizational secretary of the congress, then telephoned Wright to ask if 25 persons could be present.

Grossman disclaimed any knowledge of responsibility for reports that congress members from 10 states were preparing to be in Jackson Tuesday to ask executive clemency for McGee.

Circuit Judge Burkett Collins dismissed McGee's petition for a new trial for "lack of prosecution." Judge Collins said McGee's attorney, John Poole of Jackson, in a telephone call from Jackson, "declined to further prosecute the action."

Two Draft Delinquents Are Fighting In Korea

SHREVEPORT, La., July 22. —(AP)—The case of the where bouts of two delinquent draft registrants has been solved here.

They're fighting in Korea.

J. W. Mills, chief clerk of the Caddo parish selective service board, said families of the two men called and told him, following publication of a delinquent notice, that the two men were now fighting the Communists with U. S. forces in Korea.

The men are William R. Zimmerman, lieutenant with the U. S. Navy, and Pfc. Danny E. Best, who is with the army ground forces.

U.S. Population Expected To Pass 150 Million Mark

Estimate Shows 19 Million Increase Over 1940 Census Account; Figures Will Determine States' House Representation

WASHINGTON, July 22. —(AP)— The census bureau today estimated the 1950 population of the United States at 150,520,000 men, women and children.

This is almost 19,000,000 higher than the 1940 total of 131,699,275.

At the same time, the bureau announced preliminary totals for all of the states and the district of Columbia.

The figures, when carefully checked and revised where necessary, will be used by congress to help determine how many representatives each state will be entitled to in the house.

That information was not immediately available, and census officials said it probably would not be for some time.

For one thing, they said, the total figure includes an estimated 700,000 persons—mostly transients and merchant marine crews—whose home states are not yet definitely known.

But officials called attention to estimates made in 1948 by the house postoffice committee which shows California gaining 8 seats and New York and Pennsylvania losing 3 seats and 2 seats respectively. They said these figures likely will not be off by more than one.

CHAMPION BOAT RACERS COMING

Two National Winners Will Be Here For Annual Water Carnival

Two national winners of the speed boat races held last fall will be in Monroe for the fourth annual water carnival to be held here July 29 and 30, according to G. E. Moore, general chairman.

B. M. Creech, Charlotte, North Carolina, who won the A, B, and C Hydroplane races will be the only contestant entered in the races who will have painted on the side of his boat U. S. A. This distinction is given only to those who are national champions. Other boats will bear the names of their states.

Henry Tauber, San Antonio, Tex., winner of the C service Hydro race, will be present also. He is entering a number of boats, but what inscription they will bear is not known at present.

The carnival is under the sponsorship of the North Monroe Lions Club with the cooperation of local merchants.

The annual event, which is recognized by citizens of Monroe and West Monroe as a high lighting event of the year, first made its appearance on June 7 and 8 of 1947 under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A parade of boats down the Ouachita river Saturday afternoon, with the city officials of Monroe and West Monroe leading on a house boat, will initiate the beginning of the carnival. Miss Marilyn Shaw, who is to reign as queen of carnival, will be crowned by Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr., of West Monroe, at the end of the parade.

A dance will be held on the Virginia roof Saturday night with Collie Fontana and his orchestra furnishing the music. Tickets will be put on sale the first of this week.

This years speed boat races are to excel themselves in that they will afford the competitors a chance to earn points toward entering the national championship races in Detroit, Mich., this fall, stated Moore.

The races will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Hills Delayed By Chicago TV Show

The arrival here yesterday of Miss Ann Hills, La. Tech student recently selected queen of the Lions International, was delayed due to radio and television committments at Chicago.

Activities in her honor were slated for yesterday afternoon at the Rendezvous. After the Monroe reception, the Tech coed was to be flown to Ruston and escorted to the Tech campus where she was to appear in Howard auditorium.

Included in the festivities was the presentation of the keys to Ruston and the appearance of Miss Hills at a Ruston theater at 8:30 p.m. yesterday.

The entire celebration will be conducted next week.

PLANES HAMMER WESTERN KOREA

Navy Carrier-Based Crafts Knock Out Vital Railroad, Oil Installations

ABOARD A U. S. SEVENTH FLEET AIRCRAFT CARRIER OFF Korea, July 22 —(AP)— Navy carrier planes turned their hammering attention today to the west coast of Korea and knocked out vital railroad bridges and oil installations.

After riding out a typhoon for two days, the navy launched its jets, attack bombers and fighters before dawn but found the weather too thick for the proposed direct support of American ground forces.

Therefore, the planes roared up to the 38th parallel and destroyed one railway bridge and damaged another in the Kaesong-Sariwon area.

(Kaesong is just inside the South Korea and was one of the first cities to fall to the Red invaders June 25. Sariwon is 60 miles northwest of Kaesong and well inside North Korea.)

The navy planes also eliminated five locomotives and set a series of fires and explosions in a train of 24 cars carrying oil drums.

MACKENZIE KING DIES IN CANADA

Former Canadian Prime Minister Succumbs To Pneumonia At 75

OTTAWA, July 22. —(AP)— Former Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada died tonight. He was 75.

King died at his home, Kingsmere, about 20 miles from Ottawa. His physician, Dr. Campbell Laidlaw, said that he died of "hypostatic pneumonia, preceded by an attack of plumonary edema" (accumulation of body fluids).

He was a bachelor. Several neices and nephews were at his bedside when death came.

When King stepped down from office on Nov. 15, 1948, he had ended 21 years, five months and five days of service as prime minister of the dominion.

His tenure of 7,829 days in office was the longest in British commonwealth history, surpassing that of Sir Robert Walpole, who served as Britain's prime minister for 619 days early in the 18th century.

After retirement, King sat merely as the member of parliament from the Ontario Riding (district) of Glencarry, but the decades of his experience were at the beck of his successor, Louis S. St. Laurent.

His retirement had been foretold, when he asked his Liberal party in the summer of 1948 to choose a new leader. Shortly thereafter the Liberals named St. Laurent.

SHIVERS AHEAD FOR GOVERNOR

DALLAS, July 22. —(AP)— Handsome Gov. Allan Shivers grabbed a wide lead tonight in the first bureau of Democratic primary returns from the Texas election bureau.

The tabulation in the race for governor—with only 26 counties out of 254 represented—gave Shivers 25,432 votes, to 6,700 for Caso March, former Baylor University lawyer.

The five other gubernatorial candidates trailed far behind.

Balloting was unexpectedly heavy over the state. Voters chose

Twenty Clues Turned Up On Cause Of Human Cancer

By Alton Blakeslee

PARIS, July 22.—(AP)—A look at the world gives about 20 clues to the causes of many types of human cancers, and how to avoid them.

These apparent causes lie in how you live, and where.

Scientists from nearly 50 nations compared notes this past week at the Fifth International Cancer Research Congress.

Three U. S. reports said cigarette smoking is apparently partly responsible for the rise in cancer of the lung.

Their evidence is "too conclusive to be ignored," said Dr. Charles Cameron, medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society, in summing up the congress. He went on:

Cancer of the hard palate often occurs among East Indians who smoke by putting the burning end of the sutta leaf in their mouths.

Chewing betel nuts causes mouth cancer in Malaya, Indonesia and some parts of the Philippines.

Too little iodine in water and food causes goiter and probably many thyroid cancers. This holds for the U. S. Great Lakes region, Switzerland and other areas.

Breast cancer seems lower in women in Japan and other countries whose custom is to nurse their babies. And women who have never borne children are far less likely to get cancer of the cervix.

Cancer of the genitals is not common among Jewish men and women. This probably is due to early circumcision of the males.

Cowboys in North and South America, Cossacks, Arabs and other horsemen rarely get cancer of the prostate gland. This might be due to some hormone influence, for "riding frequently reduces the size and endocrine (hormone) functions of the testes."

There are certain risks sometimes to industrial workers.

Oils that boil above 700 degrees Fahrenheit can cause skin cancers and American industry now "is taking steps to protect its workers," Dr. Cameron said. Skin cancers are equally common among arsenic workers in Argentina and German Silesia.

Bladder cancer epidemics have broken out among analine dye workers in Germany, Britain and the United States in the past. So did bone cancer among workers

FIGHTING LULLS

Americans Determined To Defeat Next Communist Push Southward

U. S. PLANES CONTINUE TO STRAFE RED UNITS

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Sunday, July 23. — (AP) — American and North Korean patrols sparred today on the front south and east of fallen Taejon. Red armor and infantry were building up for a new assault on new U. S. positions, reinforced by troops of the first cavalry (mechanized infantry) division.

American artillery and mortars pounded moderately throughout the night, Associated Press Correspondent William R. Moore reported from a command post, but there was no major ground contact.

Communist patrols probed at new defense lines of the first cavalry, sent to bolster the gallant 24th division. The first cavalry also sent out patrols to scout Red positions and concentrations.

Skies were clearing. It was believed American aircraft would have opportunities to return to full-scale attack after being hampered by bad weather.

The American artillery concentrated on roads and valleys where the North Koreans were believed assembling for a fresh thrust. One of the aims was to keep the Reds from using the Taejon-Yongdong road and the double-Travck railroad that parallels it southeastward out of Taejon.

It was astride this 27-mile road that the new American defense line was being consolidated, said General MacArthur's communique early Sunday morning.

Other sectors to the east were relatively quiet.

Despite murky weather, American tactical air forces strafed the Reds in Taejon Saturday.

A dispatch from an American command post on the western sector, timed late Saturday, said new American troops were in the line and were determined to give the Reds their first licking on that front near Taejon.

MacArthur's communique said "constant contact" was being maintained with the North Korean

SWAMPERS YOUTH DROWNS IN BAYOU

Thomas Frank Jinks Fails To Swim Ashore From Dislodged Fishing Boat

WINNSBORO, La., July 22.—(Special)—A Swampers, La. youth drowned this afternoon in Bayou Mason river 15 miles northeast of here.

The victim was identified as Thomas Frank Jinks, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady D. Jinks.

Sheriff Hiram Waller said young Jinks and an unidentified companion were fishing from a boat which was partially in the water and partially on the bank. Jinks' companion, the sheriff said, jumped from the boat, accidentally dislodging it from the bank and pushing it out into the river.

The youth was drowned while attempting to swim to shore, Waller explained.

Acting Coroner L. F. Robinson termed the death accidental.

The body was recovered six feet from the bank before Monroe firemen, including Capt. C. W. Fisher, J. L. Hand and B. S. Hawthorn, reached the scene.

Besides his parents, the youth is survived by three brothers, Donnie Ray, Dexter Ross, and Grady Dan, Jr., and a sister, Vici Ann. Funeral arrangements were incomplete late Saturday night.

Bolivian Revolution Stopped; Two Killed

LA PA, Bolivia, July 22.—(AP)—Two persons were reported killed and at least three injured today in an unsuccessful attempt at revolution.

Revolutionists attacked several public buildings and tried to surround the Sucre Palace Hotel where President Mamerto Urriolagoitia usually lives, a government spokesman said.

The attacks were beaten off by police and troops, and the revolutionists fled.

The revolt began at 3:30 a. m. (2:30 a. m. EST) when attacks were made on the Defense Ministry building, police headquarters and barracks of the Carabineros (national police).

First, we would like to thank you for your patronage. Our success is completely due to you . . our customers.

Second, we want to tell you that at all times we strive to keep our prices at a fair level. The merchandise that is now in our store will not be marked up; nor will the new nationally advertised merchandise that is arriving, unless our manufacturers make it necessary for us to do so. If it does become necessary to raise prices it will be on the same legitimate level that we have always operated on. We adapted this policy years ago in fairness to our customers.

In closing, let us thank you again and remember you are always welcome in our store.

'America Don't Give Damn,' Everybody Having To Suffer

Dr. E. K. Means Delivers Startling Address To Rotary Club In Monroe

Dr. E. K. Means, prominent Methodist pastor for many years in Monroe and other cities of the south, who has made his home in Monroe since his retirement several years ago, delivered a burning and unusual message to Rotarians at their luncheon in Hotel Virginia Thursday noon. It was of so much interest that it is given to the public as follows:

"Were one to be asked the chief characteristic of the people of the United States today, given in a single sentence, I would say, 'We don't give a damn.' This situation on the part of the public has brought about a condition in this republic that is unparalleled.

"We boast we are free but we are in bondage to nine million voters who are either ignorant, illiterate or corrupt. Speaking generally, there are 15 million registered voters. They could be represented on the five fingers of the hand. Three million of these voters can neither read nor write; three million read a little but are unable to think; three million are honest Republican voters and three million are honest Democratic voters; and the other three million who hold the balance of power, are corrupt and vicious, voting often in gangs. These last named, appeal to illiterate voters by appealing to passions of the people, misleading and dragging us as a nation to be sold down the river. While the majority rule, we are dragged down by the ignorant illiterate and corrupt.

"A century ago, Gladstone foresaw what has come to pass here. He predicted that in time we and our institutions would go over Niagara Falls into a mighty abyss.

"A chief cause of indifference of the public is due to the type of officials we have in this country. The American people are intelligent only in spots. If we have need for medical aid or for any other professional service we go to those that we regard as leaders in their line. But when electing an official we do nothing of the kind. When electing an official we should select one mentally and morally capable of ruling, be it a city state or nation with all their respective legal, commercial, educational and religious interests. But do we do so? We find elected to office a man with a vast assortment of disability, partly inherited, and partly acquired, with no fitness whatever for the task before him.

"Centuries ago an aged prophit stood in the palace of a king, where he shook his finger in disgust and uttered this sentence: 'That man is no more fit to rule than a two-year old infant playing in a nursery.' And that description is a warning to us of today.

"Our indifference has produced an utter lack of moral and educational influences in our nation. Naturally I believe that the church is a great educational institution in manners and morals, yet I know that 18 million young people have never been inside a church from the day they were born and will never enter one. In many public schools teachers are forbidden to give instruction in morals and thus we have millions who are trained in mind but illiterate in conscience. They are brilliant in reason, yet moral idiots, and we, of necessity are forced to see that many reform schools are erected for both races. We can be called efficient men and women, prosperous and successful, permitting a generation of youth to ride in resplendent brilliancy like Cleopatra, spreading scarlet tales and waving banners of purple and gold devoid of all moral impulse whatever.

"Were I to leave Monroe tomorrow and, on returning, should be told that the entire population of more than 40,000 people, men, women and children, had been murdered, the whole nation would be alerted in protest. But the FBI reports that there were 52,000 murders in the United States last year. That means a number greater than the population of Monroe and also indicates that we are adding over 50,000 murderers to our census each and every year. London with ten million people had seven murders last year and New York City with eight million people had 217 murders in the year.

"Long ago a great teacher stood on a mountain top and regarded a city called the wonder of the world. The temple on Mt. Zion was the beauty of all the earth and its incense was perfumed prayer sent up to God. That great teacher's voice has come down the corridor of the centuries, "Oh, Jerusalem, now is thy land become desolate.' He looked upon the city, and aware of its moral turpitude wept over it. We don't today weep over our cities, our states, our nation, but Jesus wept. We don't weep for we don't give a damn.

"Another tragedy: We have nine million voters holding the balance of power in this nation who are financial idiots; three million intelligent and corrupt voters have wielded power against all other voters by telling that this is the richest nation under the sun and that no other land can equal it in its distribution of aid to the poor. This slogan is known as federal aid and so this nation has become distinguished for its outlay of cash. It talks in billions of dollars and seems unable to think of sums of less than a billion. A billion is an enermous sum beyond human comprehension. It is an abstraction that can only be imagined. And yet this nation today owes 260 billion dollars. Federal aid has no money to expend except what it takes from the pockets of the taxpayers. When the government spends more than it takes in, its next move is to borrow and it can borrow only by issuing and selling interest-bearing bonds. If it ever pays the principal and interest it must raise taxes for there is no other way for payment of its debts. A U. S. bond is only authorization of future tax receipts and so the snake has its tail in its mouth and is going round and round and is making the taxpayer go round and round and this boa constrictor will ultimately squeeze out the life of the taxpayer and all taxable institutions.

"We are 260 billions in debt today and on the verge of war that may double or treble this indebtedness. While I am no financier I do not believe there is enough money in the universe of God to pay off this debt. We all know of our perilous situation, but we don't give a damn."

Rabbit Raisers To Meet Thursday

Mrs. Clovis Woolard, of Bastrop, is much interested in the progress of the Morehouse Rabbit Breeders Ass'n of which she is secretary. She states that the Birdeye Frozen Food Co. will take all the meat of this kind offered, but that there must be assurance of a large supply.

Unless there is a steady and constant supply, the company can not arrange to take the output. Now she says there must be many rabbit producers in and around Bastrop to fill the bill.

A processing plant will be set up in Bastrop as soon as it is known that there will be a steady supply being received.

There will be a meeting in the courthouse at Bastrop Thursday night July 27 to further take up the matter. All interested are urged to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Woolard's phone is 1505 - J Bastrop, and she seeks to have those interested call her up.

Sisco Dancers To Be Featured Here

Students of the Sisco School of Dancing, who appeared last night at Barksdale Field in Shreveport, will be among the featured acts on the floor show tonight at the Progressive Men's Club at Selman Field.

Under the direction of James Sisco, young entertainer well known in the Twin Cities, the new school, at Selman Field, supplied several acts for the camp production, winning praise and recognition from the officials connected with the show and from the audience.

Tonight's show at the clubhouse is scheduled for 10:30 p.m.

Ruston Girl Queen Of Lions International

'Anne Hills Selected For International Title After Being Chosen 'Miss Lion, U. S. A.' In Chicago; Outranks Foreign Beauties

CHICAGO, July 18.—(AP)—Miss Anne Hills, 21, of Ruston, La., was named Queen of Lions International today at the 32nd annual convention of the International Association of Lions clubs.

Venezuela and Peru in the finals, was named "Miss Lion, U. S. A." in a contest Sunday, defeating representatives of various states.

She is a college senior and has an identical twin, Jane, who didn't compete.

The brown-eyed, brown - haired queen was given her mantle officially at a coronation ceremony Tuesday night. The Ruston club which sponsored her will be granted $500 toward defraying expenses of her trip to the convention.

Miss Hills was judged to have, in addition to graciousness and charm, "personality and poise which best exemplifies the wholesome attributes and qualifications for which Lionism is universally known and respected."

Miss Anne Hills, who yesterday was chosen "Queen of Lions International," was selected to represent Louisiana at a recent meeting of Lions' district governors. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hills of Ruston. Her father is a member of the Ruston Lions club.

Miss Hills has a twin sister, Jane, who did not compete in the contest. The new "international queen" is a music major at Louisiana Tech at Ruston and is a member of the Phi Mu sorority there.

Miss Hills' wardrobe was furnished by Silverstein's of Monroe. Chicago by Walter Johnson, of Ruston, district governor of Lions District 8-A, and A. B. Post, Jr., secretary of the Lions club of Ruston.

Some Take Joy In Our Reserves

Two currents abroad in the world must be observed rather sadly by Americans. One flows directly from our military reserves in Korea, the other from the wider struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Newsmen in Europe report that a good many Europeans have been gaining smug pleasure from the early defeat of our troops in the far east.

Possibly it's natural to enjoy seeing trouble descend on the big fellow who has been telling everybody else pretty much what to do. Nobody is ever too fond of the man who gives the orders or makes the chief "suggestions."

Yet Americans must hope this sentiment is distinctly a minority one. They would hate to believe that petty resentments would find large expression among free men in times so critical for freedom.

Any sensible person here, in Europe or in Asia, if he has the facts, knows U. S. forces have been battling against big handicaps in Korea. Time will be needed to make our strength count. The man who cannot put that perspective on America's performance is poorly qualified to judge events.

More unfortunate than this reaction, however, is the notion that has grown up in certain European and Asiatic countries that the Cold War is strictly a U. S.-Russian power fight. According to this view, the wise course is to steer clear of this struggle between two stubborn giants—if possible.

Nothing could be more unfair or short-sighted. One would think the U. S. had asked to be plunged into the Cold War. But it's evident to anyone with an appetite for realities that our role as adversary to Russia was thrust upon us, that we accepted it grudgingly because every other nation defaulted.

It is wrong to imply, as these would-be neutrals do, that the United States is blind to reasonable prospects of peace and is obstinately committed to settling accounts with Russia at whatever cost.

In truth, this country is fighting the Cold War—as it is fighting in Korea—for every free man who walks the earth. In every real sense it is the champion of liberty in its gravest hour.

Up to now foreign peoples could have had—and did have—sincere doubts what America would do when the showdown stage came. And this despite the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic pact, foreign arms aid and "Point Four" economic help.

But our action in Korea, however short of its goals thus far, is a conclusive answer to all doubters. We are pouring our substance and the lifeblood of our soldiers into a battle 7,000 miles from home. To be sure, we need to do a great deal more, but our goals are right.

If he does not make it his fight, the Russians may some day be around knocking at his door. And then that smile will disappear.

In such a crisis for liberty, it ill behooves a free man anywhere to smile smugly at our reverses, or to declare that this is not his fight.

Get Fighting Mad—For Peace

A west coast newspaper received a reader protest when it front-paged a big picture of a GI atrocity victim lying face down, his hands tied behind his back. The objector claimed the photograph would "stir up" people too much.

This seems to imply that the only individuals who should get stirred up about a war are the soldiers fighting it.

War is ugly, brutal, fearful. It is made up of such miserable experiences as fending off swarms of mosquitoes by night and enemy bullets by day. It is sleeping upright in a water-filled foxhole and awaking to find a tank gun staring at you. It is life at its most uncomfortable, lived in the constant, unnerving knowledge that you may be struck down at any instant.

Far from the sight and sound and smell of this, no one can really imagine how it is. But we should all try; we should not fear to be "stirred up." If we do not try, how can we ever understand why it is so vital that wars be prevented?

Responsibility Of All

The trend of the fighting in Korea has brought an abrupt change in the status of civilian defense preparations. An attack on the United States has become a possibility much less remote than it was a few weeks ago. Until now governors and mayors have been complaining about lack of leadership from Washington, a complaint well justified, but not in itself the full answer.

Now, with danger more clearly discernible and with growing awareness of the probable nature of the next war, officials at all levels are beginning to perceive that civilian defense will be to a large extent the problem of cities and states.

The national government, which will be responsible for intercepting, repulsing and pursuing invaders by air or sea, ought to provide a general blueprint and leadership, but it cannot care for civilian victims of attack, repair disrupted local communications, evacuate bombed populations, rebuild shattered factories.

It can help in these difficulties, but only to the extent that its energies are not absorbed in fighting.

Adequate civilian defense will need not only money, but men and women, many more than were recruited during the last war, because duties will be greater. The organization must be tight, trained and competent. To be effective it must be led at the top level by men and women who live in the parish, city or block for which they are responsible.

The end of the summer will bring the end of a lot of blood relations—mosquitoes.

In New York

WALTER WINCHELL

These Charming People

Henry (Mr. Roberts) Fonda was telling a reporter how glad he was that he moved from his rural home in Movietown to N. Y.

"Why," he why'd, "we lived ten miles from the nearest neighbor. It was quiet and my kids were awful lonely. But New York's different! It is a city with lots of people. It even smells noisy, I'd never move back to the coast."

"Where do you live in New York?" he was asked.

"Oh," said Henry, "we have a lovely place in Connecticut!"

One of Ted Healy's stooges (Mousie Garner) is amused at the feuds among comics over pilfering of gags, etc. He recalled when Milton Berle and Joe Penner clashed about who first used the comedy hat with the brim turned up against the crown.

"You're both all wet," squelched Ted. "Napoleon started that!"

Nearly all of these stories are familiar to show folks. They either read them here in the last 25 years or in the various digests, which know a good story when they see one, too. . . . Peter Lind Hayes' pet stars the late Eddy Foy who was breaking in a new ingenue. . . . When the last curtain fell after several bows she apologized to Mr. Foy: "Oh, I'm so sorry. I didn't mean to keep taking Center that way. I know the center of the stage is reserved for the star."

"Don't let it worry you, my dear girl," said Foy, putting on his best clown-ham manners, "I always take the Center with me!"

Helen Hayes discusses her husband, Charles MacArthur, with great affection when interviewed . . . She once revealed the sequel to his renowned: "I wish these were emeralds!" which he cooed when they first met, as he offered a bag of peanuts. . . . During the last war he picked up some emeralds in the China-Burma-India sector and had them made into a clip for her. . . . If one of his pals saw Helen wearing them, he'd say: "I wish they were peanuts."

MacArthur always sends her something on opening nights. When she opened in "Candle in the Wind," an anti-Nazi play, he wired: "I hate you, I hate you, I hate you! (signed) A. Hitler."

Once, in Hollywood, the late critic Alexander Wollcott was having a small, select dinner. . . . MacArthur, one of his intimates, dropped in and was informed he was not invited and to please leave. . . . Alec should have known better, says Helen. . . . The dinner was being held in a hotel, so Charlie got into a waiter's uniform and when Alec asked for some water MacArthur poured a pitcher of it over his head, saying: "Is this what you wanted, sir?"

Critic George Jean Nathan puts on a good show. When a woman sued his friend, Eugene O'Neill (for alleged infringement), her lawyer tried to rattle George out of the witness chair.

"How many first-rate critics are there?" he asked.

"About 20," said George.

"Indeed?" was the caustic comment. "I always thought there was only one!"

"A lot of people seem to think so," Nathan intoned stiffly, as he brushed his sleeve in The Elegant Manner. 4

"This business of criticism,' says an editorial, "is unfairly one-sided, due largely to the prideful, martyr-complexes of authors, actors and producers. Sometime early this century the practice of talking back to critics went out of fashion. The stage folk thought it the better part of dignity to eat their own smoke. They agreed to suffer in silence, for, after all, what does a critic know about art? And, after all, what does he know?

What he likes.

Noel Coward visited a provincial British town where a revival of "Bitter Sweet" was being played. Annoyed that no seat had been left for him by the management, he crisply informed the young woman in the box office: "I'm Noel Coward; I wrote the book, lyrics and score of this show."

"Really?" was the indifferent snapper. "Quite the little Ivor Novello, aren't you?"

"Who was that lady I saw you with last night?" is probably the best known old joke in show business. . . . Only the other day we learned that it accidentally originated in an old minstrel show. . . . When Mike Todd considered doing a play about Stephen Foster, he encountered its origin in his minstrel research. . . . "Christie's Minstrels" was an annual event on the one-night circuits. Christie put his own name on Foster's tunes, which he bought for $50. . . . He was quite a ladies' man, too.

Christie was dating the wife of an End Man in the show. . . .

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, who walked with Royalty, had the retort wonderful when a restaurant flunky told her dogs were not welcome.

"My dog," regally replied La Campbell, "dines at Buckingham Palace! Can you say the same for the rest of your patrons?"

During the Afterpiece (which closed the performance) the husband finally hinted he was hep to the clandestine romance. He called across stage: "Who was that lady I saw you with last night?"

"That was no lady," nastied Christie, "that was your wife!"

Leonora Corbett, the actress, sent this apology to a gentleman friend: "Dear Gerald: Do you remember the day we met outside my door? I had not seen you for quite a while. You came toward me with outstretched hands and beaming smile. I was in a dreadful hurry. 'Oh, Gerald,' I said, 'I wish you were a taxi!' You laughed and said how funny I was, but your arms dropped rather quickly. Months have passed since then. Gerald, will you forgive that naughty jest of mine if I tell you this morning as I left m yhouse an empty cab slowly passed me by, and half aloud I whispered: 'Oh, taxi, how I wish you were Gerald!' "

Columnist-historian A. Schlesinger, Jr., noted: "Louis Johnson's economy drive played a crucial role in bringing about American defenselessness. But were strong voices (except those of the Alsops) raised against Johnson's policy at the time?"

That'll be news to the editors of Collier's. Louis Johnson tried to get them to unprint "Blueprint for Disaster" by the anemic-voiced W. Winchell.

Gone to Lunch. Back Mid-Sept.

OUR CHILDREN

EACH HIS OWN

"Now Kathryn, behave yourself. I bought just the same hat for you as I bought for your sister. She loves it and thanks me but you are ungrateful for anything I do for you. Crying when you've just been given a beautiful new hat! Shame on you."

"I don't want Maybelle's hat. I can't wear that hat. Makes me look like a fool. And I'm not going to wear it, what's more. Why can't I buy my own hat and get what I want?"

Well, why not? After all it is Kathryn who wears the hat. There is no reason why sisters should wear the same kind of hats, or coats. They are not likely to have the same tastes, nor are they likely to be the same in points of physical beauty. Their eyes may be different in color, their heads shaped differently, their hair very different in color, texture and line. They should wear what suits their style best without regard to the other's preference.

Mothers want their daughters to look right and often it is their own standard of looks that they follow instead of what the girls would like. Children must be and in the beginning they should taught how to buy their clothes go along with their mother who should decide on the quality and the price and leave the color and the line and the style to the preference of the child who will wear the clothes. If the child insists upon a color or a style that the mother believes unsuitable she should be allowed to take it and to wear it even after she has learned, to her chagrin, that she took the wrong thing. Experience is the only teacher that is effective in these situations.

Twins present the same difficulty. In her anxiety to be just to both, to treat them alike, their mother is likely to make the mistake of thinking they are alike and have the same needs, tastes, likes and dislikes. This is not allways true. Mothers should listen to what their children tell them about their preferences and grant them when possible. Don't stint one child who might develop a gift if enabled to do so because another who has no such gift can not have the same lessons. Don't make one child eat the food another must have for some special physical requirement. In short, don't try to fit all the children into the same pattern but give each his own in whatever situation faces them.

Does your little child want to touch everything he sees? This is a stage most children go through when they learn about their surroundings. Dr. Patri tells how to deal with this problem in his leaflet P-6, "Touching Things." To obtain a copy, send five cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to him, c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—How many flags have flown over Texas?

A—Six flags have flown over the state—Spanish, French, Mexican, Republic of Texas, United States and the Confederacy.

Q—What is the story of the railroad headlight?

A—The first crude step was a small flatcar attached to the front of the locomotive, the floor of which was covered with sand on which was kept a bonfire of pine knots. Then followed candles fitted with reflectors, whale-oil lamps, kerosene lamps, gas lights and finally electricity.

Q—What are the world's ten largest islands?

A—First is Greenland (since Australia is a continent); second is New Guinea and third is Borneo. Then come Madagascar, Baffin, Sumatra, Honshu, Great Britain, (main island only), Victoria and Ellesmere.

Q—What is outstanding about Trail Ridge Road in Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado?

A—Its four-mile section over 12,000 feet in altitude is probably the longest stretch of road ever built at such a height.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

HOW DID IT HAPPEN?

More and more, the people are asking: How could it have happened? No matter what the outcome of the Korean affair, it is now obvious beyond possible doubt that we were caught unaware. Some of us may boast that we have been giving warning for years and years, but that does not explain why no heed was taken of obvious facts and equally obvious warnings. The most discouraging fact in the Korean situation is that some of us have been warning of this danger since 1945 but few were willing to listen.

For instance, on November 24, 1947, 12 former ambassadors of the United States jointly telegraphed to the chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the United States senate. In 1947, as now, that office was held by Tom Connally of Texas. The message from the former ambassadors read:

"We the undersigned former ambassadors of the United States believing that the vital interests of our country would be gravely menaced if China should fall under the domination of the Soviet Union urge you most strongly to give essential military equipment and economic and financial aid to the Chinese government.

F. Lammot Belin
William C. Bullitt
William M. Collier
Josephus Daniels
Wesley Frost
James W. Gerard
Boaz Long
Lithgow Osborne
William Phillips
Robert P. Skinner
William H. Standley
Alexander W. Weddell."

These are not ignorant persons. In 1947, few men in the state department had had the experience of William C. Bullitt, Josephus Daniels, James W. Gerard or Admiral William H. Standley. Bullitt and Standley had served in Russia. Gerard had been offered the Russian post by President Roosevelt, to whom Gerard wrote:

"As a hard-boiled realist I advocated the recognition of the Soviets but as publicly for the last few years I have been calling them thieves and murderers I do not think that I can do you any good in that country."

Yet, not the slightest attention was paid to these experienced men. In fact, in 1947, there was hardly a man of Far Eastern experience in the state department. The corps of experts, trained over many years, were out of the department or widely scattered. For instance, the leading American authority on Japan and Korea, Eugene Dooman, was let out of the department. Our greatest authority on the entire Far East, Dr. Stanley Hornbeck, had been excluded from the Far Eastern situation. The list is long of men, trained at great expense to serve in the Far East, who found themselves in such places as Albania and Australia.

Instead, such men as Dean Acheson, Philip Jessup, Alger Hiss were making policy, largely under the inspiration of appeasing Soviet Russia and therefore appeasing the Chinese Communists. Certainly, Mr. Truman could not have made our China policy or our Japanese or Korean policies, as he knows nothing about those countries. Whoever advised him betrayed him and betrayed America, and that fact blew up in their faces when Soviet Russia sent a Korean Communist army into south Korea.

It would seem that while our boys are dying in Korea, we have a right to ask questions about how the Korean episode came about. For that episode was made in the United States.

Look at the map! Note how Korea lies in relationship to Manchuria. Note how to the north are the maritime provinces of Siberia. (Primorsk.) If Manchuria were in Chinese hands, with a Chinese Nationalist army amply provisioned, guarding the boundaries, do you suppose that Soviet Russia could have so quickly organized a Soviet Korean army north of the 38th parallel?

In this same map, there is a little place called Hunchun. For years, while the Japanese owned Korea, revolutionary forces existed in Hunchun, many of them under Russian influence. When the story of this Korean episode is told, Hunchun will be shown to have been an important base. Hunchun is in Manchuria, which is, by the Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam agreements, controlled by Russia. We did it that way—although Russia was in the Far Eastern war less than a week.

That is why we need to know who organized and projected the Far Eastern policy. Somebody did it. Let us have the name of the genius.

Thurman Sensing,

DOWN SOUTH

BENEDICT ARNOLDS OF 1950

A country can be betrayed in more ways than one. When Benedict Arnold agreed to turn West Point over to the British for a sum of money, he made his name a synonym for traitor in the United States of America. He could perhaps have done the job just as effectively, without receiving the epithet, by simply allowing the defenses of West Point to reach such a low stage that the fort could not have defended itself. In other words, the sin of omission can be just as great as the sin of commission.

It is when we consider the sins of ommision committed by our leadership in this country in recent years that we realize we have in effect Benedict Arnolds among us right now in this Year of Our Lord 1950.

We are now at war in Korea and it is the patriotic duty of every citizen of this nation to do whatever is in his power and whatever may be demanded of him to win this war as quickly and as conclusively as possible. About that there can be no question.

But this responsibility to win the war does not mean that we cannot raise a question as to why we got in the war in the first place, as to why we allowed ourselves to get in a position where war would be thrust upon us, as to why we had made no preparations for this attack, as to why we are sacrificing American boys unnecessarily upon the field of battle.

It certainly gives no cause for pride to read in a Canadian newspaper, as I did in Toronto the other day, the glaring headline, "When Fired Upon, Poorly Trained American Troops Run Like Frightened Chickens". This was no dig at America in any way, because Canada is our friend. The correspondent of this newspaper was simply reporting the facts as he saw them.

But my shame at reading such a headline in a foreign city was not for the youngsters in the American army who were thrust into

Charles B. Driscoll:

New York Day By Day

NEW YORK—The mail, old and new, needs looking into. It's been piling up here for some time.

Elgia Koontz, my most regular Wichita informant, sends me news of the passing of an old friend of the family, J. P. Weigand, real estate dealer, at the age of 76. That brings memories.

When I was a college student and newspaper carrier, the Weigand home, a small cottage on North Emporia avenue, was a customer. It was a humble place, owned by a couple of elderly maiden ladies, and rented to Mr. Weigand. I threw the paper onto the front porch each morning, before daylight.

One Sunday morning, when the paper was particularly heavy and I felt vigorous, I threw the paper through the front window, large, square, plate, glass. No, not quite through. The paper broke the window and dropped to the porch floor.

I called the following evening and expressed my regrets, as well as willingness to make restitution. Mr. Weigand said that he had not known what had broken the window, as it seemed hardly probable that a mere newspaper could do it and the family had slept through the incident.

He knew that I had no money and was working my way through school. But the old ladies who owned the place made him replace the window. I suppose they collected insurance, too.

Weigand, out of consideration for my financial condition, replaced the plate glass with double-strength window glass, which cost half as much. Then he told me that I need pay no cash. I could deliver the paper free (that was ten cents a week) until the bill was paid. It figured out 160 weeks of free delivery, but that was a bargain for me. If he had been tough, I would have been sunk.

When I gave up my route to take a job as reporter, I paid the balance in cash.

Whenever I returned to the home town, in later years, Weigand was among the welcomers. He always told me how it hurt him to have to collect that window damage from me. He was a just and gentle-hearted man, and may God give him rest.

Comes a package of six huge tomatoes, in perfect condition, by air express, from Friend Rob Stough, Fort Smith, Ark.

This is the ideal way to get ripe tomatoes, two days after picking, or perhaps some hours less than two days. These tomatoes weigh about two pounds apiece, and the flesh is juicy red. I'll have to ask Rob what kind of ertilizer he uses to bring up such tremendous morsels.

I was unhappy about missing the rose festival at Newark, N. Y., this year. Just after the airplane tickets were delivered I had a slight accident, disabling one knee for a couple of weeks. As I slept fitfully I dreamed of the great rose fields, the good Perkinses, and the companionable people who always make up the company at the festivals. In a moment of fever, my disordered dream put me in an automobile, driven, apparently, by Ralph Perkins. We hit a telegraph pole and my knee hit the bulkhead with a tremendous crash. I awoke to find that the injured knee was indeed there, but, alas, no Perkinses; no roses.

In Hollywood With

JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, July 22.—Vera-Ellen and Rock Hudson will pop their engagement announcement as soon as Vera returns from England, where she's making a movie. . . . Roddy McDowell wasn't too busy with his summer stock stint in Laguna Beach to fall head over heels in love. The young lady is a non-professional and its serious. . . . William Holden, picked because of his scandal-free record, will be Hollywood's newest goodwill ambassador. Paramount is sending him out on a meet-the-press junket to 20 key cities.

Marta Toren's father, a retired Swedish army officer, influenced by present conditions in the world, has decided to make that long-delayed visit to Hollywood while he has a chance. He'll fly here next month, and return after only a two weeks stay in order that he may be available for any call from the Swedish army. . . . Ben Blue is mulling a tempting offer to be featured comic in Frank Sinatra's television series. . . . Ginger Rogers has been offered a cool stipend to make a TV tieup with Frigidaire.

Barbara Stanwyck's off-again-on-again trip to join hubby Robert Taylor in Rome is definitely on. She has a plane ticket for July 31st, and will get there in time to celebrate Bob's birthday on August 5th. Jackie Robinson may take another shot at movie acting. He's wanted for the role of Friday in "Robinson Crusoe," color film to be produced in the east.

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: Columbia's "711 Ocean Drive" (Edmund O'Brien-Joanne Dru). A fast moving, well-directed and well-acted crime melodrama that will be well received by the average audience. . . . Good: Universal-International's "Abbott and Costello in The Foreign Legion." One of the best Abbott and Costello comedies to date—and by this date you should know whether or not you like the A. and C. brand of slapstick. . . . MGM's "A Lady Without a Passport" (Hedy Lamarr, John Hodiak, James Craig). A stalwart hero, a beautiful gal and plenty of scheming villians in a better than average cops-and-robbers story. Columbia's "Beyond the Purple Hills" (Gene Autry, Pat Buttram, Jo Dennison). One of the year's better westerns. . . . So-So: United Artists' "If This Be Sin" (Myrna Loy, Roger Livesey, Peggy Cummings, Richard Greene). Women may like the soap-opera plot, but must men will agree that it is sin. . . . Monogram's "Snow Dog" (Kirby Grant, Elena Verdugo Chinook). Preferred action fare for the juvenile trade. . . . Best Performance: Edmund O'Brien in "711 Ocean Drive."

Shelley Winters, who's usually burned up about something or other, is now smouldering over her studio's orders to report back to work July 24th. Shelley (as everyone within shouting distance must know) had other plans, which included meeting boyfriend Farley Granger in Europe for a summer vacation. If Miss Winters weren't so young and impetuous, she might realize that having her vacation called off could be a blessing in disguise. It's just possible that her bosses, instead of trying to provoke her, are trying to protect her from the kind of gossip such a trip would surely arouse. Thanks to the misbehavior of some other stars, these European "vacations" have come to have a pretty unsavory connotation in the mind of the public.

When actress-turned-director Ida Lupino announced recently that she had signed Claire Trevor as the star of her new independent movie, "Mother of a Champion," the Hollywood skeptics started clucking their tongues and predicting trouble. According to their way of thinking, no glamour girl could take acting orders from another without the fur flying thick and fast. And even now, despite the fact that shooting on the picture has been progressing smoothly for almost three weeks, the Doubting Thomases are still vowing it's too good to last. Frankly, I think such reasoning is an insult to two highly intelligent, mature-minded young women. In their many years in Hollywood, Ida and Claire have proved themselves real troupers, with too much respect for their profession to indulge in petty bickering.

Van Heflin, who's taking a post-graduate course at U. C. L. A., reports that the discouraging news from the Korean war front has inspired an amusing, if somewhat grim, gag among draft-age students at that school. Most of their conversations end with—"So long, see you in Seoul."

BIBLE THOUGHTS

God does not weigh criminality in our scales. God's measure is the heart of the offender—A balance which varies with every one of us, a balance so delicate that a tear cast in the other side may make the weight of error kick the beam.—Lowell.

But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem and it shall not be quenched.—Jeremiah 17.27.

Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven the same loveth little.—Luke 7:47.

Love is the emblem of eternity; it confounds all notion of time; effaces all memory of a beginning all fear of an end.—Madame de Stael.

James Marlow:

THE NATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—The housing and home finance agency is the top government outfit to help people buy, build or repair homes.

It has three important branches: Federal Housing Administration; Home Loan Bank Board; and public housing administration.

This week President Truman told all three to tighten up on the help they give. Here's what they do and what Mr. Truman told them to do.

1. Federal Housing Administration (FHA).

You want to buy, build or repair a home. You need money. You borrow from a bank.

To encourage banks to make such loans, by protecting them against loss, the FHA insures such home loans.

The FHA had, until this week, more than $1,250,000,000 with which it could insure such loans. Now Mr. Truman says it can use only $650,000,000.

Further, the FHA now will give 5 per cent less insurance to a bank than it did until this week. Example:

Until this week the FHA insured a loan on a one-family house up to 80 per cent of the cost, for a maximum of $16,000. Now it will insure up to only 75 per cent and the maximum had been reduced to $14,000.

Also—in insuring a loan, the FHA now must figure out what a house cost before July 1, not what it might cost some time after that date because of inflated prices.

As to loans for repairs on your home: Until now, if the bank did not require you to make a down payment, the FHA would insure such a home-repair loan 100 per cent, up to $10,000.

But now you must make a down payment of at least 10 per cent on any FHA-insured loan you get for repairs, although the FHA still will insure such a loan up to $10,000.

(This change about repair-loans goes into effect Aug. 1. Every other change listed in this story already is in effect.)

2. Public Housing Administration (PHA).

In 1949 congress passed a law to help cities build low-rent housing units for low-income families. A unit is a place where one family can live.

The cities could borrow from the PHA to do the building. This money had to be paid back. But, after the units were built, under the law the PHA could make gifts of money to the cities to help run the units.

In six years, or by 1956, about 810,000 units were to be built, for an aveage of 135,000 a year. Under the law, no less than 50,000 and no more than 200,000 could be built in any one year.

Now Mr. Truman has told the PHA to put a brake on the whole program permitting no more than 30,000 units to be built in the next six months.

(So far only 3,033 units are actually being built although the PHA has on hand plans from cities for 300,000 more units.)

3. Home Loan Bank Board (HLBB).

This agency gives credit to savings banks and loan outfits which make loans to people for buying or building homes. (This credit, unlike insurance, gives banks a backlog of money to draw on for making loans.)

Now Mr. Truman has ordered the HLBB to cut down on the amount of credit it can give banks. There's no need to go into details on this. Bankers already know it and understand it. It involves them.

As for the public—this crackdown simply means getting home loans from banks has been made a little tougher.

One thing more—this year congress said the government could make direct loans—totaling $300,000,000—to colleges for building dormitories for their students and faculties.

Congress acted so recently on this that the program hasn't had time to get started. But now Mr. Truman says the whole program must be postponed for a whole.

Why all this?

For its military preparations, the government needs some of the materials that go into new homes. This will make new homes scarcer.

As that develops, prices on new and old homes will go up. So Mr. Truman wants to make home buying a little more difficult to keep the price down.

Shark Industries Going Out Of Business

STUART, Fla., July 22. —(AP)— Shark Industries, an organization which caught thousands of sharks for their liver oil, is going out of business.

Reliable methods of producing vitamin A synthetically is the principal reason.

Shark industries, a branch of the Borden Company, once had 20 to 40 fishermen in 12 boats catching sharks. They produced shark livers worth $500,000 annually. Headquarters was at nearby Salerno.

MARIE ACCARDO

Winner Will Receive Expense Paid Two-Day Visit To New Orleans

If you're a photogenic young woman in this area, it'll pay you to enter the local "Photogenic Contest" sponsored by Larry Robinson's Studios, Delta Air Lines and the News Star and Morning World.

Why? Because you may be the winner. And the winner will get a two-day, free visit to New Orleans, including a tour of the Crescent City and of the harbor of New Orleans through the courtesy of Grey Line Tours and the river steamer President, and a stay at the St. Charles Hotel.

To enter the contest, a young woman must have her photograph made at Larry Robinson's, fifth floor of the Bernhardt Building. There's no obligations. The picture is made free.

The contest is limited to those young women in this area who are between the ages of 18 and 30. All those wishing to enter the competition must have their photographs made at Larry Robinson's by Aug. 19.

The winner, who will be chosen by a member of Delta Air Lines at New Orleans, will leave for her visit Aug. 25.

It has been pointed out that the contest is between "photogenic" young women, which doesn't necessarily mean the contestants must be beautiful to walk away with first-prize honors.

Baby Drowns In Water Container

MERIDIAN, Miss., July 22.—(AP)—A nine-months-old baby girl toppled into a five-gallon kitchen-water container and drowned today.

The tiny victim Elizabeth Ann Green, was one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Green of Meridian.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 22. —(AP)— Grains slumped toward the close on the board of trade today. All cereals participated in the decline, but lard managed to display a firm tone despite the weakness in grains.

Wheat closed 1 to 1 1/2 lower, July $2.32 1/4, corn was 1/8 to 2 cents lower, July $1.55-1.53 1/4, oats were 1 to 6 1/2 lower, July 78 3/4, rye was 1 3/4-2 3/4 lower, July $1.40 1/4-1/2, soybeans were 1 5/8 to 8 cents lower, July $3.10-3.07, and lard was 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $13.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Fourth Member Of Tech's Class Of 1900 Succumbs

RUSTON, July 22. —(Special)— With the passing of John F. Wartelle, death has claimed the fourth member of a class of eight persons who graduated together from Louisiana Tech in 1900.

Mr. Wartelle died recently at his home in Washington, La., at the age of about 70 years.

Following his graduation from Tech 50 years ago, Mr. Wartelle enrolled at Louisiana State university for one year to continue his engineering studies. Wartelle returned to Tech as a member of the engineering faculty.

Leaving the Tech faculty, he accepted employment in Seattle, Wash. After several years there, he returned to his home in Louisiana, where he engaged in extensive farming.

Other members of the Tech graduating class of 1900 were John P. Graham of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Brooks of Ruston; Mrs. Margaret Barker of Monroe; Mrs. Arnold Barksdale, deceased; Walter H. Walker, deceased; and J. E. Haley, deceased.

BOOKED WITH DRUNK DRIVING

L. C. Gearhardt, 43, of Monroe, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Monroe police officers and charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of an intoxicating liquor and causing property damage. He was released shortly after his arrest on a $400 bond.

the midst of war with very little if any training for battle, poorly supplied with ammunition and weapons of war. My shame was for the leadership of America that had made it necessary for our army commanders to throw such troops into battle. My shame was for the American Benedict Arnolds of 1950.

For the Korean War is no Pearl Harbor. The attack on south Korea was no surprise to our intelligence service. But our leadership had shown we were not interested in preserving Nationalist China against the Communists. They had said we had no interest in defending Formosa. Hands off the far east! So nothing had been done to prepare south Korea for attack, though it was unquestionably both our political and moral responsibility to do so. Against the wishes of our leadership, the congress had voted $10,000,000 for military supplies for south Korea—but only $200 of this amount had been spent when war broke out.

When the attack came, it would have undoubtedly been the policy of our political leadership to have done nothing about it, to have sacrificed south Korea — except that they realized at this last minute that the time had now come when this nation must "put up or shut up", that we must either fight for that which it was our moral responsibility to fight for or retreat like cowards to another Munich.

So they reversed all previous policy. They said we must fight to preserve the integrity of south Korea. We must defend Formosa. We must defend the Philippines. We must strengthen southeast Asia

But there was nothing at hand to do the job with—even though we had been spending $15 billion a year for military purposes since the end of World War II. So they had to send a boy to do a man's job. So they had to sacrifice young, ill-trained, poorly equipped American boys upon the altar of their own negligence. So they were traitors to the American people.

HELD FOR THEFT

A 27-year-old Negro, Earl Williams, of 412 Atkinson street, Monroe, was in the city jail last night charged with the theft of a pistol and carrying a concealed weapon. The weapon, valued at $44.95, was the property of the Star Furniture Company, police records showed. Bond had not been set last night.

New Oak Leaves Pinned On By Wife As He Becomes Marine Major

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., July 22—(Special)—Marine Major Jefferson D. Smith, Jr., husband of the former Evelyn Baur of Monroe, and Solitude Plantation, St. Francisville, La., was recently promoted to his present rank at an informal ceremony in which both his wife and Mrs. R. K. Miller, wife of Lt. Colonel Miller assisted.

As a youngster, the major had first hand knowledge of service life when he traveled with his father, the late Jefferson D. Smith, Sr., who was a commander in the navy. From 1926 to 1929 he toured the country of China while his father was stationed there.

Upon returning to the United States, the major then settled in Coronado, Calif. with his parents and attended Coronado High School there. He then went on to Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, La., after which he received his commission in the marine corps in July, 1942.

During World War II, he served aboard the USS Mississippi with a marine detachment and participated in the Okinawa, Borneo, Philippine and Pelieleu Island campaigns. He was awarded the Bronze Star, the Secretary of the Navy ribbon and the Purple Heart.

Prior to reporting at Camp Lejeune, the major was an instructor in an NROTC unit at the Unitook command of headquarters versity of Mississippi. He recently company headquarters battalion, second marine division, FMF here at Camp LeJeune.

Presently, Major and Mrs. Smith are residing at Midway Park, N. C. with their two children, Evelyn, age seven, and Cordelia, one year old.

Mrs. Susan Thackeray Taken From Hospital

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Susan Thackeray, 44, known as Ruth Elder when she was a famed aviatrix in the 1920's and 1930's, was discharged today from the hospital where she was taken unconscious and near death July 13.

Mrs. Thackeray, wife of George K. Thackeray, 36, art dealer who is her fifth husband, is convalescing from an overdose of sleeping pills. Thackeray said she was taken to the home of friends because he could not give her the required care due to his work.

Police and state board of pharmacy inspectors last week investigated the source of seconal and phenobarbitol pills and capsules which they confirmed Mrs. Thackeray had taken. The narcotics were believed obtained in Tijauna, Mex. according to local officers. No arrests were made.

Mrs. Thackeray has been living in obscurity here for several years. She withdrew from the limelight even to the extent of dropping her given name, and adopting the name Susan, after a favorite aunt.

Two Excited Men Move Safe Which Stopped 6

OMAHA, Nebr., July 22. —(AP)— Two south Omaha packing plant employes had some new-found respect today for their own strength.

At the insistence of two snarling bandits, the two men pushed a big office safe through two doors to a loading dock this morning. Then, with guns poking them in the ribs, the two men boosted the safe onto a truck.

When the safe, weighing nearly a ton, was found later, six burly men tried to move it. It didn't budge.

The gunmen hauled the safe away in a company-owned truck but abandoned it, unopened, when the truck became mired in mud.

The employes coerced into the moving job were Loyd E. Christensen and James Gray, both of Omaha. Christensen weighs 190 pounds; Gray 160.

To The Voters of Monroe, West Monroe and The Entire Fifth District

RUSSELL LONG HAS BASED HIS CAMPAIGN ON NATIONAL ISSUES, AS IS BEFITTING A CANDIDATE FOR U.S. SENATOR. HOWEVER, OUR OPPONENTS HAVE WAGED THEIR CAMPAIGN ON A STATE LEVEL. THEREFORE, JUST TO KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT, WE ARE LISTING SOME OF THE MANY BENEFITS WHICH WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE FIFTH DISTRICT, HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE STATE AND FEDERAL GOVERNMENTS DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS.

1 - The State Administration has made a four-year college at Northeast Junior College. This means that many students in the Fifth District will be able to obtain a full college education at a minimum cost. Families which were not financially able to send their sons and daughters away to school are now provided with the educational facilities they deserve—close at home.

2 - Teachers' salaries have been increased, and Senator Long had much to do with this improvement of the status of our school teachers. Louisiana's junior senator exerted every effort to successfully improve and advance school teachers' salaries and retirement plans to send our State to 5th place in the nation from 30th place.

3 - For the benefit of the entire district, the State Administration has approved plans for a $1,500,000 improvement project for St. Francis Sanitarium and a $300,000 maternity building for the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital. Upon completion of these projects, Monroe will become the medical center of Northeast Louisiana, and the entire district will be the beneficiary.

4 - The State Administration sponsored a bill in the Legislature which will exempt Monroe taxpayers from paying the special school board tax—a bill which will save the taxpayers of this community approximately $1,000,000 in the next ten years.

5 - The State has supported an extensive drainage program in every parish of the Fifth District. Financial aid from the State, as well as assistance from the Federal government in Washington, has been obtained through the efforts of Senator Long and the State Administration. The projects which have been completed and those now under construction may be seen by all residing in those areas affected.

6 - Every city, town and village in the Fifth District has had difficuties financing their various departments. The State has turned back to these communities revenues from the tobacco tax which have enabled them to meet payrolls and to give their employes a raise in salary. This turn-back affects every city, town and village in the district.

7 - Farm-to-market roads have been improved in every parish of the district. Many of them have been black-topped and others have been gravelled, thus assuring our farmers a ready access to the markets upon which their welfare and subsistance depends.

8 - Every city, town and village in the district has been helped in repairing and reconstructing their streets. In Monroe, for instance, the State has spent more than $100,000 to assist in the re-paving program here. Other communities have been helped in defraying the expenses of their street improvements.

9 - Of vital importance to many parishes in Northeast Louisiana is the reforestation program now being carried on by the State. Our forests are vital to the prosperity of this area, and the program devised by the State has enabled us to preserve the resources which have meant a great deal of wealth to all of our citizens.

10 - There are many civic improvements which have had State assistance. For instance, the State Administration supported Monroe's sewerage program, both financially and through its efforts in passing the bill which enabled this city to plan an over-all sewerage program which its civic leaders had been advocating for the past 20 years.

11 - The State has inaugurated a free lunch program which will benefit those who are unable to pay the cost of this service. Under the new act passed by the recent session of the State Legislature, those who are financially able to pay for their children's lunches will be asked to do so. Those who are not financially able to pay will receive free lunches. This act will result in more and better lunches for the poorer people of the district.

12 - The State Administration advocates larger old-age pensions for those of our people who have passed the age where they are capable of earning an adequate living. This old-age assistance will prove a boon to many of our neighbors who have not in the past been receiving enough to live on in their later years. Senator Long has consistently urged the Federal government to contribute more to these people.

13 - In the cities and towns of the Fifth District, funds have been contributed by the State to augment the present fire-fighting equipment. This enables the fire departments through the district to answer calls from out of their city limits and has and will save many thousands of dollars in fire losses in outlying areas.

14 - Through funds collected by the State, the cities, towns and villages of the district have received moneys which have enabled them to raise salaries of city employes. State and parish employes also have benefitted from this program to increase wages wherever possible.

15 - Drainage has been a particularly important problem for the Fifth District. The State has cooperated wholeheartedly in the attempt to rid every parish of the overflows, the floodwaters, the erosion which has been the result. The problem is gradually being alleviated, thanks to a sympathetic State Administration.

16 - The State Administration is vitally interested in the health of its citizens of the Fifth District. The administration has supported its health units to the utmost, and will continue to do so. Research work is being conducted throughout the entire district and continued efforts are being made to improve conditions which now exist. The State is sparing no expense to improve the health standards of our people.

17 - The State has given a bonus to every veteran of World War II. The Administration felt it and the State owed an obligation to the men who fought for us in the last war and it passed a measure in the legislative session of 1948 which fulfilled this obligation.

18 - At the last session of the State Legislature, the State Administration asked that taxes on fuel used on farms and in planes be abolished. This was accomplished. As a result, farmers of the State will save thousands of dollars each year.

19 - Under directions of the State Administration, millions of fish have been removed from hatcheries, barrow pits and other places, and placed in various streams throughout the Fifth District. Water hyacinths have been removed from Bayou DeSiard in Ouachita Parish, Bayou Bartholomew in Morehouse parish and in other streams in the district. The Department of Conservation has cooperated to the fullest extent with sportsmen in each locality.

20 - The State is concerned over the water supply for householders in this district. They have taken steps to assist the various municipalities in assuring a pure water supply for drinking purposes for those communities which obtain their water from bayous and rivers. Competent personnel is consulting with local authorities on this vitally important matter.

Look Around You—See the Many Advantages You and Your Parish Have Received During the Past Few Years. We Believe That You'll Agree That the District and the State Have Progressed Immeasurably During the Administration of Those Who Are Guiding the Destinies of Our Beloved Louisiana.

JOHNSON TAMES PINE BLUFF ON FOUR HITS

MONROE SPORTS CHECK LEAGUE'S LEADERS, 7 TO 2

Morrison Hits Home Run With One On; Play Again This Afternoon

Bobby Johnson hurled his eleventh Cotton States League victory here last night as he silenced the usually potent Pine Bluff bats to a skimpy four hits while his mates tied into two visiting hurlers for ten hits and a 7 to 2 victory over the league-leading Judges.

The loss cut Pine Bluff's margin over the second place Sports to five and a half games, and they tangle here again this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium.

Leonard Morrison helped Johnson's cause along with a two-run homer in the first inning and the Sports were never behind. It was the seventh circuit blow to be hit in Monroe's new baseball park, and the fourth to be accounted for here by Morrison. Only one visitor, Dan Phalen of Hot Springs, has even been able to hit for the circuit here.

Although Johnson got himself in trouble occasionally with free passes, issuing a total of six walks, he never allowed more than one hit in any inning. Two of the blows off Johnson were doubled by Harry Schwegman and Jack Ramm.

Johnson, along with first baseman Sinclair Kouns, accounted for the most hits in the game. Both Johnson and Kouns got two blows apiece. Only Ray Coss, a usually certain hitter, and Virgil Bivens failed to connect safely.

Outfielder Allen Cross missed the game because of a minor operation yesterday that will keep him sidelined for a few days. Taking care of Cross' absence, Manager Al Mazur shifted Coss from right to center field, and posted catcher Wayne Moon in right field.

Leonard Morrison's homer behind Charlie Cline's single started the Sports off with two runs in the first inning, and they added three more on four hits and a pair of errors in the fourth.

Wayne Moon started the fourth with a double. Al Mazur punched a bunt down the third base line, and Bob Kurtz threw to first pulled Stuckmeyer off the bag. A single by Sinclair Kouns into center field scored Moon, and Catcher Chozen let the throw in get past him, allowing Mazur to come on home while Kouns took second. Virgil Bivens sacrificed Kouns to third, and Johnson singled Kouns home. A single by Carl Tucker finished the night's work for Hill, and Bob Pickens came in to put out the fire.

Johnson had trouble with his control in the top of the fifth, walking Chozen and Pickens. Then with two out, Jack Ramm broke the ice for the Judges with a double down the right field foul line, scoring Chozen and sending Pickens to third, but Ben Cantrell grounded out to Cline to end the threat of more runs.

The Sports came back for two more in the bottom of the fifth. Moon worked Pickens for a free pass, and Mazur powered a triple into right center, scoring Moon. A single by Kouns brought Mazur home, but the Monroe first baseman was thrown out trying to steal second.

Held to two hits for seven innings, Schwegman collected No. 3 with a double to start the eighth. Ram walked. Cantrell popped out to Mazur, and Scarpace grounded to Kouns, who, looking for a double play, made a bad throw to second trying to stop Ramm, and Schwegman scored. The threat was stopped as Kurtz flied out to Mazur, and Hal Bollinger fouled out to Catcher Bivens.

The Judges threatened again in the ninth after one was out. Stuckmeyer punched a single across the mound into center field. John Albinus, batting for Pickens, walked. Schwegman hit a long fly into right field for the second out, Stuckmeyer moving to third after the catch. But Ramm popped out to Cline at short to end the game.

Curtis Bids For Light-Heavy Title In Segura Bout

BIG JACK MAKES EFFORT TO TAKE CROWN 5TH TIME

Semi-Final Tuesday Night Send Keene Against George Curtis

WITH BANNER—CURTIS ... ..

Big Jack Curtis, the off-and-on ruler of the world's light heavyweight wrestlers for the past ten years, seeks to reclaim the championship belt for the fifth time when he meets Champion Bobby Segura of Mexico City in the main event at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night.

Since taking the title for the first time from Rex Mobley Curtis has been continually feuding for the belt with such battlers as Mobley, Jack "Stinger" Steele, LeRoy McGuirk, Balk Estes, and now Bobby Segura.

Curtis, the colorful brawler from Vicksburg, lost the belt the last time to Estes, the Tulsa flash, who in turn soon lost the title to Segura at Pensacola, Fla., only a short time ago. The Mexican game bantam, appears to take the title entirely different from Estes.

Whereas, the Oklahoma battler dodged title challenges right and left, Segura has declared he "meet all challengers on a first come first served basis."

"That's my motto," Segura announced. "If I am truly the champion then I have nothing to fear from no man. I should be able to beat them all.. If there is a better wrestler around I have no business holding to a belt that belongs to somebody else. I want to be a real champion, and I won't be alibing to get around matches the way Estes did. The only reason Estes finally agreed to meet me was because he figured he had a cinch to win. He knows different now."

By picking Curtis for his first title defense, Segura cast all doubts aside that he might be working on the little fellows first, to keep his crown as long as possible. Curtis is a first rate challenger. If Segura can dispose of the Curtis challenge he will greatly strengthen his hold on the throne.

"I'm glad to get this match with Segura," Curtis told Promoter Kallio. "I know he is tough and hard to beat, but I'll be ready for him."

The semi-final attraction, starting the show at 8:15 o'clock, will send Don Keene against George Curtis, younger brother of the title challenger. George Curtis is coming to the front fast and has his own designs on the championship—if Brother Jack fails.

The younger Curtis is willing to leave the belt alone if his brother can keep it in the family, but he let it be known that he definitely should be considered a challenger if Jack is unable to beat Segura.

Claude Skidmore, Jackson, Miss. will be here to referee the matches Kallio said, and admission prices will be $2 for reserved seats, $1 for general admissions, and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

Lovers' Lane Girls Rout Bastrop Aggregation, 33-3

BASTROP, La., July 22.—(Special)—Lovers' Lane Pharmacy, undefeated leaders of the Girls' Softball League of Monroe, came here tonight to swamp a team of Bastrop girls, 33 to 3, in an exhibition contest.

"Pee Wee" Inzina and Ticheli powered the Lovers' Lane triumph with home runs. The winning battery was Joyce Wilson and Hilda Gibson.

INDIANS BLANK SPORTS

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 22.—(AP)—Len Pillar shut out Shreveport 5-0, on two hits tonight as the Indians came home after a long road trip and opened a three-game series with the Sports.

The Indians went ahead 1-0 in the first inning on two walks and a pair of singles.

Oklahoma City shot ahead 4-0 in the third on three hits which, along with a walk, led to LeRoy Jones removal from the Shreveport mound.

The last Indian tally came in the sixth without the aid of a hit.

Pillar was in trouble several times, but steadied in the clinch and pitched out of trouble.

Cage Officiating Up For College Discussion

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 22. —(AP)— Commissioners of college conferences throughout the nation decided today to do something about lack of uniformity in officiating at basketball games.

Closing their four - day meeting here, the commissioners agreed to hold a clinic on the problem at Kansas City next Nov. 12-13. Two representatives from each of the 10 conferences will attend.

K. L. (Tug) Wilson, of Chicago, big ten conference commissioner, said the same set of rules applied to basketball throughout the country. He added, however, difficulties arose particularly in intersectional games because officials in different parts of the nation interpreted the rules differently. Lack of uniformity prevailed, he said, especially in regard to rules on screening, charging and blocking.

The clinic at Kansas City will go over the rule book and attempt to get uniform interpretations. Each conference is expected to send a man who has charge of basketball officials.

Reeves Peters of Kansas City, big seven commissioner, will be chairman of the clinic committee. Others on the committee will be As Curtiss of Dallas, representing the southwest conference, and Bill Harlow of Chicago, in charge of basketball officiating for big ten games. All three are former basketball officials.

The commissioners also discussed the problem of crowd behavior at basketball games. Methods of educating basketball fans in better sportsmanship were considered.

First Boston Is Winner Of Ascot Gold Cup Race

CLEVELAND, July 22.— (AP) — First Boston, at 12 to 1 in the parimutuel odds, captured the $10,000 Ascot gold cup race at Ascot Park today. His time of 3:27 2/5 set a new record for the two-mile event. Jockey Freddy Katz was the rider.

The four-year-old chestnut colt, owned by Harrison N. Simpson, of ahead of License, whose winning time in 1949 was three-fifths of a The Plains, Va., was five lengths second slower.

In third place was the favorite, Promotion.

It was announced before the race that next year's purse would be $11,000.

The crowd of 8,500 wagered $41,080 on the gold cup and a total of $245,890 on the day's nine races, which ended Ascot's 40-day meeting.

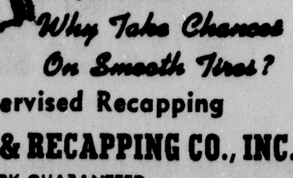

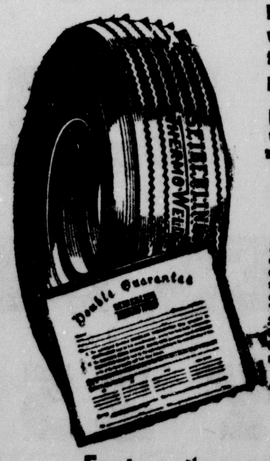

First Boston paid $26.60, $7.40 and $3.20. License paid $4.00 and $2.80. Promotion paid 2.60.

ONRUSHING YANKEES CLOSE IN ON BENGALS

TIGERS TUMBLE BEFORE 10-TO-4 BOMBER ATTACK

Crimson Hose Hammer Out 11 -2 Win Over Browns; Chisox Trip A's

NEW YORK, July 22. —(AP)— The onrushing New York Yankees powdered the league-leading Detroit Tigers today 10-4, cutting the margin between the first two clubs to just half a game. The victory was the sixth in succession for the Yanks and their 13th in 16 decisions.

The crowd of 42,685 saw Tommy Byrne roll to his 11th win of the season and fourth straight over the Bengals. The southpaw was opposed by Hal Newhouser at the start but the latter left after yielding five runs in three innings. Fred Hutchinson and Hal White worked the rest of the way.

Johnny Mize was stopped by the Tiger hurlers and went hitless in four times at bat. He entered the game with a record of 13 hits in his most recent 15 times at bat. Joe DiMaggio, who has lost his clean-up spot in the batting order to Mize, kept hitting. However, he banged out two of the dozen New York safeties and scored four runs.

Byrne walked eight men, three in the second when the visitors got their first run and two in the seventh when they gained two more. George Kell, the leading hitter of the league, completed the Tiger tallying in the ninth when he hit his sixth homer. That was THE ../TH OFF B the 19th off Byrne.

Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown helped DiMaggio with the attack. Berra smashed three singles and Brown drove in four runs with two hits and two scoring flies.

BOSOX ROUT BROWNS

BOSTON, July 22.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox were given their first nine - inning pitching stint in 10 games and the fifth in their last 25 today when lefty Maury McDermott turned back the St. Louis Browns, 11-2.

While going the full distance for the first time since May 12, McDermott gave the Browns eight scattered hits and seven bases on balls. He now has a 6-1 record.

The Red Sox slugged out 14 hits against three Brownie pitchers. One of the blows was Bobby Doerr's 14th homer and 100th safety of the season.

INDIANS WIN IN 10TH

WASHINGTON, July 22. —(AP)— Four bases on balls, along with an error and two Cleveland hits in the tenth inning gave the Indians an 8 to 3 triumph over the Washington Senators tonight.

The victory moved the Tribe, who have won seven games out of eleven on this eastern swing, within three and one-half games of the league leading Detroit Tigers. This is the closest the onrushing Tribe has been to first place since May 20.

After Early Wynn held his former mates to three scattered hits for eight innings, Washington tied the score in the ninth. The Senators scored three runs off Wynn with a double, three singles and a walk.

But thanks to some haphazard baseball in the tenth Cleveland evened the series at one-all.

Singleton started off by walking Zoldak. Mitchell laid down a sacrifice but Yost made a bad throw to second and Zoldak went to third and Mitchell to second. Boudreau scored Zoldak on a long fly to right and then Doby sent Mitchell home with a double to right. Harris came in to pitch and walked Rosen and Easter. Gordon flied to left and Kennedy walked, forcing in a run. Hegan then scored Rosen and Easter with the last tally on a single to left.

Ezzard Charles Given Bid For Beshore Bout

PITTSBURGH, July 22. —(AP)— Jake Mintz, co-manager of N. B. A. heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, said tonight he's received a $50,000 offer from a west coast promoter for a title fight.

Mintz said the offer came from Jim Downing, Salt Lake City promoter, who wants Charles to meet Rex Layne, Utah heavyweight. Downing proposed the fight be held at the Salt Lake City fairgrounds within the next 60 days.

Charles is scheduled to defend his title August 15 at Buffalo against Freddie Beshore of Harrisburg, Pa.

Mintz said he is "studying" Downing's offer and added:

"The international boxing club of New York has the first claim to Charles' services. Under present plans, I am hoping the I. B. C. will line up either Joe Louis or Lee Savold for a September fight.

"I wouldn't accept the Utah offer until I got a green light from the I. B. C. in any event. But the $50,000 offer is interesting, mighty interesting. It will be several days before we reject or accept it."

Phillies Share Double Header With Cincinnati Reds

Brooklyn Dodgers Power Way Past Pittsburgh Pirates, 12 To 3

CINCINNATI, July 22.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phils wound up all even today in their double header with the Phils taking the first game, 2 to 0, behind the brilliant pitching of Robin Roberts and with Howard Fox hurling seven hit ball to win the finisher for Cincinnati, 6 to 1.

Fox, who had a shutout against the New York Giants only last Tuesday, had another whitewash job until the ninth in the windup of today's doubleheader.

Roberts kept a firm four-hit grip on the Reds in the opener and not one Redleg got to third. The closest the Reds got to it was in the second when lead-off man Bobby Usher doubled. He was out at third on a fielder's choice.

Robbie's long fly in the second after Andy Seminick and Mike Goliat singled accounted for the first Phillie run. Del Ennis beat out a bunt and went to second on a wild pitch in the seventh. Grady Hatton then let Granny Hamner's grounder go through him for an error, Ennis reaching third and scoring on Seminick's line out.

In the nightcap the Reds got two runs in the second and then broke loose with four more runs in the seventh to insure the win. Joe Adcock started off the rally with a single and Homer Howell walked. Then Virgil Stallcup singled in two runs and Bobby Adams tripled him home. Adams jogged home on Connie Ryan's fly.

DODGERS BLAST BUCS

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers capitalized on the wildness of Pitchers Bill Pierro, Jim Walsh and Vernon Law today and romped to a 12-3 victory over the last place Pittsburgh Pirates.

Brooklyn sewed up the game with a seven run third inning during which Pierro, a Brooklyn native, Walsh and Law issued six bases on balls.

CARDS IN TIE FOR LEAD

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—(AP)—Outhit, 13-10, the St. Louis Cardinals spurted into a first place National League tie with Philadelphia tonight by beating Boston 11-7 in the second game of a day-night doubleheader. The Red Birds dropped the afternoon contest 8-5. Two-run homers by Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst in the night game helped Howard Pollet chalk up his 10th victory—the first Cardinal pitcher to reach that mark this year.

MYERS TIES CASTILLO FOR LEAD IN P.G.O.

STATE PRO TITLE WILL BE DECIDED TODAY AT M'GUIRE

Ames Of Opelousas Closest Contender To Tourney's Pacemakers

Henry Castillo, a former three-time winner of the Louisiana Professional Golfers Organization state championship, and Johnny Myers, a darkhorse pro from the Morehouse Country Club of Bastrop, finished the third round of the annual state title tourney in a deadlock for first place yesterday.

Castillo, with nothing but a string of 70s for the event, will be the man to watch along with Myers when the 18 contending state pros swing into the final round of their 72-hole medal play event over the 6,418-yard McGuire Park course in West Monroe this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Myers, who trailed Castillo by one stroke Friday, fired a three-under par 69 yesterday to deadlock the Alexandria links artist with a 54-hole total of 210.

Closest contender to Castillo and Myers is F. E. Ames, Opelousas, who shot a 69 yesterday to pull u. a notch in the standings with a 216 total. Ned White, Shreveport, only four strokes off the pace Friday when he carded a 69, shot a 73 yesterday to slip seven strokes back into fourth place with a 217 total.

Defending Champion Gray Little, Lake Charles, after a disastrous 79 Friday, came back with a one-under par 71 yesterday to gain a fifth place tie with his fellow townsman, Frank Champ, who shot a 72 for his best round of the event. Little and Champ have a total card of 220.

Yesterday's cards of the leaders:

Par out 544 534 434-36
Castillo out 543 443 435-35
Myers out 445 443 434-35
Ames out 444 434 434-34

West Monroe, Calhoun To Meet At Cloyd Park

West Monroe will lock horns with Calhoun in a Delta League game at Cloyd Park this afternoon at 3:00 p.m. Today's game is the last one scheduled before the final playoffs begin.

MMcKenzie and Brownlee will start as West Monroe's battery. Doug and Don Salsbury are on the tentative list as starters for Calhoun.

NOOR CAPTURES RICH HANDICAP

Irish Thoroughbred Finishes Length Ahead Of Dharan At Inglewood

INGLEWOOD, Cal., July 22.—(AP)—Noor, the dark conqueror from Ireland, picked up today where he left off with Citation a month ago and captured the $50,000 American handicap.

The great handicap horse spotted the field 20 pounds and more and came through with a close but rousing triumph before 48,500 frenzied fans at Hollywood park.

An upstart young colt from Virginia, Dharan, almost sent the red and white silks of the late Charles S. Howard trailing in the dust.

But the all-star combination of jockey Johnny Longden and Noor mustered a final burst of speed and hit the wire half a length ahead of Dharan and lightweight Nick Wall.

Frankly, racing for Frank Frankel of Houston, Tex., was a surprise third, while the feared little giant killer from the Argentine, Miche, and Clifford Mooers' Old Rockport, after duelling each other for the lead in the earlier stages, trailed fourth and fifth.

Noor packed the heaviest weight of his career — 132 pounds, and 30 pounds more than Dharan—but came within a fifth of a second of the track record. He traveled the mile and one quarter in 2:00 1-5.

Noor went into the race the odds-on favorite and paid off accordingly, $2.70 to win, $2.50 to place. Dharan owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. (Pete) Jackson of Santa Barbara, Calif., paid $4.40. There was no betting for the show position.

It was the final race day of the Hollywood Park summer meeting and Noor's final race in California. He made the most of it, but left many a weak heart in the wake with his come-from-behind tactics.

Noor went into the race fresh from four straight record-making triumphs over the Calumet star, Citation. He was the big horse, the big attraction, but some felt he couldn't carry the 132 pounds a mile and one quarter against such featherweights.

Old Rockport broke on top, Miche and Dharan right behind, Frankly next and Noor a poor fifth.

Longden and Noor remained a poor fifth down past the grandstand, around the clubhouse turn and into the backstretch. Old Rockport at one point opened up a three and a half length lead.

Midway down the backstretch, Miche, with Jack Westrope aboard climbed up in front with Old Rockport, Dharan remained right alongside, and Noor began a gradual charge from the rear.

Noor, Dharan and Miche hit the far turn on near even terms, and then the fight started.

Old Rockport faded under fire first, and then Miche began to drop off. Frankly pulled into view and Dharan and Wall surprisingly stayed right in the melee.

For a moment it appeared that Dharan might even roll on it, but Longdon went into action, so did Noor and they thundered on across.

Dharan finished four lengths to the good over Frankly, while Frankly beat out Miche by a nose for the third spot.

The jinx tale would have been entered if Wall and Dharan had triumphed. For it was Wall aboard several horses who beat the former Howard hero, Seabiscuit, in years gone by.

And once he whipped the great Seabiscuit aboard a mare named Jacola. Dharan is the son of Jacola.

While it was announced several days ago that this would be Noor's last race in California, to be followed by at least two weight-for-age races in New York this summer, Mrs. Howard, widow of the late sportsman, said late today that Noor "might race again out here."

"It all depends," said Mrs. Howard, "on what goes on in the east and how much weight they keep piling on Noor. After all, there must be a limit. If this goes on, then Noor probably will be retired."

Longden asked about the stretch duel with Wall, grinned: "Nick wanted to race a little long, I reckon."

Longden said he used the whip on Noor in the stretch, the first time he's had to resort to it.

"He didn't want to pass Dharan, I had to. Noor was getting a little tired under that weight." He said he was opposed to the 132 pound impost and "I didn't think it was fair to the horse."

Mrs. Howard cut in, "or to you, Johnny."

Noor's net winning today was $32,500, and brought his earnings in this country up to $238,690.

Favorites Advance In Clay Courts Tourney

CHICAGO, July 22. —(AP)— Four favorites, headed by top-seeded Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., today gained the semi-finals of the men's singles in the national clay courts tennis tourney.

Schroeder, the nation's top-ranked amateur, lived up to his reputation as the game's greatest "five set" player by wearing down Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, 2-6, 5-7, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4.

In tomorrow's semi-finals, Schroeder will face 20-year-old Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, who spilled Ted in last weekend's western tourney semi - finals at Indianapolis. Trabert, seeded sixth in this meet at the suburban River Forest Tennis club, today defeated unseeded Charley De Voe of Indianapolis, Ind., 5-7, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

No. 2 seeded Art Larsen, San Leandro, Calif., southpaw, rated sixth nationally, defeated aggressive Glenn Bassett of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3. Larsen's cleverly-placed left - handed chops and lobs finally forced the younger and less experienced Bassett into frequent errors. Larsen meets Herb Flam, third-seeded, in the semi-finals.

The two highest seeded feminine players, Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., and second-seeded Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, gained the women's finals which will be held tomorrow.

Miss Hart, ranked third nationally, had no trouble ousting slim Beverly Baker, Otoluca Lake, Calif., the 1949 runner-up, 6-2 ,6-2, in today's semi-finals.

TENNIS VISITOR—Pat Torson, of Independence, Wis., attends the women's tennis championships at Wimbledon, England, wearing sun dress with a convertible shawl-scarf.

Savitt, Moylan Tangle In Eastern Net Finals

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 22—(AP)—Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., former Cornell University tennis captain, took one of two marathon matches in the 50th Pennsylvania and Eastern States Grass Courts Tennis semi-finals today.

Ed Moylan of Trenton, N. J., upset Sam Match of San Francisco in the other.

Savitt came from behind to upset Earl Cochel of San Francisco, Calif., 4-6, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

Moylan also got off to a bad start, winning over match 5-7, 7-5, 7-5, 10-8.

The two meet tomorrow in the finals.

Fifteen-year - old Maureen Connolly, San Diego school girl, won the women's title with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 victory over Mrs. Helen Perez, Encino Park, Calif.

Kids Free At Columbia, Winnsboro Game Today

COLUMBIA, La., July 22.—(Special)—All kids will be admitted free to the Northeast Louisiana League game here Sunday afternoon between the front-running Columbia Ramblers and second-place Winnsboro Red Sox.

It's a regular league game scheduled to make up for a previously rained-out contest, and it will be played at 3 o'clock in Memorial Park here.

Duncan and Scarborough, the losing battery, surrendered ten hits for ten runs and the L. T. I. battery allowed four hits and four runs. One error was chalked against each team.

Chatham played on Hunt and Whitaker to the noisy tune of 14-3 in the Industrial League Saturday. Moak, Stuckey and Cowart served as the winning battery.

Lead hitters for Chatham were Cooper, Moak, Jordan, Cowart, Wingate, Watson, Ryals and Edwards.

Palmer, Recoulley and Vallery made up the losing battery. Palmer led the Hunt and Whitaker team in runs batted in.

Sherrouse dropped a 7-0 forfeit to the American Legion.

Drew squeezed by West Monroe with a score of 2-1, hanging on to their narrow margin of one game as league-leaders. The Sills brothers cooperated as the winning battery, releasing only one hit during the entire game.

West Monroe played a tight game but was unable to match the brother combination.

Eros and Danville have shown themselves as the leading teams in the Jackson-Bienville League, so this week interest will center around the runner-up spot in both divisions. Oil Field Center journeys to Simsboro to risk a tie for their position in the Western Division, while Chatham moves over to Ansley to attempt a victory over the Trojans which would widen the gap between the two teams. An improved Quitman team will invade Eros, while Weston and West Monroe will battle over the cellar berth on the latter's field. Saline and Ashland will renew their rivalry at Ashland and Danville goes to Martin.

PREP GRIDDERS TO HOLD CLINIC

All-Star Will Follow Confabs At Baton Rouge School

BATON ROUGE, La., July 22. —(AP)—High school football stars and their coaches begin assembling here next Sunday for a three-day clinic and the annual North-South game.

Dates for the Louisiana high school coaches association school are Aug. 2-4. It will be held at Louisiana State University, with head coaches Ray Eliot of the University of Illinois and Rusty Russell of Southern Methodist as principal lecturers.

But the players, selected by the coaches on the basis of their grid performances last season, are due to arrive Sunday. The south team is composed of youngsters from the New Orleans area, the north from high schools in upper Louisiana.

The night game, at Baton Rouge's Memorial Stadiim, will climax the coaching clinic on Aug. 4.

Directing the south squad will be coaches Vane Wilson of Destrehan, Elroy Scott of Hahnville and George Manteris of Nicholls high, New Orleans.

Calling shots for the north all-stars will be coaches Jack Rowan of Byrd high in Shreveport, Devon Payne of Tallulah and Dalton Faircloth, formerly of DeQuincy and now freshman coach at Texas A. & M.

Both squads will use the T-formation and will have 33 players.

Lectures listed for the coaching school cover track, baseball, basketball, football and officiating. Chief lecturers Eliot and Russell will be assisted by coaches Gaynell Tinsley of Louisiana State and Henry Frnka of Tulane and their staffs.

Mrs. Pat Todd Retains Essex Count Net Title

SLO-MO-SHUN 1ST IN GOLD CUP RACE

Three New Records Set In Speed Boat Classic On Detroit River

By Charles C. Cain

DETROIT, July 22.—(AP)—Stanley Sayres' record-breaking Slo-Mo-Shun IV made an impressive debut in American speed boat competition as it won the 90-mile Gold Cup race on the Detroit river today.

The two-ton hydroplane which set a world's speedboat record of 160.32 miles an hour on the west coast June 26, won all three heats today in what is generally called the "world's series of American speedboat racing."

The west coast contender got a battle through two heats from defending champion My Sweetie, but the Detroit boat blew an oil line late in the second heat when it was nearly a mile ahead of the new champion and had to drop out of the race.

That knocked My Sweetie out for the day and the third 30-mile heat was anti-climatic as only three boats went to the post. The Seattle team of Sayres and Ted Jones had no trouble in piloting their fast-moving Slo-Mo-Shun to victory in the final 30 miles.

Bandleader Guy Lombardo driving Tempo VI took second money in the race as he wound up third in the first heat and took second in the last two heats.

Chaz of Long Beach, N. Y., third boat in the final heat, caught fire and went out of the race on the first lap.

Slo-Mo-Shun smashed all three records in the 43rd annual running of the big race but saw My Sweetie better one of these.

The unique-looking Sayres-Jones craft set a new race record of 78.217 miles an hour, bettering the 75.55 mark set by Skip-A-Long last year.

It boosted the 30-mile heat mark to 80.151, shattering the 78.645 that My Sweetie set last year.

The lap mark also fell before Slo-Mo-Shun which hit 83.520 during the first heat to upset the record of 77.911 made by Golden Gate in 1946.

That mark did not stand up long, however, as My Sweetie showed her stern to Slo-Mo-Shun while doing 86.2 in the fourth lap of the second heat.

My Sweetie showed her wash to Slo-Mo-Shun during practically all of the second heat and was zooming along with a mile lead and only two miles of the heat left when it broke down.

Allen Cross, Ray Coss Lead Batting Parade For Monroe In Cotton States

Pine Bluff's Ramm, Cantrell Still Kingpins Of Class C Circuit

By J. P. Friend

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., July 22.—(Special)—The heated batting duel between two Pine Bluff Stars, Jack Ramm and Ben (Rosey) Cantrell for the championship of the Cotton States League continue to highlight the fine Class C loop.

Despite a three-point drop at the plate, Ramm holds a margin of 13 points over his mate and chief rival as the schedule approaches the two-thirds mark. Official figures of the Friend News Service credit Ramm with .368, as compared to .371 a week ago. Enjoying a highly prosperous and productive week, Centrall picked up a point to .355 with 10 hits in 27 tries, including two home runs, one a grand slammer, his second of the season.

Taking advantage of a slight slump by another member of the pace-setting Judges, Roland Stuckmeyer, Pine Bluff first baseman, eased into the No. 3 slot with .338, one less than a week ago.

Dick Adkins, Natchez manager and skipper of the Mississippi All-Stars, went on a batting spree to ease his mark up 11 points to .336 and fourth position. Harry Schwegman, Pine Bluff, did a twin drop—from his third place position he held so long to fifth, and from .339 to .334 at the dish. Frank Scarpace, still another of the outfit, who tied a league record hit hitting three homers in a regulation game July 13, has the same percentage, a gain of one dot. Arnold (Dutch) Funderburk, El Dorado slugger, is seventh at .331; Jim Gilbert, Natchez, eighth, .328; Chet Morgan, Clarksdale, .328, and Joe Parker, Greenwood, .328, to complete the upper 10 bracket.

Others within the select .300 circle include Allen Cross, Monroe, .324, Alex Cosmidis, Hot Springs, .321; Ray Coss, Monroe, .312; Jerry Lynch, Greenville, .310; Bob Kurtz, Pine Bluff, .309; Dan Phalen, Hot Springs, .309; Bob Barton, Greenville, .308; Wally Buerger, Greenville, .307; Tony Zini, Natchez, .301; and Harry Chozen, Pine Bluff pilot, .300.

Schwegman scored eight runs during the week and entered the century mark with 105. Eddie Sudol added a double to his list and took over that department. Ramm has the most hits, 132. Lynch's 11 triples still stand up. Adkins is the home run leader with 14, getting one during the week. Cantrell has 193 total bases and 101 runs batted in, a home run with the bases filled putting him over the 100-mark. Ramm has stolen 31 bases, only eight more than Greenwood's Danny Daun, who has 31. No one else is close to the pair of pilifers. Harville Jakes, El Dorado, is nearing the 100 figure in base on balls with 86.

Lilburn Smith, Greenville rookie, stole the pitching thunder from some of more illustrious moundsmen by winning three games in four days during the week. He now has won five in a row of his 6-3 record. Adam Stempkowski, Pine Bluff ace, recorded two triumphs during the period and jumped out in front in total wins with 14. He has dropped half that many. Cliff Coggin, Monroe's football playing pitcher who left for Los Angeles to join the pro pigskin Rams and then was permitted to rejoin the Sports, has a 12-5 record. George Locher, star of the Clarksdale Planters also has won 12 but his been reversed seven times.

Seven other flingers have won 10 games. Those who entered the group last week included Bob Picken, Pine Bluff (10-2); Bobby Johnson, Monroe, (10-2); Danny Caccavo, Hot Springs (10-5); Larry Fox, Natchez (10-5) and Everett (Cotton) Hill, Pine Bluff (10-7). Others who already had registered No. 10 included Rhyne Duren, Pine Bluff. Art Kenyon, Clarksdale, after dropping his first two starts, breezed through to successive shutout wins. He gave Greenwood only four hits, July 12, and El Dorado one less, July 17. Others who have hurled two whitewashings in succession include: Caccavo, R. L. Lurk and Billy Muffett, Monroe, and Earl Stephens. Duren leads the strikeouters with 147. Coggin has 139; Caccavo 122; Stempkowski 120.

The deadline for entries is August 1, and the event is open to all amateur softball teams in northeast Louisiana. Only the district winner will be qualified for the state championship tournament to be held at Alexandria.

Bugledrums Second, Jumbo Third; Favored Bernwood Is Poor Eighth

CHICAGO, July 22. —(AP)— To Market streaked to a five lengths victory in the $67,350 Arlington Futurity at Arlington Park today.

The victory was worth $56,215 to S. A. Mason, II, Richmond, Va., real estate operator, and owner of the winning Aristocratic two-year-old.

Bugledrums was second in this rich event, the nation's first futurity of the year, with Jumbo third. Sir Bee Bum finished fourth in a field of fourteen.

To Market, superbly ridden by Jockey Angel Rivera, sprinted the six furlongs in 1:13 3/5 over a slow, drying out track drenched earlier in the week by heavy rains.

The winner went to the post at odds of 5 to 1 and returned $13.40 $8.80 and $6.40. Bugledrums paid $11.00 to place and $7.20 to show. The show price on Jumbo, which ran with Here Me as an entry owned by Hal Price Headley, Lexington, Ky., was $8.40.

The hitherto undefeated Bernwood, the 2 to 1 favorite, finished eighth after showing early speed. Bernwood is owned by Brownell Combs also of Lexington.

The son of Market-Pretty Does by Johnstown—simply ran away from his field. To Market took the lead after the first 100 yards and galloped home with Jockey Rivera sitting almost straight up in the saddle.

The dull showing of Bernwood, which had won his only two races impressively, was a tremendous disappointment to the crowd of 23,037. Bernwood was in a contending spot on the rail early in the race, but tired plowing over the slow track.

To Market, which had come from behind to score nicely in his debut at Arlington July 14, was one of the easiest winners of the Arlington Futurity in years.

The winning time of the big chestnut colt was not impressive, but the Arlington racing strip was at least two seconds below par.

Mayflower Stakes Taken By Imarelic

BOSTON, July 22. —(AP)— The Woodvale farm's Imarelic, speedy two-year-old son of the great War Relic, scored a smashing three-length win over Irving Gushen's Fog A. Bolia and eight other juveniles in the 16th running of the Mayflower Stakes today before an 18,696 crowd at Suffolk Downs.

Imarelic, carrying 116 pounds with Ovie Scurlock aboard, took the lead at the half-mile pole and then ran as he passed while turning the five and a half furlongs in 1:05 2/5. The previously untested tea token, representing Collins and Crabbe, showed a half-length behind Fog A. Bolia.

Tea Token, a 13-1 longshot and the only filly in the race, got away in second place and held on gamely until she tired in the homestretch.

Imarelic, after going off as the favorite, paid $5.60, $3.60 and $2.80 while taking down the winner's $6,450 share of the purse, which was cut from $25,000 to $7,500 this year.

Fog A. Bolia paid $5.70 and $3.80 and Tea Token $6.00 for show.

A daily double payoff of $8.40, the smallest in the track's history, resulted when 6,650 combinations were sold on Plucky Boy and Smart Eve, favorite winners of the first two races.

Sunglow Finishes Fast To Claim Saranac Race

NEW YORK, July 22. —(AP)— Apparently beaten at the top of the stretch, Brookmeade stable's Sunglow came charging along the inside today to beat out the favored Lights Up by three-quarters of a length in the Saranac Handicap at Jamaica.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro was at his best in helping Sunglow to earn the $10,825 first money. The winner paid $6.40 and $2.50. Lights Up was $2.30 to place. There was no show betting because of the small field.

Bit O'Fate finished 3 1/2 lengths behind the place horse while Dooly, the only other starter, was far out of it.

Arcaro held back Sun Glow for most of the race. Then, at the top of the stretch, he let out the son of Sun Again-Rosern and he easily picked up Lights Up. He was timed in 1:43 3/5 for the mile and a sixteenth.

A crowd of 27,958 saw the 43rd running of the stake which featured the Saratoga-at-Jamaica card.

SNEAD LEADING IN MONEY

CHICAGO, July 22. —(AP)— The big titles may be eluding Slammin' Sammy Snead this season, but he has the fattest bank-roll by far of the touring professional golfers.

Snead, who didn't cut much of a figure in the National Open or the National P. G. A., has amassed $23,211 for the season, according to an official accounting today by the Professional Golfers Association of America.

That is nearly $10,000 more than the No. 2 cash-collector, Jimmy Demaret, who has $14,676. Other leaders going into this week's St. Paul open included Jim Ferrier, $13,646; Cary Middlecoff, $11,765; and Lloyd Mangrum, $10,668.

Snead also remained the Vardon Trophy leader and the sole sub-70 shooter with an average of 69.29 strokes per round. Likewise, Snead still heads the Ryder Cup team competition with 677 1/2 points.

OIL AND GAS NEWS

Oil Activity In Northeast Louisiana Is Slowed Down

Oil activity in Northeast Louisiana almost reached a standstill over the past week, it was indicated by the Conservation Department's report revealed here yesterday.

The report listed only one completion, the Monroe Drilling Company's and R. O. Ware's Dean, et al, No. 3 in 36-21-2E of the Monroe field, Union parish. The new well was gauged at 272 MCF.

Two other wells were abandoned. They were listed as:

The Honolulu Oil Corp. - S. L. Winston Estate No. 1 in 43-7-9E, of a wild cat field in Concordia parish.

The T. L. James Co., Inc.-J. T. Burden No. 1 in 36-23-2W of a wild cat field in Union parish.

New locations for the week were:

Catahoula Parish, wild cat field: Hunt Oil Co., et al, LaDelHdrLbr Co., Inc., et al, No. 24 in 23-4-5E.

Catahoula Parish, Saline Lake field: Hunt Oil Co., et al, LaDelHdrLbr Co., Inc., et al, No. 23, in 8-4-5E.

OIL OPERATIONS SLOW IN LASALLE

Placid Company Continues Work In Three Locations In Parish

JENA, La., July 22.—(Special)—No new operations were reported from LaSalle parish oil men this week in one of the dullest weeks in recent months. Placid Oil Company was continuing work on three locations and a Justiss-Mears Oil Company wildcat test in Catahoula parish was drilling ahead on schedule.

Placid reported that 806 feet of 10 and 3/4 inch surface pipe had been set in the Catahoula Lake bed test and that the operation was "WOC", with work to be continued until the well reaches some 4000 feet for a test of the Wilcox.

The well is in the State of Louisiana-Tensas Delta Land Company-Louisiana Delta Hardwood Lumber Company's Unit 1, Well 1 in the theoretical center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of Section 36, Township 7 north, Range 3 east.

Placid's workmen also were moving in rig for the test in the Olla field at the J. E. Harris-Louisiana Central Lumber Company's Unit 1, Well 1 in the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 13, Township 9 north, Range 3 east.

Placid's third operation, the Louisiana Central Lumber Company's No. 128 in Section 12, Township 9 north, Range 2 east, was waiting on orders after tests. The well was drilled to 3515 feet and casing set to 3506 feet. Tests were made in the 3353-56-foot level.

PREDICTS POLK WILL BE OPENED

Rep. Allen Addresses American Legion; McKenze Selected For Trip

ALEXANDRIA, La., July 22—(AP)—Rep. Leonard Allen (D.-La.) predicted today that Camp Polk at Leesville would be reactivated within the next month.

Speaking to the 32nd annual convention of the Louisiana Department of American Legion here today, Allen said one division—and maybe two—may be trained at Camp Polk.

George W. Rollosson of Crowley was elected to the presidency succeeding Howard T. Bond of New Orleans.

Dr. Malcolm Kaffie of Shreveport and William M. Burns, Jr., of Baton Rouge were elected grand chef de train.

Other officers elected include:

Dr. Paul Thibadeaux, Donaldsonville, grand uekgeein, H. L. Zeagler, Monroe, Grand grade de la porte; Joe Clark, Tallulah, and Frank Lynons, New Orleans, grand drapeurs; Stephen Guchereau, Lafayette, grand lampisteov; Howard T. Bond, New Orleans, cheminot nationale; Tracy Hendrix, Pineville, alternate cheminot nationale.

Charles E. McKenzie, of Monroe, former state commander, was selected to represent the Louisiana department at a conference at national headquarters in Indianapolis Sunday. The conference was called by National Commander George Craig to discuss the present Korean situation.

Mr. McKenzie left Alexandria shortly after noon Saturday for Indianapolis.

REPORT STATE

(AP)—The state department of conservation in its weekly oil report today listed completion of 22 wells with combined initial daily production of 3172.32 barrels, abandonment of 14 tests and issuance of permits for 53 new wells.

Completions were:

painting watch - dials with radium. And cancer of the nose and pharynx is high among miners working with nickel and cobalt.

A tapeworm, cysticercus, apparently is involved in much cancer of the liver in the eastern Mediterranean countries and a wide belt across Asia. A parasite, bilharzia, is blamed for the high rate of bladder cancer among Egyptian field workers.

Light-skinned people constantly exposed to the sun often get skin cancer. Melanoma, or black cancer involving the chemicals that color and darken the skin, seems most common among persons who don't tan.

Modern toilet training of children, and regular adult schedules too, may account for some rectal and bladder cancers in humans, Dr. Cameron said. Little rectal cancer is found among primitive African tribesmen who move their bowls after every meal, or whenever they feel the need.

Human studies like these teach much about how to avoid possible causes of cancer, and cut down the number of victims, Dr. Cameron said.

A cancer meeting in Oxford, Eng., July 29-Aug. 4 will probe why geography so often turns up wide and startling differences in the amount and type of human cancers.

TURNING POINT

tiveness of Wonsan, the Communists' main port on the east coast of Korea, and have temporarily halted rail traffic south of Seoul, South Korean capital now in Communist hands.

Naval gunfire wiped out the town of Yongdok on the Korean east coast and set up its recapture by American and South Korean troops. These U. S. and British naval guns apparently have halted a threatening Red drive down the east coast.

Two reinforcing U. S. divisions, with heavy guns, engineering equipment and vehicles, have landed in Korea without enemy challenge.

Airfields are being built to increase the flying range of allied planes.

Two secure beachheads are the open funnel for arriving supplies.

The ground campaign has not been won yet by any means. Enemy frontal attacks on the western front must be stopped. So must two strong encirclement drives which are apparently aimed at throwing a wide pincers around the Americans below Taejon.

But U. S. field headquarters in Korea reflects confidence that there now is adequate American manpower at hand to break the Communists most effective strategy, which is the clever use of superior numbers to combine frontal pressure with flanking and infiltration thrusts.

U.S. POPULATION

Florida, Indiana, Michigan Oregon, Texas, and Washington likely to gain one.

Dr. A. Ross Eckler, deputy director of the census bureau, said in noting these figures that on the basis of returns from this year's census the greatest changes from the estimates are likely to occur in the Pacific Northwest — which did not pick up as much population as estimated two years ago—and in the south, which ran ahead of estimates.

Since the membership of the house of representatives is expected to remain the same as now—435—census bureau officials figure that there will be one representative for each 344,000 persons, as compared to one for each 301,000 persons at present.

This gives states a rough rule of thumb for figuring their representation, although it is not necessarily 100 per cent accurate. States having fewer than 344,000 persons get one representative anyway.

The figures announced today were just preliminary totals. The final figure will be reached by the census bureau some time before December 1, on which date the secretary of commerce must send them to President Truman.

The president will pass the figures on to congress, probably later that month. The exact totals will not be known until then.

The state-by-state figures—most of which had previously been released by census offices across the country—show California to be the biggest gainer in population, both in totals and in the percentage of increase since 1940.

California gained 3,535,000 persons in the 10-year period, for an increase of 51.6 per cent over its 1940 population of 6,907,387. While New York ranked second in number of persons gained—1,264,000—its percentage increase was relatively slight: 9.4 per cent.

The surge in California's population—which was reflected by gains throughout the Pacific far west generally—brought it from fifth place among the states in 1940 to second place this year, with 10,472,348 persons compared with third-place Pennsylvania's 10,436,965.

Officials emphasized, however, that these figures are not final. They said the possibility cannot be ruled out that California will slip back one notch in the standings when the totals have been rechecked and the 700,000 transients and sailors properly assigned.

In all, just five states showed decreases in population in a period when the population of the nation as a whole was jumping almost 19,000,000. The losers were Arkansas, which slipped two per cent from 1940 to a 1,900,246 total; Mississippi, down one percent to 2,171,106; Nebraska, minus .5 per cent to 1,308,394; North Dakota, down four per cent to 616,185; and Oklahoma, which dropped .3 per cent to 2,230,253.

Big percentage gains were registered among some of the states with the smallest numerical population. Arizona, which ranks 11 states from the end of the list in numerical size, was second only to California in the percentage increase since 1940.

Arizona's population rose 48.7 per cent in the 10 years, from 499,261 to about 742,364.

Nevada, the nation's smallest state in terms of population, showed a 43.7 per cent increase—from 110,247 in 1940 to 158,378.

Other big gainers: Florida, up 44.1 per cent to a total of 2,734,806; Oregon, up 38.6 per cent to 2,510,148; Washington, up 36 per cent to 2,361,261; Maryland, up 27 per cent to 2,322,657; New Mexico, up 27.3 per cent to 677,099.

yesterday favors boosting taxes immediately to finance this country's Korean war cost and general defense effort. O'Mahoney said he personally is for at least a 10 per cent increase in income taxes.

The joint committee, O'Mahoney reported, wants taxes on both individuals and corporations increased at this time.

George noted that the joint committee is simply an advisory group, and that the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee actually are responsible for handling of tax legislation.

"I don't think it would be wise to undertake writing a tax bill at this time because we don't know the magnitude of the need as yet," George said.

CHAMPION BOAT

July 30. The classes of boats which will participate are the small A-type hydroplanes, and the large C-type service hydroplanes. Each will race two heats.

Entrance blanks have been received from Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, North Carolina, and Louisiana. Registration for entrants will be held at 10 a.m. July 30 at the Monroe Boat Club, 712 South Grand street.

Officials for the races are as follows: Referee, Herbert Scales, Dallas, Tex.; chief timer, S. C. Strausser, Monroe; chief starter, S. C. Willis, Dallas, Tex.; chief scorer, H. M. James, Monroe; chief motor inspector, T. J. Schnitzius, Dallas, Tex.; pit manager, Gene Lutz, Monroe; surveyor, Howard Griffin, Monroe.

Boswell Will Speak At Corney Lake Aug. 3

R. L. Boswell, vice-president of the National Association of Soil Conservation districts, will be on the list of main speakers when D'Arbonne soil conservationists stage their annual meeting at Corney Lake Aug. 3.

E. T. Powell, chairman of the board of directors of the D'Arbonne district, said Congressman Otto Passman is also expected to address attendants of the meeting.

In addition to Boswell and Passman, the president of the Louisiana Bankers' Association, R. L. Bolton, will give an address.

SHIVERS AHEAD

from lists of precinct, county, district, state and congressional candidates.

Speaker Sam Rayburn was one of eight congressmen without opposition. Twelve incumbent Democrats had one or more opponents. In the Panhandle, four Democrats sought the nomination for the post now held by a Republican.

The first report from the election bureau, an unofficial votegathering co-operative of Texas newspapers and radio stations, showed LeRoy LaMaster of Perryton in the lead in the Panhandle's 18th congressional district. The returns obviously were fragmentary, however.

LaMaster had 121 votes to 113 for Walter Rogers of Pampa. Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo had 81 and J. Blake Timmons of Amarillo 55.

The winner will face Ben Guill, Texas' only Republican representative, in the November general elections. He beat these four Democrats and six others in a special election last May after Eugene Worley resigned from the house to be a federal judge. He received a plurality, not a majority, in the sudden-death election.

Korean fighting had dulled interest in most campaigns. A heavier turnout than predicted was attributed to some local races which sharpened interest. Possibly a million votes were cast in this state which requires a poll tax.

The major cities of Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas all reported turnouts heavier than anticipated.

The governor's race held the spotlight. Shivers, 42, was lieutenant governor when the death of Gov. Beauford H. Jester July 10, 1949, put him into the top office.

He had limited his campaign, generally ,to addresses before ready made audiences such as luncheon clubs and conventions. March, 39, had stumped the state vigorously. It was his third try for the office. He held the endorsement of both A. F. L. and C. I. O.

An unofficial tabulation at 1 p.m. (CST) today showed Shivers leading March 5,291 to 1,446 in heavily industrialized Harris county (Houston) the report was from 124 of 171 precincts.

Texas has a voting strength this year of more than 1,600,000.

Victory in the Democratic primary today—or in the second primary Aug. 26 if run-offs are necessary—generally's tantamount to election in Democratic Texas.

J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture since 1931, had more votes than three opponents combined in the early unofficial Houston tabulation. The state Democratic executive committee had sought to keep McDonald's name off the ballot on grounds of "party disloyalty." He obtained a supreme court order forcing his name on the ballot.

Four candidates in the Texas Panhandle contested for the right to meet Texas' only Republican congressman, Ben Guill of Pampa in the November general election.

They were Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo, Walter E. Rogers of Pampa, Pete LaMaster of Perryton and J. Blake Timmons of Amarillo.

Guill won his post in a special election last May to fill a seat left vacant when Rep. Worley (D.-Tex.) was appointed to the United States court of customs and patents appeals. Guill received a plurality, all that was necessary to win the special election, over a field of 10 Democrats.

REDS THREATEN

and attack us here in Formosa. How doe we know?"

This source, insisting on anonymity, said that in the past the Nationalists had been able to break up such Red concentrations by air and sea attacks but that now Washington had the say.

(Whereabouts of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, which is patrolling the Formosa straits, is not known. The fleet apparently, however, has kept well clear of the Communist mainland.)

Before the Quemoy developments, the Nationalists Saturday chose the mimeographed English-language China news to warn the Formosan public that danger of an invasion of Formosa still existed.

The China news said it had learned from reliable sources that the Reds were feverishly preparing for an attack on Formosa and declared, "the security of the island should not be overestimated nor too much reliance put on United States navy support."

At the same time, Nationalist authorities closed the beach of Tansui. It is northwest of Taipei and is in an area considered the best possible landing site for hostile forces.

The whole situation posed a question both difficult and delicate.

F. K. Hirsch on the phone. And he stated in explanation.

"Someone has moved the synagogue over to West Monroe and put a Gentile in charge! Just look at the church page in last Sunday's World. It says:

"JEWISH TEMPLE B'NAI ISRAEL
1401 Cypress
J. C. Grubbs, Pastor."

"Please put the Temple back in Monroe", he pleaded, "and see that the right name is carried for the rabbi."

For the reader's information, a line or lines fell out of the page of type and when replaced they got in a mix which caused the excitement in clerical ranks.

A Monroe pastor loaned us the following and if they are from such a source they may be known to be absolutely devoid of falsehood. He said a certain Monroe pastor had a daughter who was engaged to be married. One day the daughter approached her mother with: "Mother, I don't think I should marry John. He tells me he does not believe there is a Hell. As we are church people it looks like I ought not to marry him." But her mother said;;

"Daughter, just go ahead and marry him and he will soon believe there is a Hell on earth."

And the other yarn told by a Monroe preacher referred to two men who were out at Horseshoe Lake fishing on a Sunday. One of the men pulled out his watch as he sat on the pier watching his fish pole and said: "It is just five minutes to 11. We ought to be at church right now." But said his companion, "But I wouldn't go if I were there for my wife is sick."

Members and pledges of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity held a party Saturday night in the Cajun Room at the Rendezvous from 6 to 8 p.m. Present as guests were members of the fraternity from L. S. U. Louisiana Tech and Centenary together with alumni from the Monroe area. Serving as co-chairmen for the occasion were Albert Ford and Guy Elliot.

Upon request of Rotary members we publish elsewhere in today's World, a complete address of Dr. E. K. Means, highly revered and brilliant former Methodist pastor of the Monroe First Methodist Church, who appeared before Rotary Thursday. He entitled the talk "We Don't Give A Damn" somewhat unusual topic for a pastor, but he drove home a forceful message that every red-blooded American should read and be governed accordingly.

Male Fishermen beware! You may have a rival here! Mrs. Z. Flaherty, 300 Layton avenue, on Saturday morning at Black Bayou, landed a six-pound bass, using a casting rod. Some of you men had better whip up alittle speed or be left far behind!

forces to determine just what direction they would take on their expected next offensive push to the south and southeast. Identity of the American reinforcements was not disclosed.

(It seemed likely however that elements of the first cavalry (infantry) division or possibly the 25th tropic lightning infantry division had)been rushed west to fill in gaps in the ranks of the valiant 24th division).

In 13 days of grim battling for time, the 24th division — outnumbered at times 20-to-1—had yielded 70 miles in five major retreats. The last and bloodiest retreat was from Taejon, where the 24th held for three days. Orders called for a 2-day stand if possible.

It was at Taejon that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, divisional commander last was seen personally directing a bazooka tank - killer squad during withdrawal operations Thursday. He was wounded in the action. How seriously was not known.

General MacArthur notified the army in Washington that Dean was missing in action. He expressed hope that the 50-year-old general officer, decorated repeatedly for bravery in world war two, had not fallen into enemy hands.

"High hopes exist," said MacArthur, "that he will return with one of the groups of separated personnel frequently returning to their units."

More than 200 stragglers cut off during fierce house-to-house fighting in Taejon have made their way back to American lines since the city fell. Most of them belonged to the 34th infantry regiment of the 24th division. Many were wounded and all were near exhaustion. Some had lost even their shoes and clothing in the retreat.

A regimental commander who led his men out of flaming Taejon told Associated Press correspondent O. H. P. King that the North Koreans must have lost 3,000 men killed in the assault on Taejon.

"They had a total disregard for life," the commander said. "So many men kept coming at us that eventually we were overwhelmed. But I am sure they are worse off in victory than we are in defeat."

General MacArthur noted that lack of information on the sixth North Korean division "gives credence" to indications the division is being used as replacements for the first and other North Korean divisions."

The communique added: "This report also substantiates the possibilities of heavy casualties inflicted by American forces in the all-out battle for Taejon."

The North Koreans were filtering down the west coast of Korea, some 50 miles southwest of fallen Taejon. MacArthur denied, however, that the railroad town of Imsil, 50-miles southwest of Taejon, had fallen.

Headquarters said, "contrary to previous reports Imsil is still in U. S. and South Korean hands and constant contact is being maintained with Communist forces in that area."

In the central sector American Negro troops of the 25th division held Yechon — a village some 60 miles north of the important American-South Korean road and rail hub at Taegu.

Yechon was captured and lost four times within the last two days, the communique said, in furious see-saw fighting. Originally between the North and South Koreans.

Airmen of the fifth airforce, in addition to strafing the marshalling yards at Taejon, reported six tanks, three trucks and three vehicles were damaged while 14 railroad cars, two trucks and two vehicles were destroyed. A total of 92 sorties were flown.

Bomber command of the Far East air forces, concentrating on strategic superfortress bombing behind enemy lines, smashed railroad bridges and railroad yards at Pyongyang, North Korean capital. Results were "good to excellent" on 22 B-29 missions, FEAF said.

Naval forces swept the east coast to prevent Red sea and land movements.

In an unsubstantiated claim, the Red radio at Pyongyang claimed that Kumje, 48 miles southwest of Taejon, was occupied Friday with U. S. prisoners and war booty captured.

VOTERS TO CAST

dy R. Wall, of West Monroe, state representative and Archie Estess, a Jonesboro attorney.

The same voting places as have been utilized in the past will be in use Tuesday. Polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Absentee voting which was reported to have been fairly heavy in Ouachita parish during the past week was closed at 5 p.m. Saturday.

In Ouachita parish wards 2 and 3 will elect candidates to the parish school board. Those competing for seats in ward 2 are Frank H. Wuichet, J. L. Walker, Jr., Warren E. Tom Palmer, incumbent, and Clifford Burney. In ward 3, B. A. Tarver, Miss Juanita Porter and Marcus Swayze are seeking election to the board.

Dr. B. E. Spencer of ward 1, was elected to the school board without opposition.

Of the total registration figures in the fifth district, 4,687 Negroes are eligible to vote. Seven parishes in this district, Catahoula, West Carroll, Tensas, Franklin, East Carroll, Madison and Concordia, had no Negro registration.

Registration figures in each of the parishes in the fifth district are as follows: Ouachita 21,800; Catahoula, 3,694; Jackson 5,823; Caldwell 3,464; West Carroll 4,959; Tensas 1,814; Morehouse 6,900; Union 7,500; Richland 5,753; Franklin 7,000; East Carroll 2,144; Madison 2,421; Concordia 2,420; Lincoln 6,155.

Ouachita Parish Boy Hurt On Highway 80

A 13-year-old Ouachita parish boy was injured late yesterday afternoon when a car struck him 10 miles east of Monroe on U. S. Highway 80.

The youth, Franklin McQuiller, son of Mrs. L. E. Kizer, was taken to the Charity hospital by a Mulhearn ambulance. The attending physician listed injuries to young McQuiller as multiple bruises and lacerations. His condition was not considered serious, the doctor said.

According to witnesses, the youth was riding a bicycle when he was hit by the car. Driver of the car had not been identified late last night.

Man Reported Drowned In River Near Bosco

Emergency crewmen of the Monroe fire department late last night were dragging the Ouachita river near Bosco, La. or the body of a man, believed to be a Negro, who was reported to have drowned late yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, said the incident occurred, according to reports, just acros the Ouachita parish line in Caldwell parish.

The firemen were sent to the scene upon their return from Swampers, La., where they had been summoned to drag for the body of a ten-year-old youth, Thomas Jinks.

HALF OF LOUISIANA VOTES

BATON ROUGE, La., July 22.—(AP)—Where is the vote coming from in next Tuesday's senatorial and congressional primary?

Largely from the cities, if the registration figures are a safe guide. Predominantly from south Louisiana, because that is where the bulk of the state's population lives.

Orleans (New Orleans), Jefferson (New Orleans suburbs), Caddo (Shreveport), East Baton Rouge (Baton Rouge), Calcasieu (Lake Charles), Rapides (Alexandria), Ouachita (Monroe) and Lafayette, together have a population of 1,311,410. That is not quite half the state's total—49.1 per cent. But these same parishes have 419,857 registered voters, well over half the state's total—51.7 per cent.

LA. RESERVES TO BE CALLED

Navy To Start Issuing Orders Monday For All Types Of Ratings

NEW ORLEANS, July 22.—(AP)—The eighth naval district today announced it will start sending orders next Monday to some members of organized surface units of the naval reserve to report for active duty.

The district includes Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Orders for officers will be sent directly from Washington. Orders for enlisted men will be sent from district headquarters here to their unit commanders. All types of ratings will be called. The navy could not say how many officers and men would receive orders.

Meanwhile, the Louisiana military district said it had received no call from higher headquarters ordering army reservists from th state to active duty.

Deaths

MRS. BESSIE STANLEY

OLLA, La., July 22.—(Special)—The funeral of Mrs. Bessie Stanley, 64, mother of Mrs. Noah Randle, who died in a Shreveport hospital, was held in the Raden Funeral Home chapel in Kilgore, Texas after which the body was taken to the Stanley cemetery near Glenmore for interment last Saturday.

She was a native of Louisiana and had resided in Olla for years. For the past eight years she had resided in Laird Hill, Tex., where she was a member of the Baptist Church and was highly regarded by a wide circle of friends.

She leaves eight children: Mrs. W. G. Roberts, Laird Hill; Mrs. N. W. Randle, Olla; Mrs. F. L. Hatley, Texarkana; Mrs. R. C. Carlton, Galveston; Mrs. Z. T. Washburn, Kigore; Mrs. J. J. Charry, Bossier City; M. L. Stanley, Shreveport; Edgar Stanley, Spokane; and 11 grandchildren and several brothers and sisters.

MRS. MAGGIE LETT

Mrs. Maggie Lett, 80, died Saturday morning in a local hospital. Mrs. Lett had made her home for the past four years with her son Charlie Lett at 711 Wood street West Monroe.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. in Coffeeville, Kansas, at the family cemetery.

She is survived by three sons; Charlie Lett, West Monroe; Sig Lett, West Monroe; Eddie Lett, Monroe; five daughters: Mrs. Lela Mize, California; Mrs. Jannie Collins, California; Mrs. Marie Collins, Kansas; Mrs. Ethel Walker, Oklahoma; Mrs. Ella Anderson, Oklahoma.

LORENZA WILLIAMS

DELHI, La., July 22.—(Special)—Funeral services for Lorenza D. Williams, 85, who died at the Delhi Clinic Friday night following an illness of six weeks, will be conducted Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Fellowship Baptist Church near Dubach. The Rev. O. O. Bryan, of Lake Providence, will officiate at the services and interment, under the direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home, will follow in the Fellowship Cemetery.

Prior to his death, Mr. Williams made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Ed Ragus, at Transylvania, La.

He is survived by four sons, H. P. Williams, Winnsboro; Grady Williams, of San Francisco, Calif., Renford Williams, of Tendall, La., and A. T. Williams, of Conroe, Texas; five daughters, Mrs. Lillian Colvin, of Dubach, Mrs. Murle McAdams and Mrs. Mable Ragus, both of Transylvania, Mrs. Irma Antley, of Epps, and Mrs. Louise Cox, of Colfax, La., and a brother, Commodore Williams, of Tallulah.

JIM AND KENT BREARD

Jim and Kent Breard, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Breard, died shortly after birth yesterday afternoon.

Private funeral services will be conducted at the Mulhearn Funeral Home with the Rev. A. M. Serex, officiating. Interment will follow in the Riverview Cemetery.

Besides their parents, the twins are survived by a sister, Sally Breard; their maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Q. Graves, and their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Breard.

Pallbearers will be John Theus, Jr. and King Stubbs.

R. R. FULLER, SR.

R. R. Fuller, a life-long resident of Ouachita parish, died yesterday afternoon in a Monroe hospital. He was 67.

Funeral services will be conducted at the family residence at Calhoun at 3 p.m. today with the Rev. E. M. Maseur, assisted by the Rev. James L. Beasley, officiating. Interment, under the direction of the Kilpatrick Funeral Home, of Farmerville, will follow in the Brownlee Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene Fuller; a son, R. R. Fuller, Jr., of Calhoun; two sisters, Mrs. Addie Fuller, also of Calhoun, and Mrs. Lottie Smith, of Port Arthur, Texas, and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be: Frank Golson, Jr., Ross Golson, Pat Henry Wright, Paul K. Wright, J. Y. Barnes and Ewell Camp.

Ex-German Agent Tells Of Russia's Plan Of Battle

Also Gives Description Of Armed Forces And Military Equipment

By Clarke Beach

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—A former German espionage agent claims he has obtained information about the opening moves planned by Russia in case of war against the western powers.

He described them recently in a series of articles in the newspaper Die Zeit of Hamburg, Germany. He also gave what he said were detailed descriptions of the Russian armed forces and military equipment.

The articles have been translated by the congressional library for the information of congress and government intelligence agencies.

No American officials vouch for them, but military experts have found them of great interest and deem them worth studying.

Die Zeit is one of the oldest and best regarded newspapers in Germany. The articles are signed "Nikolaus Eck." The editor of Die Zeit told the Associated Press this is a pen name used by the writer for the security of himself and his sources. The editor said Russian agents have called on him attempting to learn the identity of the writer.

This is Nikolaus Eck's story.

In case of war the first Russians push will come from Thuringia, the German province in the southwest section of the Russian occupation zone. A powerful force of tank divisions is stationed there. They will leap ahead in wedge-shaped formation northwest towards the Rhine river to separate the British and United States occupation forces.

The Thuringia forces are a part of the Russians' midwest army group, under the command of Marshal Rossokovski, who is also commander of Polish military forces.

The mission of this army group will be to advance to the Atlantic and form the southern arm of a pincers around the Baltic sea.

The northern arm of the pincers will be formed by the northwest army group, under Marshal Voroshilov. Now stationed in the area from Leningrad to Murmansk, it will advance to the Atlantic through the Scandanavian countries.

The strategic plan here is to seize the entire Baltic area, to prevent the western powers from entering the sea and to enable Russia to use it as a base for submarine operations.

Two other army groups in the south will at the same time clamp a pincers around the Turkish straits. The purpose of that will be to prevent western naval forces from entering the Black sea and to assure Russian naval forces access to the Mediterranean sea so that they can cut allied communication lines to the middle east oil sources.

Seizure of the Mediterranean area also would swallow up the big near eastern air fields, from which allied bombers could attack Russian oil fields of the Caucasus and the Volga river valley and the industrial and military targets in the Ukraine.

The south army group will move into Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Arabia. Stationed now on the Black and Caspian seas, it is under Marshal Bagramian.

The northern pincers on the straits will be closed by the southwest army group, advancing through the Balkans and into Italy. It is now in the Ukraine and is probably commanded by Marshal Zhukov.

The central Asia group, now stationed in Turkestan under Marshal Timoshenko, has the mission of advancing through Afghanistan to India.

The remaining unit, the Siberian army group, under Marshal Malinovski, will remain on the defensive, protecting the east coast and leaving the Far East offensive to the Chinese Communists.

It is unlikely that the Soviets will undertake any large scale amphibious operations against Japan or North America in the foreseeable future. They lack sufficient transport vessels and surface warships for escort.

In the Arctic the Soviet plan is simply to remain on the defensive, keeping open their "great Arctic sea route" from the Atlantic to the Pacific five months a year.

Russian surface naval strength is concentrated primarily in the Baltic and Black seas. Among 110 vessels in the Baltic are eight cruisers and the old Czarist battleship October Revolution.

Another battleship, Sovjetskij Sojus, is being constructed at Leningrad. Two more , Sovjetskaja Belorussija and Strana Sovjetov, are nearing completion at Archangel, on the White sea. They are 30-knot ships and are reputed to have ramps for V-weapons in addition to 30 guns.

In the Black sea are 73 ships, including three cruisers and two obsolete battleships, useful only as floating coastal artillery.

GULF ERECTS NEW STATION

West Monroe Is To Be Home Of Gulf Refining Company's New $20,000 Station

Construction began this week on Gulf Refining Company's new $20,000 service station now being erected in West Monroe near the new traffic bridge.

The contractor, Riley Construction Company, of El Dorado, Ark., is expected to complete the building within the next 90 days.

The station which is to be 51 by 84 feet will contain a sales office, storage room, three rest rooms, a Gulf lubrication bay and washing bay.

The building is being constructed on a large vacant lot bordered by Bridge, Mills, Cypress and Cotton streets which was formerly the site of Parnell Gin before it burned.

A representative of Gulf Refining Company pointed out that the new station will have a hydrolic truck lift, two dual pumps and a 10,000 gallon storage tank.

A parking area of 20,000 square feet will be allowed for in back of the station.

The modern station will be finished in stucco and is being constructed of masonry. When completed it is expected to be one of the largest stations in West Monroe.

Air Reserve Units To Be Called Monday

WASHINGTON, July 22. —(AP)—Some air force reserve units and some units of the air national guard are expected to be called to active duty soon, probably Monday.

However, beyond saying that it will have a statement Monday regarding reserve units and the national guard, the air force declined to give out any information on the subject today.

Calling on individual members of the air force reserve to active duty has already begun. The air force has said that the individuals being ordered to duty are those with immediately usable skills.

There are about 104,500 officers and men in reserve units of the air force and about 45,000 in the air national guard.

About 40,500 of the reservists are in units of the organized reserve. They receive pay for attending regular classes or drills. In addition, 64,000 volunteer reservists are also in units. When not on active duty they do not receive pay but, by attending classes, qualify for retirement benefits and promotions.

The air national guard includes 84 tactical squadrons, of which 72 are fighters and 12 light bombers. In addition to the tactical squadrons, it embraces many support units.

POLITICS AND RIDICULE

West Monroe, La., July 21, 1950

To the Editor:

This is not to be regarded as a political message as I am not a politician. As most mothers are—I am a plain, simple woman. My greatest interests centers about my home and children.

As a woman, I hesitated about writing this to you, but as both mother and father, I knew that I must. My husband passed away when my children were very young, Shady being only four years old.

All three of my sons served overseas during the last war, leaving me on the farm alone. My oldest son served over three years in the South Pacific, Shady and my youngest son saw combat in Europe; my youngest son did not return. One of them could have been deferred to run our farm, if he had so chosen, but none of them so chose and I did not wish them to.

I want to help my son Shady to become congressman, because I know that he will honestly help you and do everything possible to make you glad that you elected him.

Don't you agree with Emerson who said, "A person censors God when he finds faults and imperfections in another person." So I am not writing this message to point out any imperfections or faults or secret sins of my son's opponents—if they have any. I've always felt that a person who says unkind things, or ridicules his fellow man, actually destroys the golden thread that binds him to humanity.

We have not fulfilled our duty to life until we have fulfilled that of being fair. So I want to be fair to my son Shady's opponents. I am not writing this to ridicule one of them as he has attempted to ridicule my son Shady, privately marks about my son Shady's picture, I only say that Shady is as good and fine a young man as his picture portrays him to be. Shady has not personally attacked either of his opponents and will not do so, for which I am very proud.

AWOL SOLDIER JOINS BATTLE

By Max Desfors

AN AMERICAN COMMAND POST IN KOREA, July 22.—(AP)—A soldier from Texas, handy with a .45 pistol, shot a Korean sniper dead on a flaming street in Taejon Thursday and probably saved a life in our party of newsmen and photographers.

The soldier, Pvt. Reuben K. Kimball, of Baytown, Tex., was A. W. O. L. from a rear area. He said he and two buddies from the same area had taken a jeep and gone to the front to join in the fight.

SOLONS TO GET KOREAN BUDGET

Truman Expected To Release Blue-Print Of $10 Billion Program Tuesday

WASHINGTON, July 22. —(AP)—President Truman plans to send congress next Tuesday a blueprint of his $10,000,000,000 program to help fight the Korean war and guard against Communist aggression elsewhere.

It will be in the form of a detailed request for the huge appropriation designed to carry out partial mobilization of the nation's military strength. The White House said today the president hoped to have it ready by Tuesday.

On Wednesday the nation may get the first official tip-off on the extent of the new taxes which will be asked to finance the $10,000,000,000 program — and the additional billions which will be sought later.

On that day the president will send to congress the mid-year economic report of his council of economic advisers, along with an economic message of his own.

These are expected to give, not only official views on the state of the national economy, but on the control steps necessary to safeguard it from inflation.

While congress members prepared today to tackle the heavy legislative tasks ahead, one of their number warned that the program of partial mobilization is not enough.

"We must face up to an all-out mobilization," Senator Lyndon Johnson (D.-Tex.), member of the senate armed services committee, told a reporter.

"The sooner we do it the better. We have started in the right direction but we're taking too much time to screw up our courage to do necessary things.

"This is not a 30-day war nor a 60-day war that we are in now. This is a long and continuing struggle against Communism. It may last one year—or several years.

"We must immediately produce more tanks, airplanes and ammunition. That will mean fewer luxury automobiles, household appliances and similar civil items."

The congressional schedule for the next few days is a busy one. Senate and house banking committees will open public hearings Monday on a broad-termed system of controls and allocations prepared at the White House and titled "defense production act of 1950."

Both house and senate leaders were certain of quick final passage this week of two measures for building up strength of the fighting forces. One, allowing the president to extend all enlistments one year, already has sped through the senate without objection. The president now has authority to call and hold officers in both regular and reserve forces.

The other would removee the present manpower ceilings of just above 2,000,000 from the army, air force navy and marines.

House leaders scheduled quick passage of both for Tuesday and senate leaders may act on the extra duty bill by or before then.

The next military legislation asked for by Chairman Tydings (D.-Md.) of the senate armed services committee is a revival of the wartime "family support allowances" for all service men.

Congress ordered these benefits to taper off in 1948 but they cost $250,000,000 for the last year even though the armed forces were only a fraction of wartime strength. Revival of the family support allowances used during the last war would cost billions if the armed forces are built up rapidly.

After that Tydings said congress must revise the draft act extension which was tailored to fit peacetime conditions. At present, the policy is to draft only young men from 19 through 25 years without dependents.

Deferments are too liberal, Tydings said. Other lawmakers have been talking about raising the upper age limits, possibly as high as 35 years.

Sharp Drop Reported For U. S. Oil Output

TULSA, July 22. — (AP) — The upward trend of the nation's crude oil production stopped during the week ended July 15, the oil and gas journal said.

After 10 consecutive weeks of increases, the daily average production dropped 4,525 barrels to 5,403,425 barrels for the week, the journal reported.

The largest decline was in Kansas, where output fell 12,000 barrels to 277,600.

Other large drops were in Illinois, off 4,500 barrels to 172,400; Indiana, down 1,700 to 30,000; Colorado, 900 to 59,200, and Kentucky, 800 to 28,400.

Alabama decreased 350 barrels to 1,500, the eastern fields were down 100 to 62,500 Florida was off 25 to 1,500 and Michigan dropped 200 to 39,600.

Only two states showed major gains—Oklahoma, up 9,550 barrels to 443,450, and Mississippi, up 5,100 to 111,300. For both states the figures were 1950 highs.

Other increases were in Arkansas, up 50 barrels to 79,850; California up 500 to 883,500; Louisiana, 50 to 563,600; Montana, 200 to 22,100; Nebraska, 350 to 2,450; Utah, 50 to 3,600, and Wyoming, 200 to 158,400.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,329,900 barrels, and New Mexico, 132,575.

M'Carthy Plans To Continue Criticism

APPLETON, Wis., July 22.—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R. - Wis.) plans to continue his criticism of the foreign relations sub-committee's report that he had failed to prove his charges of Communists in the government.

McCarthy, home for the weekend, said in an interview he intended to read what he described as secret state department papers on the senate floor Monday.

PRICE TREND IN MEAT DOWNWARD

'Panicky Buying' Apparently Easing Off And Supply Plentiful

CHICAGO, July 22.—(AP)—The present price trend in meat is downward, says the American meat institute, after "panicky buying" had caused some meat prices to skyrocket.

The institute said the "panicky buying" started when the Korean "situation developed." It added:

"Now, however, this pressure—and that caused by people who rushed to fill freezer lockers, etc.—has lessened and the present price trend is downward, especially on popular pork loins and some of the less popular but equally nuthe nation's meat packing industry,

The institute, which represents tritious cuts of other meats. added that "this is the season when meats always are in under-supply, so we do not know what the immediate future holds."

But it said that the future supply situation appears to be "bright indeed and sufficient to meet normal requirements."

"Consumers can keep it this way if they will buy meat as they need it and avoid over-buying, especially of the fancier cuts."

The biggest peacetime pork crop in history is in the markets, the institute said, and added that 34 per cent more cattle now are on feed than a year ago.

Some meat packers, the institute said, have "cracked down on potential profiteers" in canned meats.

"There is no present shortage in canned meats, nor is a shortage apparent for the foreseeable future," the institute declared.

Americans In Japan Told To Cut War Talk

TOKYO, July 22. —(AP)— Americans in Japan were told today to button their lips on war talk.

"Self-imposed censorship is urgently required of all members of the occupation" because of the Korean war," said a headquarters announcement issued to all army units.

The pages of the army newspaper Stars and Stripes carry liberal sprinklings of phrases familiar during World War Two, such as "don't discuss troop movements," "T-A-L-K is another spelling for murder," "Don't spread rumors."

The headquarters order emphasized that "discussion of military matters in public, over the telephone, or even in small private conversations is potentially dangerous. The repetition of usually small baseless rumors may be equally harmful."

Homeless Indians Storm Swanky Palace

BOMBAY, India, July 22.—(AP)—Three hundred homeless persons stormed the palace of the Maharajah of Gwalior today and squatted for an hour in its luxurious drawing room. Police then rushed the palace and cleared them out, arresting 200 in the process.

The Maharajah was away and the gates were locked out but the squatters scaled the walls.

OKLA. ELECTION RUN-OFF TUESDAY

Democratic U. S Senate Nomination At Stake In Oklahoma Election

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 22.—(AP)—Rep. Mike Monroney and white-haired Sen. Elmer Thomas, who staged a nip-and-tuck primary battle three weeks ago, meet again Tuesday in Oklahoma's run-off election for the Democratic U. S. senate nomination.

Thomas, chairman of the senate agriculture committee and military affairs sub-committee, trailed Monroney, fifth district congressman, 14,653 votes July 4. Both left in the middle of the run-off campaign to return to Washington because of the Korean crisis.

State voters also will pick the Democratic nominees for governor, two congressional posts and a handful of state offices.

Both the senate and governor races have become bitter since the first election.

Thomas's friends, startled by the senator trailing in a primary race for the first time, have re-doubled their efforts to reelect him to his fifth term.

Monroney's advisors retained confidence that the congressman's lead provided a winning psychology. They also believe that Thomas gathered his maximum vote in the second primary.

The Rev. Bill Alexander, Republican nominee for senator, and Jo Ferguson, GOP gubernatorial nominee, won without a runoff in the first primary.

More than 500,000 persons voted in the first primary, a surprisingly large turn-out for the holiday election. The vote is expected to be less this time but the bitterness of each contest may entice a large turnout.

Johnston Murray, 48-year old son of former Gov. William H (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, held a wide lead of 88,000 votes over his run-off opponent, William O. Coe, in the first election.

Coe has campaigned hard on Murray's divorce from his first wife and the fact that he did not serve in the armed forces during World War II.

Prohibition has become a factor in the senate race with the United Dry Association endorsing Thomas over Monroney.

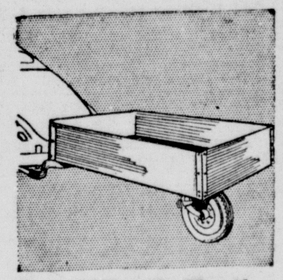

Although the drys admit both candidates told them they drink liquor, the Thomas endorsement is based upon his committment to vote for the Langer bill. The proposed measure would bar inter-state liquor advertising.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. William Crowe shown cutting their wedding cake following their marriage which took place June 23. Mrs. Crowe is the former Miss Bonnie Jean Ginn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Ginn, of Mer Rouge.

Bonnie Jean Ginn Weds W. R. Crowe In Mer Rouge

Impressive Double Ring Ceremony Takes Place In Methodist Church

A wedding of prominence and claiming widespread interest was that of Miss Bonnie Jean Ginn, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oral Ginn of Mer Rouge, and Mr. W. M. Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Crowe of Basrtop.

A wedding of prominence and claiming widespread interest was that of Miss Bonnie Jean Ginn, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oral Ginn of Mer Rouge, and Mr. W. M. Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Crowe of Bastrop.

A cathedral-like atmosphere pervaded the Mer Rouge Methodist church for the impressive double-ring ceremony performed by Dr. Alfred Schwab, pastor of the Mer Rouge Baptist Church.

Arrangements of specimen blue and pink hydrangea in wrought iron standards were silhouetted against an artistic background of greenery. The vows were exchanged beneath an arch entwined with lengths of southern smilax, interspersed with hydrangea. Along the altar rail the grace of smilax lent itself to accentuate the beauty of the scene. Myriad cathedral tapers in branched candelabra burned in the background adding a touch of reverence.

Miss Genevieve White in a gown of embossed blue organdy rendered a beautiful pre-nuptial program. The traditional wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn were used. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Hubert Sims sang "Because." "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Claire Clark.

Mr. Harold Roberts and Mr. Billy Mathews served as candle-lighters. Ushers were James Ginn, Kirk Ogden, Billy Mathews, Harold Roberts and Hollis Hanks.

Mrs. Billy Mathews served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink shadowed organdy, cut with a basque bodice and bouffant skirt. The bridesmaids, identically attired in shades of pink and blue, carrying satin ribbon baskets of contrasting hues overflowing with shasta daisies, presented a picture of lovliness.

Entering first was Mrs. Clifford King, followed by Miss Carolyn Haggard, Miss Bonnie Marie Windsor, Mrs. William Jones, and Miss Dorothy White.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his cousin, Mr. Joe Connerly of Tylertown, Miss. The men were attired in white and black summer tuxedos.

The petite flower girl, C. Gee Ginn, was adorned in a floor-length starched net model, as she scattered rose petals in the path of the bride, who was given in marriage by her father.

In traditional Duchess satin with finger tip veil of illusion the bride presented a picture of lovliness, the coronet of pearls accenting her beauty. Her gown was fashioned along colonial lines with fitted bodice and a yoke of sheer marquisette embroidered in seed pearls. The bouffant skirt with full train was divided at the hem line and caught up in graceful folds revealing a ruffled flounce of chantilly lace. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ginn chose to wear on this occasion a coffee lace model. Mrs. Crowe was charming in a beige lace creation. Each wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

Reception

The parlors of the church presented the perfect setting for the reception. Floor vases filled with Shasta daisies and fern, and lovely arrangements in antique jardinieres adorned the suite.

The bride's table was overlaid with a lovely heirloom cloth over one hundred years old. Done in elaborate drawn work, it was the work of an old slave in the bridegroom's family, and is a treasured possession used on special occasions. An antique silver epergne filled with daisies and maiden's hair fern, with tapers burning in their midst, completed the centerpiece.

The four-tiered wedding cake placed at one end was a work of art, topped with miniature bride and bridegroom, and embossed with roses and calla lilies with heart motifs.

At the punch bowl Mrs. Truly Connerly, becomingly attired in white crepe, served the first hour, with Mrs. Roy Windsor, wearing black lace over aqua, pouring the last hour. Both wore corsages of Subvalacea hibiscus.

Presiding over the guest book was Miss Mary Nita Lennon, cousin of the bride. Upon this table, placed on the foyer, were two wedding bells in pink and blue, completely formed of hydrangea with satin streamers bearing gold letters, the words "Bonnie and Billy."

Assisting in the courtesies were the tea girls in pastel formals, Mrs. J. T. Parker, Mrs. Charles White, Miss Betty Ann Sisson, Mrs. Max Brodnax, Jr., Mrs. Todd Spear of Bastrop, and Miss Mary Frances Johnson of Arkansas City, Ark.

Mrs. Shelby White greeted the guests as they entered, and Mrs. Audrey McDermott and Mrs. T. E. Wilson acted as circulating hostesses.

Immediately following the reception the couple left on their honeymoon trip on the Mississippi coast. The bride donned for traveling a suit of shell pink balloon cloth with which she wore navy accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her wedding bouquet. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at 205 East Cypress avenue, in Bastrop.

Mrs. Crowe is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oral Ginn. She received her degree from Louisiana Tech in 1949, and is now employed by the Bastrop National Bank & Trust Company.

Mr. Crowe is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Crowe of Bastrop. He too received his degree in forestry from La. Tech and now holds a position in Bastrop.

Other than the friends from Mer Rouge and Bastrop, out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Collins and Edwin Mae, Little Rock Ark., Mrs. Elizabeth Vana and daughter, Darlene, Little Rock, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. P. Castleman of Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Linnon and Steve, Miss Mary Anita Lennon, Mrs. Jack Inabinet, Mrs. Eva Richer, Mrs. Johnnie Montcalm and son, Mrs. M. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Croach and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Weinburg, Gloria and Chuck, all of Monroe; Miss Rosalie Haggard of Greenwood; Mr. Melvin Barney, Shreveport; Miss Gayle Whitmire, Arcadia; Mr. Bob Sprangle, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Truly Connerly and Mr. Joe Connerly of Tylertown, Miss.; Mrs. Madolyn Osgourne, El Dorado, Ark.; Jas. H. Bowman, El Dorado, Ark.; Mrs. W. M. Magee, Bogalusa; Mrs. M. C. Fortenberry and Donald, Jackson, Miss.; Donald Maswell, and John Peters, Winnfield; Miss Mary Frances Johnson, Arkansas City, Ark.; Dan McDuff, Monroe, and Paul Pomeroy, La. Tech.

Rehearsal Supper

The spacious suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Windsor was never lovlier than on Thursday evening, June 22, when the Windsors entertained the Crowe-Ginn bridal party.

Gorgeous pink roses placed advantageously about the reception suite lent their fragrance, while the beauty of hydrangea, the wedding flower, accented the decoration in the dining room. Two wedding bells formed of the chosen blossoms, outlined with rows of flecked tulle with bows and steamers of pink and blue satin, were used as a centerpiece.

The supper, served buffet style consisted of tempting salads moulded in heart shapes, a variety of stuffed fruits in a bed of lettuce hearts, Italian spaghetti topped with cheese, creamed vegetables, and iced colas.

Wedding bells, the symbol of happiness, were in evidence throughout the meal, none being more attractive than the bells of ice within which were frozen fruits used in the punch.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Windsor were: Miss Bonnie Jean Ginn and Mr. W. M. Crowe, guests of honor; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ginn, the bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Crowe of Bastrop, the bridegroom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Truly Connerly of Tylertown, Miss.; Mr. Joe Connerly also of Tylertown; Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Hanks of Vivian, Mrs. William Jones of Haynesville; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mathew of Monroe; Mr. Kirk Ogden of Biloxi, Miss.; C. Gee Ginn of Douglas, Ariz.; Miss Genevieve White, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford King, The Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Schwab, Miss Bonnie Marie Windsor, Miss Dorothy White, James Ginn, Mrs. Shelby White, Mrs. Jessye Graves, and John Rolfe Windsor, all of Mer Rouge.

DIMES DISAPPEAR

MANILA —(AP)— Mister, can you spare a dime?

That's a silly question these days. Dimes just don't get around any more. Two months ago the Philippine central bank stopped issuing them. It was feared they were being shipped out of the country because of their silver content.

Miss Minnie Madden Is Bride Of Carl Carrington Tidwell

First Presbyterian Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

The First Presbyterian Church was the scene Friday, July 14, of the marriage of Miss Minnie Richardson Madden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynton Madden of Baton Rouge, formerly of this city, when she became the bride of Carl Carrington Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Tidwell.

The double-ring ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the evening with Dr. Ernest Holloway, pastor, officiating. The bridal couple exchanged the vows before the altar which was beautifully decorated with standards of gladiolis and majestic daisies. The chancel rail was decorated in greenery of airy fern. Branched candelabra held a myriad of slender white cathedral tapers.

Mr. Leon Hammond, organist, played several selections and accompanied Mrs. Robert Wood as she sang "Because" and "Through the Years." The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and the end of the ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Mr. Buck Brown and Mr. J. E. Peters, Jr.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in her wedding gown of satin and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a deep set yoke of nylon with the Chantilly lace forming a drop shoulder effect. Tiny covered buttons adorned the back of the bodice. Covered buttons also fastened the long sleeves which tapered to graceful points over the hands. The full skirt fell into a fan-shaped train.

Her veil of fingertip length was of silk illusion and fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and tuberoses with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Billy Edmondson, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. Ann Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Edmondson, served as flower girl. They wore identical dresses of embroidered white Swiss organdy over aqua taffeta. Their taffeta girdles and small crown hats with small folds were of matching material. They carried bouquets of majestic daisies interspersed with fern and with yellow satin streamers.

Little Victor N. Davis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Davis, served as ring bearer, and was dressed in a white linen suit.

Mr. C. R. Tidwell, Jr. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Billy Edmondson, B. K. Fluker, Buck Brown and J. E. Peters, Jr. The groomsmen were wearing white tuxedos.

Mrs. Madden, mother of the bride, wore an aqua lace gown over aqua satin with elbow length gloves of white. Her corsage was an orchid. Mrs. Tidwell wore a rose nylon marquisette gown and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. L. B. Ferguson, grandmother of the bride, was wearing a chiffon gown with white accessories. Her corsage was of tube roses and carnations.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor N. Davis, 2019 Paragoud where floral arrangements of majestic daisies, magnolias and gladiolis adorned the reception rooms. Placed on the mantel were two arrangements of majestic daisies and gladioli.

Receiving the guests at the door were Mrs. Wharton Brown, Sr. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Madden and Mrs. Billy Edmondson.

The bride's table was laid with a cutwork cloth, and held the two tiered wedding cake, embossed with lilies of the valley, wedding bells, and roses. White tapers in crystal candelabra were placed on either side. Garlands of tube roses were placed at either end in Venetian glass vases.

Tea girls were Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. Brooks Dawkins, Mrs. Wallace Jones of Baton Rouge, Miss Ann Crandall and Miss Carolyn Peters.

For traveling, the bride chose a champagne salyna suit with matching hat and gloves. Her blouse was a luggage color and her shoes were brown and white. Her corsage was a single green orchid. After a wedding trip to Biloxi, Mississippi and New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell will be at home in Chicago, Illinois.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and Louisiana State University and a member of Delta Beta Sigma, Delta Delta Delta, Lambda intersorority, Kappa Delta Pi, honor society, Mu Sigma Rho, liberal arts honor society.

The groom graduated from Neville High School, Louisiana State University and Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. He is a member of Phi Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities and served in the United States Navy for two years.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Wharton Brown, Jr. of Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Perdue of Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jones of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Craig and Miss Marguerite Watson of Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Dan Moore, Jr., and Mrs. H. B. Hargrove Hosts At Morning Party

Fresh summer flowers and colorful refreshments were used to create an atmosphere of sparkling coolness at the pretty morning party given Tuesday by Mrs. H. B. Hargrove and Mrs. Dan Moore, Jr., in honor of Mrs. Edward Glusman, attractive newcomer to Monroe from Baton Rouge.

The hostesses and the honoree stood in the foyer of the Moore home to receive their guests. Mrs. Glusman wore a green linen dress and a corsage fashioned of pale pink astors and tuberoses. Mrs. Hargrove's dress was of white silk shantung and Mrs. Moore's was black and white organdy.

An interesting decor in the living room was the large modernistic arrangement of varigated caladium leaves. Focal point of the living porch was a modernistic arrangement of mixed flowers on a low table. Other blossoms and a bowl of summer fruits were placed elsewhere.

In the dining room the serving table was covered with a delicate pink linen cloth. Centering it was a gold urn filled with purple argpanthus, tuberoses, pale pink astors and pink baby's breath. Various serving dishes of pink and white china with gold trim were placed on the table. These held an assortment of small party sandwiches, cheese balls and confections.

Served from the buffet were tall glasses of frosted lemonade, garnished with cherries, sprigs of mint and multi-colored straws. Pastel napkins completed the theme.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., Mrs. Brewer Godfrey, Mrs. Amos Shelton, Mrs. Jack Howe of Houston, Mrs. Russell Cummings of Columbia.

The guest list included: Mrs. Evans Ethridge, Mrs. Fred Walcott of Houston, Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Jr., Mrs. John Bennett Fudickar, Mrs. Walter Schubert, Mrs. Kent Breard, Mrs. Joe Goynne, Mrs. H. S. McSherry, Mrs. J. W. Perry, Mrs. Ben Cobb, Mrs. W. L. Husted, Jr., Mrs. Roy Cole, Jr., Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Thomas May, Mrs. J. V. MEMBERS ELECTED

FERRIDAY, La.—The Monterey chapter of Future Farmers of America elected the following members to represent it at the state FFA convention this summer. James Phillips and Jack Bairnsfather, delegates and Verlyn Burley, alternate. Aimee Scott Moreland, the chapter queen, will accompany the delegates and compete for title of state FFA Queen. The chapter plans two summer meetings at which the boys will entertain each other with a fish fry.

-Sloe is the name of a kind of prune (plum). Its color is a bluish or purplish black. Sloe gin is so called because it takes its flavor and color from the sloe, and not from juniper berries, as is the case with ordinary gin.

NEWS FROM THE PARISH LIBRARY

Last year Ouachita parish had 110 adult readers who earned Reading certificates awarded by the Louisiana State Library for reading 12 books of non-fiction chosen from a selected list published by the State Library. The purpose of this program is to encourage adult readers to read books on a wide variety of subjects and thus gain a broad view of the world today. Many of those people will earn certificates again this year and many new ones are also working on the reading list. If you have not yet started, it is not too late.

The list this year is called "Reading for reading's sake." It contains many fascinating titles. The first group is called "The stage and other arts." Probably the most popular book in this group is Billie Burke's "With A Feather on My Nose." Another popular book in this group is "Summer and Smoke" by Tennessee Williams. The second group of books are those dealing with "Description and travel." A very popular book in this class is "Popcorn on the Ginza," by L. H. Crockett. This is an informal discussion of life in post war Japan. Another book which has been widely read is "Irma And The Hermit" by I. T. Materi. This book was written by the wife of an American army major and tells about her life in Korea. It is especially timely at the present. The third group of books consists of biographies. Of this group by far the most popular book is "Cheaper By The Dozen" by two of the 12 Gilbreath children. By the way, the sequel to that book is coming out in the fall. It is to be called "Belles On Their Toes" and should be as delightful as the first book.

Books in the fourth group are those dealing with religion. Fulton Ourseler's "Greatest Story Ever Told,, is by far the most popular one in this class. However Vincent Sheean's life of Gandhi "Lead Kindly Light" is also popular. The fifth group is concerned with history and current problems. Everyone should read George Moorad's "Lost Peace In China" in order to understand the present situation in the Far East. The sixth group of books consists of science and technology. Probably the most popular book in this group is "Medicine On The March" by M. S. Clark. This is a rapid survey of medical research and its progress to date in connection with several of the most dreaded diseases. Another significant book in this group is "No Place to Hide" by D. J. Bradley. This is a very calm explanation of the effects of the atomic bomb dropped in Bikini.

The seventh group of books deals with "Sports, recreation and hobbies." In this group "Till Fish Do Us Part" by B. G. Cook is most entertaining. Another popular book is "Baseball's Greatest Teams" by Tom Meany. The eighth group is made up of books "For your pleasure." One of the most delightful books in this group is "Especially Father" by Gladys Taber. The ninth group is made up of books on psychology and personal problems. A most popular book in this group is "Thank God For My Heart Attack" by C. Y. Harrison. Another good book is "Outwitting Your Years" by C. W. Lieb. The tenth group of books is called "About Our Children." There are books in this group of special interest to parents and to all who deal with children. "These Are Your Children" by Gladys Jenkins should be read by every parent, grandparent, teacher or friend of children. It tells just what is to be expected in behavior of children at various stages of their development. The eleventh class is made of a miscellaneous assortment of books.

A reader may select his twelfth book from any of the other classes or he may substitute a classic book of fiction. Reading worthwhile books from this selected list is a most plesant way to spend the hot summer days. If you have not enrolled for the reading certificate, be sure to do so as soon as possible.

TUG-O'-WAR

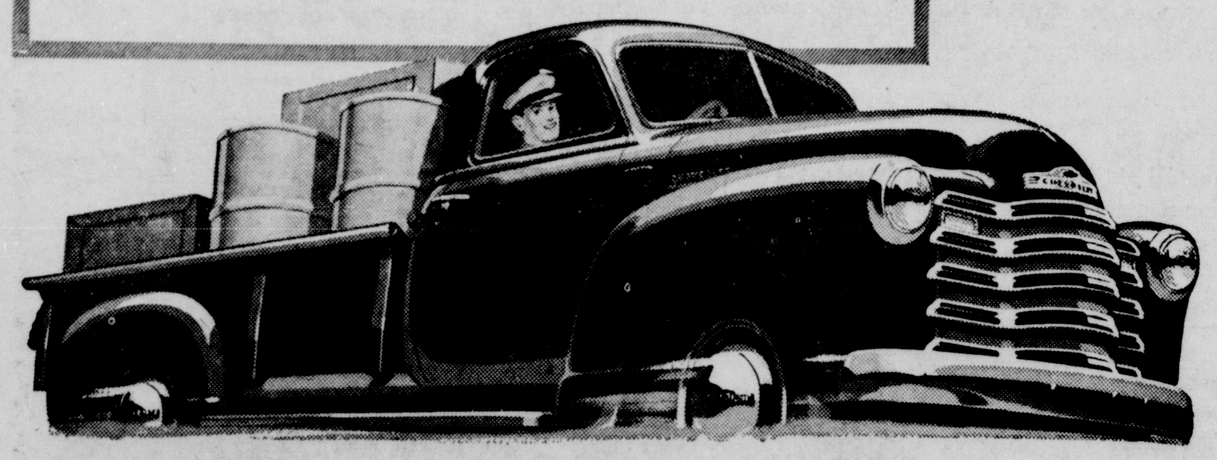

RANGOON —(AP)— Men and women in sultry Mandalay don't bother with new-fangled notions like embedding dry ice in clouds when they want rain. They just stage an old - fashioned tug-o'-war — and down it comes. According to Burmese superstition, rain is produced by Nats (spirits), excited by events on earth, running about in the heavens. To the Burmese, nothing is more exciting than a tug-o'-war.

BIG BOY that parks like a midget

YOU look at the king-size wheelbase on this strapping Buick ROADMASTER.

You look at those long Buick-tapered fenders sweeping from bumper to "double bubble" tail beacon.

You step inside and luxuriate in legroom and hiproom and headroom generous as old-time hospitality.

You ride it—and wonder if wings were ever so soft.

You feel that big bonnetful of Fireball power whisk you from standing start to road speed with the honeyed magic of Dynaflow Drive.

And you tell yourself this is entirely too perfect.

All this automobile must be hard to handle, too big for your garage.

Good sir, just slide over and take this ROADMASTER's wheel.

Pick a curb space you'd ordinarily pass by, and back this Buick into it on your very first try.

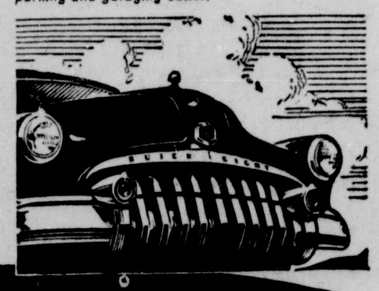

Here Buick has done a neat job of reducing over-all inches while keeping interior king-size comfort. When you wheel this whopper into your own garage, you'll be tickled pink at the room all around it.

So come on! Head for your Buick dealer's now for a tryout of a Buick ROADMASTER.

You will find it in a selection of body types, in finishes to suit a queen's taste — and at prices to make you wonder why anyone ever pays more.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs — vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow Drive* and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.
Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SUPER models.*

EVELYN JOYCE KEELING IS WED TO SGT. CARL WESLEY MATHEWS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Evelyn Joyce Keeling, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Roy E. Keeling of this city, whose marriage to Sgt. Carl Wesley Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wesley Mathews of Sacramento, Calif., was solemnized recently at the First Presbyterian Church in Galveston, Texas, with Dr. Will R. Johnson officiating.

Mrs. Wesley Merritt, organist, played the prelude music and accompanied Mrs. William Duggan, who sang "At Dawning" and "Because".

Mrs. Vivian Earl Boggs, Jr. of Lake Jackson, Texas, attended her sister as matron of honor and wore a white organdy dress, wity eyelet embroidered bodice, over aqua taffeta. Miss Jean Longino, bridesmaid, was attired in white embossed organdy over pastel pink taffeta. They wore helmet hats of white starched lace and carried bouquets of pink Delight roses.

Sgt. Robert M. Lacy of Houston attended the bridegroom as best man, and Sgt. T. D. Jones of Michigan was groomsman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a dress of heavily embroidered white Swiss organdy, with fitted bolero and flared skirt. Her hat was a tricon of white straw, trimmed with white velvet and summer veiling, and she carried a bouquet of Garnett roses and stephanotis.

The mother of the bride was wearing a dress of lilac salyna cloth with gray eyelet embroidery. Her accessories were navy blue and she wore a corsage of pink rosette roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

For her wedding trip, the bride traveled in a summer suit of natural raw silk with kelly green accessories, natural gloves and a corsage of sweetheart roses. They will reside in Belton, Texas upon their return home.

Mrs. Mathews was a student at Texas State College of Women in Denton prior to her marriage. Sgt. Mathews is presently stationed at Gray Air Force Base at Killeen, Texas.

DIG UP TREASURE

RANGOON—(AP)—There was gold all right "in them thar hills" for a Burmese army fatigue squad digging a gun emplacement at Kengtung, Shan States hill town. It uncovered four gold containers, three gold bricks and several emerald-studded gold images of Buddha in the sun-baked hillside. The treasure went to the Shan chieftain of Kengtung who ordered it to be preserved in a pagoda. It is believed to have been buried during the Japanese occupation.

Birthday Party Honors Margaret Ann O'Neal

Mr. and Mrs. Dupree O'Neal entertained Friday night at the V. F. W. Hall in honor of their youngest daughter, Ann.

Receiving the guests were the honoree, Lillian O'Neal, Aurora James, Many and Annie Kalil.

Placed at vantage points through out the hall were beautiful arrangements of roses. A birthday cake entwined with greenery and roses centered the table.

Lovely gifts were presented to the honoree and various games and dancing were the highlight of the party. Delicious refreshments were then served to Doll Batman, Edith Emmerich, Jack Blakeman, Billie Clark, Lorence Medlin, Charles Clark, Bunny Gladney, Ina Pearl Hilton, Paul Stovall, Ann Page, Betty Morace, Bill Morace, Nedra Posey, LeRoy Perkins, Lamar Posey, Betty Band, Betty June Sharp, Don Faust, Zebedee Gryder, Betty Hatch, Billy Landrum, Aurora James, Bill Sartor, Joel James, Henry Cumpton, Fay Claringer, L. MR. AND MRS. B. E. GAMBRELL HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gambrell were complimented Sunday evening at a silver anniversary dinner given by their daughter, Miss Margaret Gambrell and Mrs. George Lofton.

Marconi daisies and white gladiolis in long silver containers decorated the sides of the U-shaped table which was centered with a white two-tiered anniversary cake with silver trim. Tall white tapers burning in silver and crystal holders banked the sides of the center piece and floral decorations.

Silver nut baskets marked the places for the guests. The honorees were seated at the center of the table. Mrs. Gambrell was wearing a two piece black crepe summer model with a black picture hat and an orchid.

Mrs. Lofton, co-hostess, was attired in a midsummer navy blue organdy dress with a plunging neckline, full skirt and eyelet embroidery trim. She used navy blue and white accessories. The hostess wore a black and white organdy with matching accessories.

Guests present for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs Drew Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arrant, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Hays Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. E. SHORT COURSE PLANNED IN B. R.

All Home Demonstration Clubs Here To Send Representation

Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council makes plans for shortcourse attendance, states Mrs. Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent. Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council at its meeting July 15, made plans for each of the twenty home demonstration clubs to send two representatives to the state shortcourse which will be held in Baton Rouge August 14th through the 18th.

Each club is asked to send in a payment of three dollars per member, expecting to attend the shortcourse, from each club (the balance to be paid at the time of going and determined by the number). This money is to be left at the agriculture building by August 7th with Mrs. Jean Harden, who is secretary of this division.

Other business transacted was planning the Parish Home Demonstration Council picnic, which will be held July 27th at 6:30 p.m., at the camp site near Cheniere. Club members, their husbands, children and friends, are invited to come and bring a picnic lunch which includes drinks.

Captain Faler, drill captain of the Monroe fire department, in keeping with National Home Safety Week, gave a most instructive and educational demonstration on fire prevention.

Memers attending this council meeting are the following: Mrs. James Sturdivant, Mrs. C. C. Street, Mrs. W. F. Davis, Mrs. M. B. McDonald, Mrs. W. I. Albright, Mrs. W. J. Durin, Mrs. J. R. Frantom, Mrs. Frank Arrant, Mrs. Dwight Owens, Mrs. D. D. Head, Mrs. J. M. Kent, Mrs. O. D. Hollingsworth, Mrs. P. M. Donald, Mrs. J. H. Kilpatrick, Mrs. C. K. Brooks, Mrs. Doris Custer, Mrs. W. J. Lowe, Mrs. Alma Stout, Mrs. Edna Bush, Mrs. Joe Wellerman, Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. Gertie Landrum, Mrs. W. E. Latham, Mrs. Katie Beasley, Mrs. G. M. Younger, Mrs. G. E. Rutledge, Mrs. J. E. Rutledge, Mrs. D. L. Calhoun, Mrs. R. E. Britt, Mrs. C. R. Alexander, Mrs. W. J. Roper, Mrs. George Spier, Mrs. J. G. Peacock, Mrs. T. T .Jones and Mrs. Eva Gewin.

Motion Picture Film

"The House in the Desert" is the title of the 16 mm motion picture film to be shown Sunday 7:00 p.m. at Memorial Methodist church. The regular church service follows at 8:00 p. m. The picture depicts the Jewish people returning to their own land and making habitable the salty land in the Dead Sea area. The Bible has much to say about the return, to the Holy Land of the Jewish people. This film will be of interest to all ages.

E. E. Jones Named Jena Fire Chief

JENA, La., July 22.—(Special)—E. E. Jones has been elected fire chief of the town of Jena, it was announced this week by Mayor P. S. Gaharan, Jr., following unanimous action by the town council.

In connection with the election of Mr. Jones, Mayor Gaharan said, "We are very anxious to revive interest in our volunteer fire department which has served our town so efficiently.

"Mr. Jones would like to have at least eight or ten volunteers, who will be willing to spend some time in training with him, to learn more about the operation of our fire fighting equipment, so that they can serve more efficiently in combating fires when they are called out.

"Anyone interested in this matter is urged to contact Mr. Jones at an early date and an arrangement will be made for a definite meeting to be held to rejuvenate the volunteer fire department and make special plans for training."

Poor Paying Undoes Masterful Bidding

By Oswald Jacoby
(Written For NEA Service)

"Well," sighed Hard Luck Joe, "we have one consolation. We bid the hand right-"

"That's a wonderful consolation," moaned North, "but I have no right to complain. I ought to have my head examined for bidding a slam when I have you for a partner."

"Ain't it the truth?" Joe assented, not without pride. "Other people get a break now and then, but I'm unlucky all the time. Do you realize that, with the spade finesse working, all I need is a 3-3 break in spades, diamonds, or clubs. Even if the spade finesse lost, I'd still be all right if either clubs or diamonds broke. The odds must be terrifically in favor of the slam."

In the play, West had opened the queen of hearts. Dummy won with the king of hearts, and Joe looked over the situation for a moment or two. Then he led the jack of spades from the dummy. East covered with the king and South won with the ace.

Joe next cashed the queen and ten of spades, discovering that West still had a high spade. He then hopefully tried three rounds of diamonds and three rounds of clubs, discovering in each case that East controlled the fourth round of the suit. All he could do was take his ace of hearts and surrender the last two tricks.

Do you think that Joe was unlucky? If not, where did he go wrong—in the bidding or in the play? Decide for yourself before you read on.

There was nothing wrong with the bidding. The opening bid of one club is the standard procedure with a hand of that type. It is not strong enough for one no-trump, and an opening bid of one spade might make it difficult for South to find a rebid. After opening with one club, South has no problem in rebidding.

North certainly had every right to wind up a slam contract when he held 4 1/2 honor tricks opposite an opening bid. The slam at no-trump was a sound contract, and no suit contract would have been any better.

Perhaps Joe was unlucky in finding no suits breaking. However, he should have made his contract in spite of this.

After winning the first trick with the king of hearts, Joe should have led a low spade from dummy. The finesse of the queen or ten of spades would hold, and Joe would get back to dummy with a diamond to lead dummy's remaining low spade. East would have to play his king on this, and South would win with the ace. Dummy's jack of spades would therefore make a trick. With four tricks in spades, Joe would have had no trouble in taking twelve tricks.

It is sometimes necessary to lead a high card for a finesse. For example, when you are short of entries to the dummy, the high card should be led. It enables you to hold the lead in dummy if the honor is not covered. When you have as many entries as you need to dummy, however, there is no need to lead a high card. The low card should then be led on the chance that the missing honor will fall on the first or second round.

FARMERVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Compton and children attended the wedding of Miss Nettie Mae Gill and Mr. Sye Merrill Garrett at Dallas, Tex., on July 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Guier and little son, Keith have returned from their vacation. They attended several major league baseball games at St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farar, Sr., spent several days last week at Baton Rouge with Mr. and Mrs. Clint Pierson of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hayes and children, Peggy Jean and Robert Dale of St. Joseph spent the week end with Mrs. Charlie Hayes and Mrs. R. B. McVicker.

Mrs. H. W. Young has returned from Washington, D. C. where she spent awhile with her daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Webb and Mr. Webb.

Mr. Grayson Odom of Farmerville, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wadley of Monroe spent the week end at Hot Springs. Mrs. Odom, who spent the past three weeks at Hot Springs, accompanied them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis and children, Lucille and Carl of Nanty Gol, Pa., and Mr. John Davis of Elmora, Pa., have returned home after a visit with Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stancil.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago . . . "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things —I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADOCOL Can Help You, Too!

. . . as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomache distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, acnes and pains of neuritis, and a general rundown condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind

. . . to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

THE SENATOR'S ACTIONS DENY HIS WORDS

THE LONG - - OR RATHER - - SHORT RECORD

DOUBLE-TALK DOUBLE-DIP DO-NOTHING

Any candidate for an important office must be judged not by what he says, but by what he has done! Temporary Senator Long says he is a friend of the poor man, the negro, the Farmer, the Laborer, the Doctor, Louisiana's Tidelands, and the Taxpayer. He says nothing about the Socialists. But he does say he is everybodys' friend. Does his past record conform to his flag-waving declaration? Here are the facts that can easily be verified in Russell Long's political case history:

POOR MAN'S FRIEND

Long SAYS he is the POOR MAN'S FRIEND and he pretends to sneer at wealth, BUT:

1. Long is a millionaire himself—AT STATE EXPENSE, and is backed by Oil Millionaire W. C. Feazel, of Rodessa Townsite fame.

2. The Royal Family of Longs are big stockholders in the Win or Lose Oil Company (name changed now to Independent Oil Company to shake off scandal). This company's largest oil holdings are rake-offs and double dips it received from leasing of State Mineral Lands. The rake-offs and double dips should have gone to the State and its people. Ever since Huey Long went to the governor's chair as a poor man the Longs have been living in the lap of luxury — and everybody knows that.

3. Longs' Oil Company has a deal on to sell a part of its oil in South Louisiana for Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000.00). Russell is holding up the deal until the election is over. Why?

"Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right."

FARMER'S FRIEND

Long says he's a friend of the Farmer BUT:

1. He VOTED AGAINST sending crop surplus to Europe under the Marshall Plan.

2. He VOTED FOR sending more money to Europe so as to permit our friends there to buy farm products from our competitors elsewhere.

3. As a result Europe is using the money of our farmers and other taxpayers to buy their Cotton from India and Egypt, their grains and meat from Argentina, rice from China and sugar from Central America, while surpluses depress the price of the Louisiana's farmers' product.

LABOR'S FRIEND

Long SAYS he's not the Union Labor Candidate, BUT:

1. National Labor Leader, William Green, told the Louisiana Labor Convention in New Orleans:

"You can count on the 8,000,000 members of the A. F. of L. to help you FINANCIALLY OR OTHERWISE to return Senator Long to Congress."

2. Long has promised Green and C. I. O. Murray to vote like they want him to vote.

3. Long's compaign is being financed out of DEDUCTS FROM THE WORKING MAN'S WAGES. Is he serving Big Labor or the little man who labors?

THE DOCTOR'S FRIEND

Long says he's against Socialized Medicine, BUT:

1. He's the hand-picked stooge of Labor Leader William Green. Green refers to him as "our man" and Green is for socialized medicine.

2. LONG HAS VOTED AND WILL VOTE IN WASHINGTON EXACTLY AS GREEN DICTATES. GREEN NEVER ENDORSES A CANDIDATE UNLESS HE HAS THAT KIND OF A PLEDGE FROM HIM.

3. Will the temporary Senator play a Dr. Jekyll with the doctors for the sick and ailing or will he play Mr. Hyde with socialized medicine and William Green? Somebody is going to be double-crossed and it WON'T be Green.

LOUISIANA'S FRIEND

Long SAID—HE BOASTED IN 1948—that if he were elected Senator the Federal Government would not grab Louisiana's rich oil-bearing Tidelands on the Gulf Coast. He said:

"They will have to run over my dead body to get them"—BUT:

1. RUSSELL IS A DEAD DUCK by his own confession, and the Federal Bureaucrats have no record that he even made a fight.

2. Louisiana lost its Tidelands, and the U. S. Supreme Court says Louisiana Taxpayers will have to make up and pay Uncle Sam the Twenty Million Dollars we've spent on our schools out of money we got from these Tidelands.

3. Russell had his name on a Senate Bill to save his State this money. HE NEVER MADE A SPEECH, NEVER ATTENDED A HEARING, NEVER LIFTED A FINGER TO SAVE ANYTHING. He was asleep for two years. How long can a Senator sleep?

"The hand of the diligent shall bear rule, but the slothful shall be put under tribute."

TAXPAYER'S FRIEND

Russell says he's everybody's friend, including the poor taxpayer, BUT:

1. He wrote the tax bills in Louisiana that taxed the poor man's beer, cigarettes, shoes, food, gasoline, and everything else he has to buy, and made Louisiana the highest taxed state in the Union.

2. He and Uncle Earl have borrowed so much money from our unborn children that Louisiana today has the greatest debt of any State in the United States.

3. Russell's record in Congress is one that favors spending and ignores economy. HE SAYS the Korean War will prevent any tax reduction for a long time, BUT with his vote the Federal waste for civilian government activities has increased from six to twelve billion dollars since he has been in Congress! DOES LONG KNOW THIS?

THE SOCIALIST'S FRIEND

Long says he is no Socialist, BUT

1. So far he has voted down the line and will continue to vote down the line for the so-called welfare state of high taxing, high spending, high wasting and deficit financing.

2. He stands for, and will vote for, Federal aid for everything and everybody from the cradle to the grave. This means you send three dollars to Washington to get one dollar back, and Washington tells you what you can do with your short change.

3. He says we have to fight Communism by Federal aid so the Federal government can take care of everybody that needs help. Federal control follows Federal Aid and it doesn't take much of the two to build the Socialist State.

Wise Ben Franklin said:

"He who would sacrifice essential liberty for security deserves neither liberty nor security!"

Yes, Russell Long has three strikes on him on every subject where we try to compare his words today with his do-nothing, say-nothing, know-nothing record in politics. He keeps talking about his record, but he hasn't yet pointed to anything but his VOTING record. Here's how he stacks up in the Congressional Record:

THE SHORT RECORD OF SENATOR LONG

Bills Passed and Battles Won ..... None

Votes Cast (Long's Count) 500

Long voted for every bill that would increase Federal appropriations, Federal waste, and Federal spending, so as to make tax-reduction impossible, and against every bill to cut waste. Otherwise, his Senate Record is full of blanks.

AN ANSWER TO FALSEHOOD AND SCANDAL

A full page ad is being published by Long's campaign committee in every newspaper in the State which falsely charges Malmcolm Lafargue with having been carried on the Long payroll, a candidate for office on the Long ticket, and with having used his government office to claim exemption from Military Service. The advertisement adds up falsehood, half lies, and deliberate slander in a desperate attempt to save Long from defeat. It is one of those mean, dirty political tricks that is based on the unfair hope that "the answer will never catch up with the charges." Here's the answer:

1. Lafargue has never received or asked for a job from the Long-Maestri political machine. The only political appointments he has ever received in Louisiana have come from his great-uncle, the late Senator John H. Overton.

2. Lafargue voluntarily resigned as U. S. Attorney to make this race. Russell Long tried to have him fired but did not have the power, prestige or influence in Washington to do it.

3. Lafargue has never endorsed the Long "Share the Wealth" political ticket. They endorsed him, as they did many others who did not ask for it and took no stock in the Share the Wealth movement. Lafargue could have won that time, as he will win this time, without help from "Share the Wealth" or Socialism, or the Long political machine.

4. Lafargue has never been a candidate for President of the Bar Association. If Long were a real lawyer he would know that a nominating committee selects candidates, and the results of the votes are never announced.

5. Lafargue served the war effort with the same patriotism that 140 million Americans served. HE CLAIMED NO EXEMPTION. As U. S. District Attorney, 75 per cent of his work directly related to the war effort. He was legal adviser and director for the F.B.I. in Louisiana whose work was equally important as that of the Army and Navy. RUSSELL LONG TRIED UNSUCCESSFULLY TO GET INTO THE F.B.I. BEFORE HE JOINED THE NAVY.

Here's what Malcolm Lafargue has to say about the slander and falsehood that has always served the Longs when their own record of vote stealing, graveyard registrations, goon squads, and system of privilege and spoils is attacked:

"I have already denounced Russell Long and his campaign henchmen for their slurring, slandering, falsehoods as to my record and my character. Briefly I repeat:

"I was the oldest child of a widowed mother—my father died when I was in high school—and there was no money for further education. I got a job in the state conservation department at New Orleans as a clerk and stenographer when the late Dr. V. K. Irion was commissioner and Simpson was governor. I worked days and went to law school at Loyola at night. And I mean I WORKED. When HUEY LONG AND MAESTRI came in, Maestri fired me and all others of the Simpson-Irion regime. My great-uncle, the late Senator Overton, regained my job for me. If it means anything one way or the other, I was not HIRED by Maestri, I was FIRED by Maestri, and, incidentally in those Huey Long-Maestri days of course I was forced to PAY DEDUCTS; but I NEVER COLLECTED ANY. I didn't believe in deducts, then, and I don't believe in them now. After leaving Loyola University in New Orleans I was sent here to Shreveport in the minerals department on a fulltime job at part-time pay. Later, through Senator Overton, I was appointed assistant U. S. Attorney, and then U. S. Attorney for the Western District of Louisiana.

"Neither Huey Long nor any other Long has favored me, and I am in no way indebted to Bob Maestri or the Long political machine. Whatever political favors I have received in Louisiana have come from my great uncle, Senator John H. Overton, who has rendered distinguished service to the State of Louisiana in the seat that is much too big for the present temporary Senator, who is my opponent in this race.

"When war came I REQUESTED NO SPECIAL EXEMPTION AND CLAIMED NO SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT. I was subject to the president's call to duty just like one hundred and forty million other Americans. Thousands of persons helped carry on the essential war work of the Department of Justice. All of them can be proud of their part.

"In his personal attack on my war record, Russell Long has slandered the millions of fine Americans who did not serve in active combat in the last war. He has insinuated that war service is a measure of a man's ABILITY OR RIGHT to hold a public office.

"And yet neither Russell Long's own father, the late Governor and Senator Huey P. Long, nor his own uncle Earl, Governor Earl K. Long, saw any military service in World War I, although both were eligible. If my opponent is sincere in what he is saying he would have you believe that his own father was unfit to serve as governor and as United States Senator, and that his Uncle Earl was, and is, unfit to serve as governor of the State of Louisiana."

If non-uniformed service in time of war disqualifies a man from public office, then Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence and John Adams, who edited it, never could have been President of the United States. Neither could Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Thomas E. Dewey could not have run for the post. Most of the signers of this nation's Constitution were designated to serve at home in posts in the Colonial Government while George Washington led the fighting forces. Slander against non-uniformed war service by a man of today is slander against many of the Founding Fathers and Revolutionary Patriots also.

Malcolm Lafargue's Campaign Manager is a combat veteran. His District Leaders are war veterans. Most of his active supporters and workers are veterans. AND THE MAJORITY OF THE WAR VETERANS IN LOUISIANA ARE GOING TO VOTE FOR LAFARGUE because he is against Totalitarianism, Socialism, and all the other Isms that they waged war against, and because he is against the Longism these veterans are fighting now to keep Louisiana free!

VOTE MALCOLM E. LAFARGUE UNITED STATES SENATOR JULY 25th

Mrs. Estell Sanders, Choir Director.

Marshall Downs, Sunday school supt.

We urge all members and friends of the McGuire Methodist Church to attend all services of the church Sunday. If you have no church home we solicit your presence at both services.

We are now in the process of organizing a choir. We are grateful to Mrs. Estell Sanders for her sacrificial efforts in the planning of the musical part of the church's program. The choir will be on hand to render service at the eleven o'clock service Sunday morning. At the eleven o'clock hour, the pastor will speak on the subject, "Our Triumph Over Life's Greatest Crisis." The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

And then, there will be services Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. This will be an evangelistic service. We urge all to attend this service, also. Please come and bring your friends with you to the house of God. If you are a Christian, you can help us. If you are not a Christian we can help you. We will be seeing you in church.

Shown above are the following who are arranging for the holding of the revival at the First Baptist Church, starting July 30. They are as follows (left to right): Mrs. D. B. Martha, representing the Young People's department; Mrs. R. B. Pilaut, intermediate No. 1, Miss Marie Smith, intermediate No. 2, and Miss Billie Fargue from the church staff. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
First Church of Christ Scientist
224 Auburn Ave

"Truth" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 23, 1950.

The Golden text is: "God shall send forth his mercy and his truth" (Ps. 57:3).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "He is the Rock, his work is perfect: For all his ways are judgment: A God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deut. 32:4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals try to believe without understanding Truth; yet God is Truth" (p. 312).

Listen in on a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. over radio station KNOE.

Sunday school at 9:30 a.m.

Sunday service at 11:00 a.m.

Wednesday service at 8:00 p.m.

Reading room at 814 Bernhardt Building, open daily from 10:00 to 5:00, except Sundays and national holidays.

MEMORIAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Fourth at Mill Streets
West Monroe, Louisiana

Hugh E. Bradshaw, pastor.

9:45 a.m., Sunday school. James S. Rutledge, general superintendent.

11:00 a.m., Morning worship, Mr. Bob Freeman, a rising senior in Union Theological Seminary, Richmind, Va. will preach at this hour. The young people of the community as well as the adults will want to hear this young man.

7:00 p.m., Youth meetings.

8:00 p.m., Evening worship. Elder Jack M. Reighney, Jr., a member of the session of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, will deliver the sermon.

8:00 p.m., Wednesday, Mid-week worship.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MONROE
Grammont at Catalpa

Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister.

The Frank P. Stubbs Memorial Bible Class will convene in the Fellowship Hall of the educational building Sunday morning, July 23, nine forty five in the morning. This is something toward which the men have been looking for many years, and now that it is a dream come true the men are happy. Men of the church, attend this Lord's day. You will encourage the leaders, and hear a lesson taught by a consecrated man of God. If you will attend there will be not less one hundred men present.

Other classes are in session. If the school of the church is good for the youth, do you not think it is good for you?

"How great is our God?" is the theme of the morning message. Although our planned message was on another subject, because of the situation in which we are this is our subject. The Lord God is One, and as He has guided, kept, preserved, and favored His people in the past we believe He will do that for His own today.

"I believe in the Resurrection" is the topic of the sermon, which will be preached by the Rev. R. T. Watson of the First Christian Church. The worship will be in the Presbyterian Church of Monroe: the hour is seven thirty o'clock.

If you are a Presbyterian, God expects you to be in your pew. If you are a guest, a hearty and sincere welcome awaits you.

OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS (MORMON)
307 North Second Street

Travis T. Tynes, branch president.

Sunday School, 10:00 a.m.

Relief Society song practice, 7:00 p.m.

The program at the regular sacrament meeting at 8:00 p.m. will be in commemoration of the arrival of the saints in the Salt Lake Valley, July 24, 1847. Songs which were composed and sung by this persecuted people during their long trek across the plains, will be special features on the program. Our own faith will be strengthened as we review the many trials and hardships the early members of this church endured that we might worship as we do today in love and unity and harmony.

Visitors always receive a warm welcome and handclasp from every one present at our meetings, and every meeting is an inspiration to attend. We invite our friends to come.

Bible Comments
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

It is doubtful whether any character in history, king or commoner, ever manifested in his life and character greater and deeper contrasts than those revealed by David, King of Israel.

He is pictured as the courageous shepherd boy, killing the giant Goliath with his stone and sling; as the gentle singer with the harp, in association with "the Psalms of David"; and in incidents of great beauty and magnanimity, which were rich and plentiful in his long and varied career.

In the latter picture of the Shepherd-King the sterner aspects of his life, and the keep sins he committeed, are either passed over lightly or ignored. Yet they are there insistently in the full and true picture—the warrior and man of blood, forbidden by that fact to build the temple; the leader of a discontented band in the Cave of Adullam, a sort of ancient Robin Hood; the man of adultery, lured by the beauty of another man's wife; and the virtual murderer, ordering the husband whom he had wronged to be placed in the thick of a battle, where he might be killed, and the adultery covered up.

A dark, very dark, picture might b made, in striking contrast to the usual and conventional portrait of King David. Yet to make it would be to miss the real greatness of the man, and to miss the real truth concerning him. It would be to miss a neven greater truth concerning human life—that it is the goodness in men that is more important than the evil in them. Of course, while elements of goodness may mark true greatness in men, their evil doings should be neither condemned or condoned, but seen in their true light.

King David had the attributes of a great man. The crowning attribute of greatness is magnanimity, and David manifested it in a high degree. When Saul sought to take his life, and David could easily have killed Saul, he refused to strike him. When a courageous prophet brought home to David the sin of his adultery and the virtual murder of Uriah, instead of angrily punishing the prophet, he humbly acknowledged his wrong - doing. (II Samuel 12:1-14.)

When three of his mighty men risked their lives to bring him a drink from the well of Bethlehem, he was appealled that a casual offhand wish should have occasioned such dangerous devotion. David viewed the water as the blood of men and he could not drink it, but poured it out as a sacred offering to the Lord. (II Samuel 23:14-17).

Here, then, is King David, a great warrior, a great sinner, but a man of deep feeling, with great qualities of goodness and humanity; therefore, a good man, and a great King, who built the kingdom of Israel for the first time upon a solid and secure foundation.

Rev. Wright Now At Pastor School

Rev. A. O. Wright of the Pleasant Hill Congregational Church is currently studying with more than seventy other Congregational ministers at the Western Pastors' School, sponsored by the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches of the U. S. A. at La Foret, Colorado Springs, Colo. The school began July 5 and will end August 2.

Dean of the study session is the Rev. Dr. Stanley U. North, general secretary-elect of the Board of Home Missions, who has his headquarters in New York City. The national executive has gathered faculty members from churches and seminaries of the East and West to teach the student body which represents about 22 states and the Territory of Hawaii. The teachers are authorities in pastoral studies and parish practices.

Designed for ministers of churches west of the Mississippi, the school also includes fraternal delegates from many eastern states. It has its setting on what was formerly a private estate in the Black Forest near the Colorado resort city. The property was donated by the Bemis-Taylor Foundation to the Colorado congregational conference in 1944 and has been used by the conference as a youth camp as well as for its present function.

DeWitt Mackenzie:

MACKENZIE'S COLUMN

King Leopold of the Belgians has won his long fight for return from exile to his throne, but it is a doubtful and perhaps even dangerous victory.

Public passions have run high in this dispute which has divided the Belgians numerically into two almost even camps. The advisory referendum held last March showed only 57.69 per cent of the voters wanted his return.

Still Leopold insisted on claiming this as a favorable mandate, and last Thursday parliament voted to restore him to his throne. But that vote was in effect a further warning, for it came from one party—the Christian Socialists—and represented just over half the total membership of 387. The vote was 198 in his favor, all the rest of the members having walked out without voting.

Thus Leopold returns to a country bitterly divided against itself. Recognition of this is seen in the elaborate precautions which the authorities have taken to guard against anti-Leopold demonstrations. Strong security forces have been mobilized in Belgian cities. Gendarmes specially trained for riot duty have been added to Brussels' already powerful police force.

What a difference between this royal home-coming and that of Leopold's revered father, King Albert, with Queen Elizabeth and their three children, including Leopold, at the end of World War I.

The curren tpolitical situation in Belgium would be bad at any time. It's double bad now that Europe is in the midst of the cold-war crisis.

Belgium lies in the cockpit of western Europe. It is a sentinel on the invasion highway over which aggressors through the centuries have marched their legions from the east.

Thus Belgium is a key position in the defenses of the Atlantic pact nations. Anything which weakens Belgium as a bulwark is a threat to the security of the western bloc of powers.

Leopold's unpopularity with many of his people arises from two causes. The main grievance lies in his surrender of the Belgian armies to the invading Germans after only 18 days of fighting in 1940. That uncovered the allied left flank and resulted in disaster. The king also refused to accept the advice of his ministers to go into exile with them and continue the resistance to Hitler.

The other thing held against him was his marriage after the death of his wife, youthful Queen Astrid, in an automobile accident in Switzerland. Leopold married a commoner, Mlle. Baels, daughter of a former cabinet minister, and gave her the title of princess although she never has held the rank of queen. Astrid was greatly beloved by the people and they disapproved the king's second marriage.

Just what course Leopold will pursue now is a matter of much speculation. The general belief in Belgian political quarters is that he may turn his powers over to his son, Crown Prince Baudouin. By such a move he would extricate himself from what, to say the least, is a highly uncomfortable position.

Should Leopold insist on continuing to exercise the prerogatives of kingship he might create a situation which ultimately would even threaten the monarchical form of government in Belgium.

Group Attends Baptist Assembly

JENA, La., July 22.—(Special)—A group of 25 young people from the First Baptist Church of Jena, this week, is attending the southwide Baptist training union encampment at the Ridgecrest Baptist assembly, Ridgecrest, N. C. Accompanying the group are Mr. Herbert Hawthorne, church training union director, and Mrs. Hawthorne.

The group left Jena at 5 a.m., Wednesday by chartered Trailways bus and will return Friday, July 28.

Those attending from the First Church of Jena are Wesley McGuffin, James Russell, Jacquelyn Taylor, Glynda Brooks, Conrad Girlinghouse, Robert Wagner, John Ray Peyton, Frances Richardson, T. W. Terrall, Gerald Davis, Delphine Ganey, Myrna Bassham, Patsy Doughty, Wanda Copeland, Genelle Billings, James Stone, Jo Ellen McClure, Jerry Gale Wright, Alice Rose Russell, Lavelle Rambin, John and Justin Russell and Johnnye Taylor.

Lutheran Hour To Be Heard On KLIC

The Lutheran Hour program can now be heard at 12:30 p.m. every Sunday over KLIC in Monroe.

"The heart of the Christian religion" will be described here today by the Reverend Erwin Kurth, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and summer guest speaker on Bringing Christ to the Nations, the International Lutheran Hour. Speaking over the Mutual Broadcasting System and affiliated stations, Pastor Kurth asserts: "'What must I do to be saved?' Paul's answer, if augmented, would read something like this: 'Do? There is nothing for you to do; there is nothing that you can do. By nature you are dead in trespasses and sins, a child of wrath, even as others.' 'It is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure.' Phil. 2:13. 'God, who is rich in mercy, for His great love wherewith He loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ Jesus, that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast.'"

Masonic lodge In Olla Has Election

JENA, La., July 22.—(Special)—George Collins representing the Olla Masonic Lodge, was elected worshipful master of the fifth district lodge, at a conclave held in Georgetown Sunday, it was announced here this week by those attending from Jena.

Four other LaSalle parish masons also were elected to office in the district organization, representing 11 lodges in the area. They were Carl Ethridge of Jena, senior deacon; J. B. Carpenter of Jena, junior steward; Henry Whatley of Trout, senior warden, and Rev. O. G. Cannon of Jena, chaplain.

Eight of the 11 lodges in the district were represented at the meeting. At least 11 of the 45 persons present were from LaSalle parish, although a complete list of delegates from the Urania and Olla lodges was not available.

Representing Jena lodge were Mr. Ethridge, Mr. Carpenter, Rev. Cannon, Mr. Blanchard Wright, Mr. Bill Sharbono and Mr. Abe Flowers. Attending from the Trout lodge were Mr. Whatley, who is in line for the top office in the district lodge next year; Mr. Clyde Windham, Mr. J. U. Greer and Mrs. J. F. Gelvin.

U.S., Russian-Made Planes Battle In Korea

The Russian Yak fighter used by North Korean Reds has these specifications:

Gross Weight	7,500 pounds
Wing Span	32 feet, 10 inches
Length	27 feet, 10 inches
Top Speed	440 miles per hour
Maximum Range	850 miles
Maximum Ceiling	36,000 feet
Armament	20 mm. Nose Gun Plus Two 12.7 mm. Guns or 37 mm. Nose Gun and one 12.7 mm.
Engines	Liquid-Cooled Piston Engine with 1,310 Horsepower

The Shooting Star F-80, American Jet fighter meets these specifications:

Gross Weight	9,600 pounds
Wing Span	39 feet
Length	34 feet, 6 inches
Top Speed	600 miles per hour
Maximum Range	1,200 miles
Maximum Ceiling	45,000 feet
Armament	Six .50 Caliber Guns Plus Two 1,000-pound Bombs or Ten Rockets
Engines	Turbojet J-33 with 4,600 pounds Thrust

The superiority of U. S. aircraft was demonstrated early in the Korean crisis. American transport planes were helping to evacuate 2,000 persons, including members of the United Nations Commission on Korea, American civilians and military dependents, when they were attacked by enemy planes. U. S. Fighter planes went into action and were reported to have shot down several Russian-made North Korean Yak fighters without a loss to Americans. A reason for this quick success may be found in the adjoining comparison of the outstanding differences between American and Russian fighters, at least those used by the North Koreans in the early fighting.

Future Worries Kenya Colony

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony—Many settlers in this East African center of British Colonialism are taking a grim and pessiminstic view of the future.

The question is when will the British leave this colony set up 50 years ago when it was a wild African coast frequented mainly by slave hunting Arab traders.

There's no agreement on just how or when the British sun will set here — and there are a few who'll tell you "posh and nonsense. We'll be here forever."

There are three generally expressed theories, however. One is that the Colonial Office intends to turn the country over to the native Blacks, making it impossible for the White European to remain.

A second is that the Indian population because of a high birth rate will take control of the country.

A third and more alarmist viewpoint is that the Blacks, forced to extremes by starvation conditions, will attack en masse and drive the Europeans out.

As of 1948, the population of Kenya Colony was 5,373,000. Of this total, there were 30,000 Europeans and about 100,000 Indians. Practically all the rest were Africans.

The problem of the races is most grave now in the Union of South Africa. One British subject in Kenya said:

"If it came to a showdown here, we could always go home. But these people in South Africa. That is their home. They have no other place to go."

Baptists Forming New Cub Group

Under the sponsorship of the First Baptist Church of Monroe a new Cub Scout pack has been recently organized. Three dens are having regular meetings, working toward their first monthly pack meeting on July 28. Plans for this meeting include a charter presentation ceremony and bobcat induction ceremony.

Gordon P. Gibson is cubmaster and E. W. Edwards, H. T. Poulan, Rev. James T. Horton, and H. A. Charham are pack committeemen.

The dens meet at the homes of the following den mothers: Mrs. Lorraine McNabb, 616 Washington St., Mrs. H. T. Poulan, 501 Morris and Mrs. Lois Hankins, 108 Georgia.

Th efollowing boys are charter members with more expected to come in soon: Ronnie McNabb, Mickey Larkan, Robbie Larkan, Tommy Poulan, Doxie Reitzell, James Edwards, James Horton, Jr., Billy Hankins, Wayne Hankins, Earl Simmons, and Charles Chatham.

According to Mr. Gibson, a pet show is in the offing for August, and the pack should gather much impetus by September, which is Cub Scout roundup month.

Any boy wishing to join this pack is asked to contact Mr. Gibson at phone 4171 day and 10125W at night, or get in touch with oneof

New Atomic Plant Is Readied For Operation

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

UPTON, N.Y., — Enlarge an airplane cockpit and its controls about six times and you have a good likeness of the controls of the newest atomic reactor.

Add a copilot for the atomic controls — his job to double-check.

This reactor, here in the Brookhaven National Laboratory, is America's first large post-war atomic pile. It may start operating this year. The reactor is hidden inside a big, six-story, warehouse-type structure, with peculiar windows. They are massed in a few places, leaving most of the outer walls solid and bare.

The controls are on a console, as large as the console of the greatest pipe organ, and on an instrument panel covering the wall as high as a man can reach and much wider than the console.

You will start this atomic monster with two fingers. They turn a dial like that on a radio and television set. This turn will move some long, boron-steel rods, which stick to the square reactor hidden behind massive walls in front of you. The rods are like hatpins that have been pushed full length into a hat.

The electronic dial will cause them to pull slowly out of the reactor. That will start the atomic fire.

The radioactivity will rise to intensities that would be fearful except for the protective walls. In a few minutes the pile will be equal to hundreds of tons of radium.

Simultaneously heat will rise, equivalent to the heat of a ten thousand kilowatt power station. But this reactor is for scientific experiments only.

This atomic console plays soundless music. Neither the radioactivity nor the heat makes the slightest noise. There are no moving parts. You can hear a whisper, or a pin drop. The first sound will occur when the remote control fans turn on to drive the heat out of the reactor and up a chimney 300 feet tall.

The reactor has a safety valve. This comprises two handles set on the wall. They are not electronic. They can be moved by human hands. They will dump a load of shot down a hole into the middle of the reactor.

This is no ordinary shot. It is boron steel and the boron absorbs neutrons, atomic sparks which make the atomic heat chain reaction. The boron shot quenches the neutrons like water on a fire and just as fast.

The handles are named "scram control," meaning the sort of danger that makes you want to run. This reactor cannot possibly explode, but it can melt, and that would cost millions of dollars, plus a risk of radioactive contamination at the site.

Cotton Farmers Losing on 1950 Crop

JONESVILLE, La., July 22,—(Special)—A large number of Catahoula cotton farmers are losing money by selling their government loan cotton at too low a price, Pat Gibson, parish administrator for P. M. A., warned this week.

Farmers who could be getting $15 to $17 per bale are selling their cotton to some buyers who are offering only $5 per bale, Gibson said.

"Middling one and one-sixteenth, which is the cotton most farmers here have, should be bringing in $15 to $17 per bale now above the government loan price,"

REORGANIZE DRAFT BOARD

JONESVILLE, La., July 22,—The draft board for Catahoula has not yet completed its re-organization, according to Mrs. Myrtle Finlay, who will again serve the board as clerk. Since the closing of the board last September, Mrs. Finaly has been with the parish health unit, but will leave that post on August 1 to return to the draft board. Eighteen year olds may register with Mrs. Finaly instead of going to the Alexandria office.

Is Modern Art Crazy, Or Are Insane Sane?

By Alton L. Blakeslee landscapes hang side by side on the wall of an art gallery.

"Which one was painted by a modern artist, which by an insane person?" asked Miss Patricia Tate, Boston portrait artist.

Hesitantly, I pointed to one picture as the work of a sane modern artist. "Right," said Miss Tate.

Then I had to choose between a cheerful portrait of a woman and a jumble (to me) of lines that could have been a surrealist conception of a snowplow, with no snow, and no plow. I said the portrait of the woman was by the normal painter.

"Wrong," said Miss Tate, "that was done by a man with dementia praecox."

So I had a .500 batting average in guessing about the paintings in this exhibition of the work of mental patients, and some creations of famous modern artists.

Shows Healing Value

The purpose of the exhibition was to show how painting may help mental patients get well. It was sponsored by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Mental Health, Dr. William Gaebler, superintendent of the Metropolitan Hospital, Waltham, Mass; Dr. Benjamin Riggs, assistant superintendent, and Dr. Myer Asekoff, clinical director.

By painting, the patient may sometimes help resolve his mental conflict, said Miss Tate. Psychiatrists may receive clues as to the course and type of a person's illness.

In schizophrenia, the so - called split personality sickness, a person withdraws from reality, and creates his own world of reality. In painting he tends toward abstractions. He often uses bright colors.

Not Yet a Treatment

Right now, psychiatrists can't speak of painting as a treatment for mental illness, says Dr. George S. Stevenson, medical director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. Until there is more study, "we must look upon such paintings merely as an opportunity for expression which may have healing value."

The similarity between some paintings by mental patients and modern artist drew various explanations.

Prof. Ernest Hooton, famous Harvard anthropologist, declares it "due to the fact that most modern artists are in a state of confusion and the rest are either fakers or imitators trying to be in fashion. I may be old-fashioned but I believe the bulk of modern art is bunk."

Not so, says Prof. Alfred M. Brooks, art critic, teacher and author.

"If the modern artist wants to paint confusion, why shouldn't he? That in no way indicates the artist himself is confused. He is merely reflecting the times. I believe modern art will rank with the art of all other great periods."

Dreams Are Expressed

Dr. Stevenson said "normal people dream just as weird things as mental patients think — such thoughts must be in the minds of everyone."

"Both the mentally ill and the modern artist break away from the conventions of reality in their own way," said Dr. Dallas Pratt, psychiatric advisor to the National Mental Health Foundation.

Miss Tate relayed a quote from Dr. Riggs: The art of the insane person is "an expression of his dreams and thought patterns. From a large group of paintings by patients suffering from the same type of mental illness, quite a bit can be learned about their thought processes."

Costs $14 To Handle 1 Veteran's Policy

WASHINGTON — How much would veterans' insurance cost if the policy holders, not Uncle Sam, paid administrative expenses? A congressional subcommittee, investigating the whole National Service Life Insurance (N. S. L. I.) program, recently came up with an estimate that it cost the Veterals Administration (V. A.) alone about $14 to handle each N. S. L. I. policy during the fiscal year 1950, with other government agencies paying other parts of the cost. The subcommittee estimated the average cost per policy for the five largest commercial life insurance companies at $8.49 during the same period.

The V. A. insurance chief, Harold W. Breining, replied by pointing out:

1. Nearly 70 per cent of all N. S. L. I. policies are term policies, renewable every five years, and about 70 per cent of the N. S. L. I. premiums are paid monthly. Commercial companies, Breining said, write more permanent policies than renewable term insurance. And their premium remittances are more often on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis. Hence, the V. A. 's clerical and mailing costs are considerably higher.

2. The V. A. has to maintain a relatively active file on all persons who ever held N. S. L. I. policies because congress granted former policy holders who are still in good health the privilege of reinstating lapsed policies.

3. Four of the five commercial companies cited by the subcommittee handle a large volume of industrial and group insurance which, Breining said, can't be compared to the V. A. ordinary insurance. He estimated the cost per policy of the one "big five" company that issues only ordinary insurance to be about $16, which he said compared favorably with N. S. L. I. cost.

A subcommittee spokesman acknowledged the first two arguments but said Breining's $16 estimate for one company represents all expenses involved in the insurance operation. The subcommittee's $14 estimate on N. S. L. I. represents only the expenses chargeable to insurance in the V. A.'s budget alone. Other items which the subcommittee said should be included are:

1. Administrative expenses incurred by the armed forces, which act as N. S. L. I. salesmen. About 20 per cent of present N. S. L. I. police are held by service men, and the armed forces estimate their own cost per policy to be about $2.70.

2. Handling N. S. L. I. cases in court, done largely by the Department of Justice. Commercial companies maintain their own legal staffs.

3. Rent and taxes. V. A. offices throughout the country are rent-free and the whole N. S. L. I. operation is tax-free. The subcommittee said both are increasingly big expense items for commercial companies.

4. Other costs which commercial companies charge up to expense, such as advertising and contributions to medical research.

Furthermore, said the subcommittee, while the number of N. S. L. I. policies in force is decreasing, the administrative costs are constantly increasing. "That's not true," Breining said. He produced figures showing the number of regular employees in the V. A. insurance division had decreased from 20,952 on Oct. 1, 1946, to 13,417 on March 1, 1950. Breining also said items like armed forces administration, justice department litigation, rent and taxes, if reckoned into N. S. L. I. expense, would not raise the $14 estimate appreciably.

Rep. Porter Hardy (D.-Va.), chairman of the house subcommittee investigating N. S. L. I., said that because of many factors involved he did not feel an issue should be made of the difference between commercial and N. S. L. I.

Youth Week Being Observed Here

Youth Week is being ushered in today at the First Baptist Church. Rev. James Horton, pastor, will preach at both services and his message will be suited to the youth of the church and community.

This will be a preliminary to the revival that starts at this church a week later.

ARE TAKING LESSONS

Dubious customer (right), in skit that's part of the drug store clerk training program, is up against a girl with a "selling personality." The customer is gripping her purse tightly, but the odds are she'll open it.

Drug Store Clerks Study Way To Sell More Goods

By Richard Kleiner

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The drug store clerks of America are going to school to learn how to sell you more stuff. So, after all, it's only fair that you get tipped off to their scheme to make you buy.

The clerks' school going, one by one, to 72 cities. For two days in each city, the boys and girls who jerk sodas, peddle pills and push pomade will get the works. They'll hear lectures, see movies and watch skits. All with the one idea —to make the average person take home more corn plaster, wave lotion and sundry sundries.

Just so you have a fighting chance, here's how the rewired drug store clerk has been taught to get your last cent:

First, they're going to try to appeal to what their manual calls "the fundamental human desires and wants." The desire to stay alive, for example, is fairly widespread. So they'll sell you vitamin pills and drugs and other stuff that, they claim, will help.

Another fundamental desire listed is "love of the opposite sex." The next time a drug store clerk tells you that "this lipstick makes your lips look kiss'ble" or "this hair goo makes you look rugged," you can be sure the little rascal has that opposite sex business in mind.

After that comes, among the desires, health ("Dr. Quax' Pellets will help you avoid galloping housemaid's knee"); pride ("Customers who buy the best always use this brand"); imitation ("Mrs. Van Snootingham bought a bottle just the other day"); companionship ("No-Stink keeps you from offending during the dog days"); desire to escape drudgery ("This orange juice squeezer is so easy, even an orange can operate it"); and money-saving ("This is just as good, and cheaper").

But that's only the first lesson. After the boys and girls learn these desires, they go on to higher things. They take up what is called "Your Selling Personality." If you ever run across a drug clerk who is smiling, attentive, helpful sincerely interested, enthusiastic, patient, poised, tactful, courteous, neatly dressed, soft-spoken and professional in attitude—well, that guy has learned his selling personality lesson.

Lesson three is titled, with subtle charm, "Helping Your Customers Buy." It analyzes the three-step method to more sales—the approach, the demonstration, and the close.

The clerks are encouraged to approach customers with a smile They can leer later, but first they must smile. Then, instead of just saying, "Have you been waited on?" they are told it is more profitable to say something like, "Good paste we are featuring; it makes your teeth whiter," or "Good afternoon. Isn't this compact wrapped attractively?"

That is calculated to make you drop everything and reach for your wallet. If you don't, they begin the demonstration. They show you how beautiful the product is, how nice it smells or feels or tastes, what a hot bargain it is, and how beautiful the product is how nice it smells or feels or tastes, what a hot bargain it is and how you'll be miserable without it.

They must answer all your objections with the "Yes, 'but" method. If you say, for example, that you don't need flea powder, because you haven't got a dog, they should say, "Yes, sir you're right —but you never know when you'll inherit one, do you?"

Then comes the close. Here's where you either escape or go bankrupt. For the clerks are being taught to say, "Which would you like—the $5 or $10 size?" You don't have a chance.

The school, officially called a Clerk Training Program, is being run by a wholesale drug concern, McKesson and Robbins, Inc. It is the product of four years of research, including a pilot study in Macon, Ga. Test schools were held in Los Angeles and Boston.

Rights-Of-Way Cash Being Paid

JONESVILLE, La., July 22.—(Special)—Payments by the Tensas Basin Levee board for rights-of-way and crop damage on farm-property affected by the Jonesville ring levee should be completed in 30 days, according to W. C. Brown, Catahoula member of the board.

Brown said that John McCormick, levee board attorney, will be in Catahoula next week to check titles on the property concerned, and that payments should start the following week.

"This applies only to farm land along the levee," Brown emphasized. Payments for property in town will be made on a different basis at a later date.

The Tensas board has written to Col. Peter A. Feringa of the U. S. army engineers asking why contracts on four phases of the ring levee have not been let. These include two overpasses and two drainage projects.

Gravier and Harper, contractors for the floodwall portions of the levee, are scheduled to resume work on August 1, Brown said. The contracts have not worked since the beginning of the overflow last spring.

Chest X-Rays Are Taken In Parish

JONESVILLE, La., July 22,—(Special)—All reports on chest X-rays recently taken in Catahoula parish have been mailed out, according to Dr. J. A. Coleman, director of the parish health unit.

Of the total of 703 small films taken, Dr. Coleman said, only six are reported as "suspicious." Six showed defects other than tuberculosis, five were unsatisfactory for reading, and 86 were "negative," showing the lungs clear.

The "suspicious" reports were personally delivered by health unit personnel, Dr. Coleman said, and will be followed up with large films for more accurate diagnosis.

Thirty nine large films were made of tuberculars or tubercular contacts while the state trailer was in the parish.

Dancing Sprite Gets Ready For Broadway Lead

By Mark Barron
AP Broadway Columnist

NEW YORK—A slim sprite who sings and dances with equal delight, Betty Bruce is preparing nightly for the role which should win her magna cum laude diploma in that demanding college of

In Metropolitan Opera ballet, in Park Avenue night clubs and in Broadway musical comedies she has triumphed as singer and dancer. At the moment she is featured dancer in that baroque bistro of society, the Copacabana. And she is preparing to play one of the leading roles, that of Alelaide, in the Broadway musical comedy version of Damon Runyun's "Guys and Dolls" which is scheduled to open in October.

Miss Bruce is one of those seldom-found individuals; she is a native New Yorker born in Greenwich Village. She was eight years old when she was officially made a member of the baby ballet in the Metropolitan Opera. Then she studied under Fokine and other ballet masters until George Balanchine, the top flight Russian choreographer, saw her dancing in New York's Lewisohn standium.

"In Mr. Balanchine's ballets I was doing splendidly," she said, "then I made a startling discovery. I found out that tap dancers made more money than did ballet dancers.

"In the Metropolitan ballet I was getting $30 a week. But, I discovered I could make a higher salary as a tap dancer. So I quickly learned taps. It was mostly changing shoes and changing the tempo. So I got $200 a week."

Since then Miss Bruce has been featured in such Broadway musical hits as "The Boys From Syracuse," "Up in Central Park," "Something For The Boys," "High Kickers" and "Keep Off The Grass."

Group Visits Big Power Plant Setup

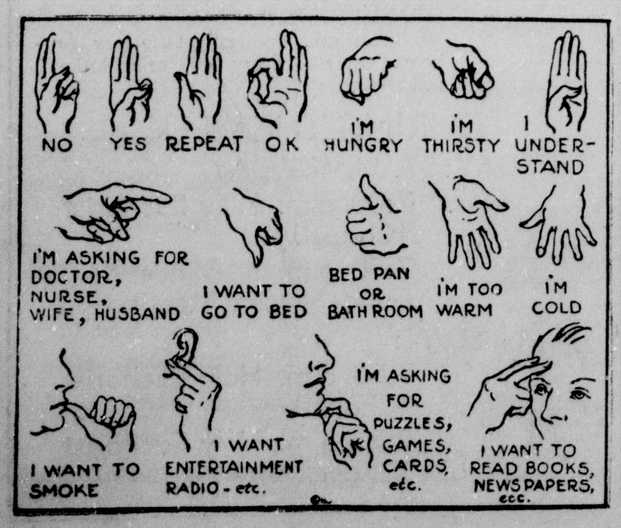

A group of 4-H boys and girls met at the agriculture building in West Monroe one morning the past week and observed Miss Mary Lou Meachum give a quick and easy way to prepare string beans for the freezer. She will also give this demonstration at the Baton Rouge short course the last week in July.

Mrs. Eva G. Malone, home service representative, A. J. Rhodes, sales representative of the Louisiana Power and Light Company with Mrs. Audra Dawson, 4-H Club agent, accompanied the group to Sterlington where they inspected the power plant, being shown through by Carl D. Brooks and John Cog.

After this visit, the party went to Calhoun where on the roadside park a delicious lunch was spread. After lunch the state experiment station was visited.

The party included Peggy Alexander, Ethel Alexander, Myrl Kilpatric, Wanda Jordan, Mary Lou Meachum, Bobby Wayne Otwell and Jackie Lavespere.

Motion Picture Camera Photographs Magnetism, Uses Microscope

MURRAY HILL, N. J.—Motion pictures taken through microscopes are showing strange new things about magnetism at the Bell Telephone Laboratories here.

They show that the flat surface of a piece of silicon-iron is really a map. It looks like a map of the nations of Europe, for example.

Each boundary on this surface is a magnetic nation, a unit of magnetic forces, separate from all others.

The boundaries on this magnetic map move before your eyes. You can see a magnetic nation comparable to Germany, expand its boundaries until it engulfs nearly all Europe.

Or you can see a huge, cross-western edge of Russia, start moving straight across the entire face of the map, wiping out nearly everything it moves across—a real moving iron curtain.

Yellow Particles Used

The moving lines are particles of wet yellow iron oxide. Magnetic forces father them along the edges between magnetic boundaries, just like the lines a pen would draw.

This is a pure science job. It has no known uses. It is done because anything about magnetism may become useful in communications. The work is by Doctors H. J. Williams, W. Shockley, C. Kittel and R. M. Bozorth.

The silicon-iron, despite having these magnetic fields all through and over itself, is not a magnet. It becomes an electromagnet only when a current is turned on. When that happens all the little nations join to go totalitarian. Just one big field swallows all the others.

Electrons are the Citizens

What does this? The tiny citizens of each separate magnetic domain do it. They change their minds—actually they change the directions in which they were pointing until every one points in the same direction no matter what country he belongs to.

The citizens in these magnetic domains are electrons, the tiniest known particles of matter. They all are spinning like tops, and in any single country, all the electrons are pointing their tops in the same direction. The magnetism comes from this co-ordinated spinning.

When you come to the boundary of any of these little magnetic countries, you find the electrons in the adjoining country pointing in a different direction. The differences are surprisingly lifelike. There are about as many differences of direction among these electrons as political beliefs among the nations of the whole earth.

These boundary zones are about a millionth of an inch wide. The wet yellow particles are attracted only to these zones.

A Transformer's Secret

Next time you look at a transformer—there may be one on a power pole near you—visualize it as a nation of living, spinning particles, the electrons. In the transformer these little citizens are reversing, end for end, 600 times a second.

The earth is spinning just like the electrons. And if someone could come along with a big enough electric current, the world probably would reverse end for end.

These movies will give you a man's first view of memory in action. How close it is to human memories is not known. But it is a fact that magnetism and electricals potentials are an identified part of your own personal memory, and of all human memory likewise.

Stretching a point—greatly magnified, a speck of impurity stretches its limits to meet a line of magnetism.

Something snaps and the little spot's fence shrinks back again while a new attraction is picked up from another.

Impurities Cut Capers

Watch a big boundary move across the iron face. Here and there are tiny spots of impurities, each surrounded by a yellow wet particle fence. Each impurity has its own domain, much smaller than those of the nations. The impurity territory is the size of Monaco compared to France.

As the big lin epasses over one of these impurity fences, the little fences hooks onto the big line. Then the little fence stretchs just like a rubber band. If the big line keep going despite the pull, you can see the "band" snap and see the big line jump ahead.

But ultimately enough impurity fences grab and pull to drag the big line back to its former position. This property of magnets is used sometimes and is called magnetic memory.

'The Damned Don't Cry,' Warner Bros. Drama, Due

Joan Crawford And David Brian Starred In Story Of Clever Woman

Bringing back the same star-team which scored so heavily in "Flamingo Road," Warner Bros. presents a new screen drama entitled "The Damned Don't Cry," starring Joan Crawford and David Brian. It arrives at the Paramount Theatre Monday.

The story of Lorna Hansen Forbes, a beautiful woman clever in all save love who rises from middle-class surroundings to become one of the most sought-after glamor women in the country. "The Damned Don't Cry" has for a background the gay but desperate life of big-time gamblers, rackets operators and gangsters who live in a demi-world of respectability in the lushest resort capitals of the country.

How she becomes the confidante of a gambling syndicate chief comprises the first half of the story. David Brian, in the lead male role, repeats the success he scored as Miss Crawford's leading man in "Flamingo Road," his first screen role. Soon he sends her to check on the activities of a henchman whom he suspects of double-dealing. This role is played by Steve Cochran and it is here she finds real love at last.

The complications which arise out of such a situation combine to make "The Damned Don't Cry" one of the leading action dramas of the year, and how much is taken from real life records is something only the author, Gertrude Walker, and the scenarists Harold Medford and Jerome Weidman, know.

Vincent Sherman directed. Others in the strong cast include Kent Smith, Hugh Sanders and Selena Royle.

AT PARAMOUNT MONDAY

David Brian holds a gun on Steve Cochran and Joan Crawford in a scene from "The Damned Don't Cry," a story out of the most vivid chapters of crime and corruption, which opens a three day engagement at the Paramount Monday.

N-O-W S-H-O-W-I-N-G!

Hello, Folks . . .

I'd like to tell you about a picture we've made at M-G-M, "Stars In My Crown". It's what a newspaper friend of mine calls a human interest story . . . it's not the story of one man or one family—it's about all the folks in this town or any town . . . the good and the bad . . . the dramatic things and funny things that happen to them.

Like pretty Ellen Drew—she's my wife in the story. She sort of runs the whole shebang from the sidelines. And there's young Dean Stockwell as John. Watching him is like growing up all over again. Then there's Alan Hale, a man who loves a fight or a prank, and Lewis Stone who's the old Doc and handsome James Mitchell who's the young Doc. And well, there's characters like Uncle Famous and Chloroform and the bully—every town has them, for better or for worse.

Me, I play the Parson, the kind of man who says "Either I speak or my pistols do!" I've never played a role like this one before. It's different and it's real. And I sincerely hope you like it.

'Rock Island Trail' Is Paramount Feature

A spectacular era in the dramatic history of railroading in the days of the pioneer west, is the setting for Republic's epic new film in Trucolor which opens at the Paramount Theatre Thursday.

Forrest Tucker, Adele Mara, Adrian Booth and Bruce Cabot star in the colorful film which tells of the growth of the American railroads in the 1850's as they stretched from Chicago across the Mississippi and into the Indian country which is now Iowa.

Tucker is masterful in his first romantic lead as the young engineer, in charge of construction, who pushes westward despite Indian raids, mutinies, rainstorms and fires.

Opposite Tucker is pert and petite Adele Mara, who gives an excellent portrayal of the banker's daughter who helps Tucker finance his railroad's westward progress.

Adrian Booth is outstanding as the beautiful Indian princess who silently loves Tucker and helps him in his fight against the Sioux and the riverboat interests.

Bruce Cabot plays the leader of the riverboat monopoly who does everything in his power to destroy Tucker and his railroad, knowing that the completion of the bridge across the Mississippi will spell the eventual ruin of river traffic.

No effort was spared to make "Rock Island Trail" historically accurate. Most of the picture was filmed on location and the Rock Island Railroad loaned the studio actual early-day engines and cars from its museum.

Joseph Kane directed and has assembled a forceful drama of exciting adventure, of the immense production values placed at his disposal by producer Paul Malvern.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Bruce Cabot, Adele Mara and Forrest Tucker in a scene from the action-laden picture, "Rock Island Trail," which tells the fabulous story of the pioneering railroad era, opening at the Paramount Theater on Thursday for three days.

NOW SHOWING AT JOY

Joel McCrea, Ellen Drew and little Dean Stockwell as they appear on the Joy screen in "Stars in My Crown," M-G-M's stirring drama of a two-fisted cavalryman turned preacher, who brings love and laughter to a pioneer community. Alan Hale, Lewis Stone, James Mitchell and Juano Hernandez and others in a fine cast.

'Stars In My Crown,' Rich In Heart Appeal, At Joy

Joel McCrea Scores Hit As Fighting Preacher In Picture

"Stars in My Crown," new MGM attraction at the Joy Theater, is a tenderly-unfolded, heartwarming story of a small southern settlement at the close of the Civil War and of a two-fisted preacher who leads the way in making his community a better place to live in.

Joel McCrea enacts Josiah Gray, ex-cavalryman who comes to the little village of Walesburg, inspires the community to build its first church, marries the pretty organist, Harriet, and becomes a second father to their little ward, John. The parson's steadfast courage and honesty make themselves felt on almost every member of the village and he even wins the iconoclastic Doc Harris over to his side when he saves the life of the latter's fiancee, Faith, after all the doctor's medical knowledge has failed. Only one man proves stubborn in his resistance to Josiah's precepts of honor and humility. He is Lon Backett, the town's richest man, who tries to exert his own authority over that of the law, but who in the picture's stirring climax, is forced to bow to the stronger will of the indomitable preacher.

Although "Stars in My Crown" has its share of rugged action, it is the atmospheric details of a small, growing village, the homespun humor and the vivid naturalness of characterization which give the picture its warmth and color. There is the glowing sequence, for instance, in which the experienced Uncle Prill and the neophyte John go fishing, or the uproariously funny Medicine Show scenes, or the episode in which Doc Harris removes a fish hook from a young victim, or that in which Josiah backs the town bully into a pool of mud. Then there are the various moments in which old-fashioned ballads and folk tunes of the period are sung in choral groups, an authentic as well as charmingly melodic touch.

The picture has been beautifully cast, with Joel McCrea's portrait of the parson, who can preach with of the most satisfying characterizations he has ever attempted. Ellen Drew is excellent as his industrious young wife, with Dean Stockwell winning many of the laughs in the role of little John who would like it always to be summer so that there would be no school. Standing out in a large supporting cast are Alan Hale as the parson's staunch supporter, Lewis Stone as the beloved Doc Harris, Sr., James Mitchell as the son who follows in his footsteps, Amanda Blake as Faith, Juano Hernandez as the genial Uncle Prill, Charles Kemper as the medicine showman and Ed Begley as the avaricious Lon Backett.

Jacques Tourneur directing, and William H. Wright on the production end, have also acquitted themselves admirably, with the result that "Stars in My Crown" emerges as one of the season's fine motion pictures. It will prove an entertainment treat for film-goers of every age.

Stars Use Own Engagement Ring In Romantic Scenes

When the script of "The Reformer and the Redhead" called for Dick Powell to slip an engagement ring on the finger of June Allyson, it proved an easy assignment for the property man on the M-G-M romantic comedy, now showing at the Joy Drive-In Theatre.

The stars, in a repeat performance of a real-life scene they enacted more than four years ago, used the same ring which Powell had presented to Miss Allyson at the time of their engagement.

All the prop men had to do was stand by and look on!

KILLED IN CRASH

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 21.—(AP)—The navy reported today that Ensign John T. Scogin, III, of Dallas, Tex., had been killed in the crash of his F4U Corsair plane at nearby Corry field. Returning from a routine training flight, the plane struck trees short of the field and crashed on the runway. He died in a Pensacola naval hospital Wednesday. Scogin was graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1949. His wife and daughter survive.

NOTEBOOK

TOKYO—(AP)—Five years have wrought a magical change in "Mac Arthurville"—which is just one nickname or Charlie Hirohito's old home town.

The industrious Japanese have done much more to reconstruct their capital than the Germans have with Berlin.

Of course, it is much easier to rebuild a wooden city than one made of stone, brick and steel. But it is also hard to escape the conclusion that the Japanese have put more heart and muscle into the task than have the Germans.

One reason probably is that they are less fearful of the future. Another reason probably is that the Japanese were less overwhelmed by the disaster of defeat. They take a solid, stolid price in the belief they are still the first nation of the Orient.

Whatever the reason, Tokyo wears a bright new face today. In great areas gutted by fire bombs in 1945 you now have to look hard to find the scars of war. The physical progress is almost unbelievable to one who saw Tokyo ruined and prostrate just five short years ago.

It is incredibly alive and booming. It is a beehive, busy by day and a garden of exotic neon color at night. The prewar replacement of old Japanese customs by western ways has been dramatically speeded up.

Five years ago the streets were filthy and the people hungry and in rags. Today the debris has all been removed. The people look healthy and better fed. Vehicles swarm everywhere — bicycles, American cars and a growing number of shiny new Japanese-made automobiles — and the parking problem is as bad as it is in almost any American city. In four days here I have seen only one horse drawn wagon and three manpulled rickshaws.

Department stores and the canvas covered open air stalls along the famous Ginza are stocked with every kind of merchandise. And there must be plenty of yen around as they are packed with shoppers. American style products are in particular demand.

"You ought to see the way Japanese women are snapping up falsies," said one American woman. "They all seem to want to wear them—and goodness knows most of them need to."

But for some reason she appeared annoyed at the eagerness with which Japanese femininehood is embracing this facet of American culture. Just why I don't know.

I am no judge as to the general quality of Japanese goods but it appears to be pretty good. At least a $5 Mickey Mouse watch I bought here is still running after four days—and it hasn't lost more than couple of minutes a day.

Against this I must put the performance of a new Swiss portable typewriter I brought here from New York. It broke down before I could finish writing "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of Koreans" but Japanese repairmen fixed it in less than 10 minutes.

I don't suppose this proves anything at all—except maybe that I am too ignorant to fix my own typewriter. But I don't think anyone who saw Tokyo in 1945 and then came back and saw it as it is today, could ever make the mistake of underrating the Japanese people. They bounce.

Turnabout

Husbands, Wives, Should Spend Day Watching Others' Work

A MAN at the head of a big business in which he employs many men once gave orders that the wives of all of the married men must come down to the shop once a month and spend the day watching their husbands work. It was a great idea, and if he had only amended it by requiring the husbands to spend every fourth Tuesday, say, watching their wives work it would have gone a long way toward ironing out the domestic difficulties in many a household.

DOROTHY DIX

For there is no other subject in the world over which there are so many family scraps as there is over which one of the high-contracting parties gets the hot end in matrimony. Wives are virtually a unit in believing that their husbands' alleged work is mostly play and consists of eating leisurely lunches, listening to good stories and flirting with stenographers, while men are firmly wedded to the theory that wives spend most of their time lolling on couches and reading novels, interspersed with trips to the department stores and picture shows.

EACH ENVIES OTHER

How either one figures out that the other manages to make a living or keep a house going, no one can explain, but it is a fact that virtually every wife looks at her husband enviously as he puts on his hat of a morning and starts off to work and wishes that she had it that easy and nothing is more common than for a husband to say to his wife: "Gosh! I wish I didn't have anything to do but to stay at home and keep house and take care of the children, as you do."

Now the reason that husbands and wives undervalue each other's labor and show each other so little appreciation and sympathy is that, as a general thing, neither one has the slightest idea of what the other one does. To the woman, going down town means a bit of a spree. It is a break from the monotony of housework. It is seeing new faces, talking with strangers, the excitement of buying something that she has wanted for a long time. She does not connect it in her mind with the exhausting work, with the torturing anxieties, with the having to put up with bullying superiors or incompetent employes or the unreason of fault-finding customers and clients, which her husband has endured all day.

She does not realize that the reason her husband is peevish at home is because his nerves are worn to a frazzle abroad. She does not comprehend that the reason he hides himself behind the evening paper and sits up in dull silence is because he has made sales talks until there isn't a word left in him and he hates the sound of his own voice. She doesn't understand that the reason she has to drag him out to parties and places of amusement is because he is so worn out when night comes that all in the world he wants to do is to flop down on a couch and rest. Above all, she doesn't know how hard money is earned and that every dollar is wet with her husband's sweat and blood, or else she would not throw it away as recklessly as she often does.

And if women have little appreciation of how hard men work to support their families, men have even less appreciation of the endless labor that women perform in rearing a family and making a comfortable home. To the man home is a place for rest and relaxation and, without realizing it, he has a general impression that all his wife does is to wave some sort of magic wand and good meals appear upon the table, floors are swept, dishes are washed, children are tidied up, leaving the lady of the house to lead a life of sybaritic ease and luxury.

SHOULD COUNT WIFE'S HOURS

Somehow the fact that wife gets up half an hour before he does in the morning and is still at work when he goes to bed escapes his attention. Nor does he observe that she has no holidays and that no forty-hour week obtains for the wife and mother. Nor does he take note that it takes hours to prepare the savory dinner that is eaten in thirty minutes; that baby-tending is a perpetual-motion job; that Mary's hair has to be combed twenty times a day; that Johnny has to be told not once but a thousand times to hang his cap on the rack and not on the floor; that the process of cleaning, darning, mending that keep a home a going concern and a family comfortable is one that goes on incessantly, day after day, year after year.

Yet husbands continually express wonder at what women do with their time. They can't understand why wife, who has been up all night walking a sick baby and who has got breakfast and heard the children's lessons and got them off to school, doesn't look as peppy and fresh and have her hair as beautifully combed as their stenographers. Nor can they understand why their wives complain of the drudgery of their work when they have nothing to do but cook and wash and iron and make one dollar do the work of five.

The old proverb says that one-half of the world does not know how the other half lives. Of none is this truer than of husbands and wives. And there would be a great domestic reformation if the wife and husband could occasionally change jobs and find out from actual experience how heavy are the other's burdens, how much of effort, of self-denial the other put into the making of the home and the supporting of it.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

"GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT," AS THE OLD SAYING GOES-- AND LIGHTNIN' LEM AIMS TO FIND IT -- "FOR MONEY ANSWERETH ALL THINGS."--(OLD TESTAMENT)

BUT IF OVER A HUNDRED MEN HAVE BEEN KILLED FOR TRYING TO FIND TH' "LOST ARMENIAN" MINE, AREN'T YOU SCARED?

'COURSE I AM-- BUT I'LL NEVER BE TOO SKEERED TO GIVE UP TRYIN' TO GIT RICH!

BUT NONE OF THOSE OTHER MEN HAVE EVER BEEN ABLE TO FIND THAT MINE--

DIDN'T SAY NONE OF 'EM FOUND IT-- THEY JUST NEVER COME BACK ALIVE--

WE FOUND THEM, OR WHAT WAS LEFT OF 'EM -- SOME OF 'EM WAS LOADED WITH GOLD-- IT WAS JEST WEALTH THAT DIDN'T DO 'EM NO GOOD--

YOU THINK IT WAS INDIANS GOT 'EM?

OH, EVERYBODY BLAMES INJUNS FOR EVERYTHING LIKE THAT -- ALL I KNOW IS I'LL FIND THET MINE AND I'LL LIVE TO MAKE IT PAY ME MILLIONS -- ME AND SARAH AND OUR FRIENDS, THAT IS --

HEY! I SEE YOU GOT ONE O' THEM GEIGER COUNTER CONTRAPTIONS -- I TRIED ONE O' THEM -- WITH ALL TH' MINTRAL IN THESE HILLS, TH' DURN THING WENT CRAZY-

THIS ONE'S A LITTLE DIFFERENT LEM -- IT LOOKS FOR JUST ONE SPECIAL MINERAL --

DO TELL-- WHAT'S BETTERN GOLD?

A SPECIAL MINERAL OUR COUNTRY NEEDS FAR MORE THAN GOLD, LEM-- WE HAVE THE GOLD --

THEN WHY DON'T WE BUY THIS HERE NEW MINERAL IF WE NEED IT SO BAD?

GOT TO FIND IT FIRST-- THEN IT'S TOO IMPORTANT TO BUY OR SELL, LEM -- IT CAN MEAN LIFE OR DEATH FOR ALL OF US --

WAL, IF IT'S SECRET, I RECKON YOU'LL WANT TO GO ALONE -- GOT A RIGHT SMART MESS O' MOUNTAINS TO PROSPECT-- JEST REMEMBER-- SARAH HAS SUPPER READY AT SUNDOWN --

I WON'T FORGET, LEM-- AND I WON'T GET LOST--

WHAT A MAN! HIS KIND NEVER CHANGE-- -- HARK! -- THAT'S RACHEL! NEVER RATTLES LESS'N SHE'S TRYIN' TO WARN US --

W-W-WARN US OF WHAT?

DUNNO, YET-- KEEP DOWN -- I'LL JEST HAVE A SQUINT -- UH-HUH! RACHEL SHORE CAN TELL --

BUT HOW CAN A RATTLER TELL YUH ANYTHING?

SEE THET DUST? THET'S MEN ON HOSSES, CROSSIN' TH' FLATS -- GOIN' UP INTO GOOSE-NECK CANYON -- FOOL SUMMER DUDES PLAYIN' COWBOY, LIKE AS NOT -- GET LOST IN THAR, SURE --

GEE -- WASN'T "DADDY" STARTIN' THAT WAY, TOO?

I GOT IT!

I GOT IT!

I GOT IT!

ALL RIGHT - ALL RIGHT - I DON'T ARGUE WITH FLUNKIES - I'M GONNA SEE TH' HEAD MAN ABOUT THIS.

YOUNG MAN, CAN'T YOU READ? THAT SIGN ON THE DOOR SAYS "PRIVATE."

SURE - THAT'S JEST DANDY - I DON'T WANT NOBODY BUTTIN' IN WHILE I'M TALKIN' TO YOU.

PRIVATE

MAYBE YOU DON'T KNOW WHO I AM - NO? WELL, I'M TH' GUY WHAT GOT KNOCKED OUTTA YOUR BALL PARK BY ONE OF YER EMPLOYES.

OH-AH, PARDON ME A MOMENT, PLEASE.

GET MY ATTORNEYS OVER HERE IMMEDIATELY. PERHAPS THEY CAN SETTLE THIS CASE OUT OF COURT.

PRIVATE

AND SO THE BALL KNOCKED YOU OFF THE WALL AND ONTO THE SIDEWALK... MMMMM...

YEH.

AND YOU ARE EXPECTING SOME SORT OF SETTLEMENT, I SURMISE.

YOU BET YOUR SWEET LIFE I DO. THEY MADE ME PAY TO GET BACK IN TH' PARK AND I WANT MY MONEY BACK!

AND NOW MY LEGIONS HAVE NO WAY OF RETURNING TO GAUL...OR GOING FOR HELP-- UNLESS THEY SWIM FOR IT...

AND NO MORTAL COULD SWIM THAT SEA!

ARE YOU KIDDIN'? I COULD SWIM IT ANY DAY IN TH' WEEK!

IT'S GONNA BE DONE A LOT IN TH' 20TH CENTURY!

YES... THAT'S RIGHT!

AN' Y'KNOW WHAT? THIS'D BE ONE TIME WHEN SWIMMIN' IT WOULD MAKE REAL SENSE! HERE, HOLD MY STUFF!

BUT YOUR ARMOR, OOP... MY STARS, AREN'T YOU GOING TO REMOVE IT, TOO?

NAW... IT DON'T WEIGH MUCH, AN' I'LL HAFTA HAVE IT WHEN I GET ACROSS...

HOW ELSE WILL TH' ROMANS IN GAUL KNOW I'M A ROMAN, TOO? TOODLEOOO!

GREAT JUPITER! IS HE SERIOUS?

OH, SURE...I'VE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING STOP HIM, ONCE HE MAKES UP HIS MIND!

WHAT'S WRONG, OOP? DID YOU HURT YOUR FOOT?

YOW!

HURT IT? HOLYCOW, I DANG NEAR GOT IT FROZE OFF! WOW!

PROFESSOR, MY EYE! CALL THE CORONER! WISE HORSE JUST CAN'T FORGET HE WENT TO COLLEGE!

I RECALL SOMETHING OF THE EXPEDITION, PROF. BONE!

"CAPTAIN CARLOS FERODEZ SET OUT TEN YEARS AFTER CORONADO TO VISIT THE SEVEN CITIES OF CIBOLA AND WAS NEVER HEARD OF AGAIN!"

AH, YES! BUT THERE ARE INDIAN LEGENDS! AND RUMORS THAT HE FOUND A CITY OF GOLD! I'M GOING TO INVESTIGATE THIS DISCOVERY!

Reader's Digest

REPORTS THE RESEARCH WHICH PROVES*

Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Better Than Any Other Way of Preventing Tooth Decay According to Published Reports!

READ JULY READER'S DIGEST for the results of one of the most extensive experiments in dental history! The toothpaste used in this research was Colgate Dental Cream. And read this, too: Results showed brushing teeth right after eating with Colgate Dental Cream stopped decay best! Better than any other home method of oral hygiene! Yes, the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people than ever before reported in dentifrice history!

NO OTHER TOOTHPASTE OR POWDER—AMMONIATED OR NOT—OFFERS PROOF OF SUCH RESULTS! Over a two-year period, leading scientists found no new cavities whatever for more than one out of three who used Colgate Dental Cream as directed. Think of it! Not even one new cavity in two full years! No other dentifrice has proof of such results—the best ever reported for a dentifrice of any type!

SO START YOUR FAMILY ON COLGATE DENTAL CREAM TODAY! By the time they enter school, 9 out of 10 children have one or more decayed teeth. Children love Colgate's wake-up flavor, so it's easy to get them to use Colgate Dental Cream correctly. No dentifrice can stop all tooth decay, or help cavities already started. But the Colgate way is the most effective way yet known to help your dentist prevent tooth decay!

COLGATE DENTAL CREAM WAS USED EXCLUSIVELY IN THIS SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH.
